Independent Oil Operators, Land Owners And Royalty Holders Organize TO FIGHT STATE SUIT

Purse Of $5400 Is Raised At Meeting To Battle State Case In Courts

BOYCOTT AGAINST the Standard Oil company by the people of the state was urged by Congressman John Burke of Long Beach at a meeting of 1000 independent oil operators, royalty owners and land owners in Huntington Beach last night.

During the meeting the oil Properties Protection association of California came into being with the vowed purpose of enlisting the people of the state against the lawsuit brought by the state against slant hole drilling of oil wells.

The Standard Oil company, Gov. James Rolph, Atty-Gen. U. S. Webb, State Finance Director Roland Vandergift and Secretary of Interior Ickes were bitterly denounced by speakers during the meeting.

Congressman Burke attacked Governor Rolph and declared he himself would run for governor of the state of California if no one else came out. He further charged that the Los Angeles Examiner and the Los Angeles Times were owned by the Standard Oil company.

Voluntary contributions totalling more than $5400 were paid in to a fund to be used by the newly formed organization to fight the state's suit.

Private Meeting
At a private meeting held at the noon hour yesterday at the dining room of the Golden Bear cafe at the beach city, the program for the meeting last night was planned and a committee named composed of the following:

Jim Milburn, Long Beach oil operator; Fred V. Gordon, Los Angeles oil operator and former president of the California Petroleum company; Col. Rusco, San Diego, royalty and land owner in the Huntington Beach field; Fred Rose, Los Angeles, officer of the Rosmar Oil company, Huntington Beach; Ray Lambert, Santa Ana, Huntington Beach land and royalty owner; T. W. Simmons, Los Angeles, royalty owner and land owner in the Huntington Beach field; Lon Smith, Los Angeles, land owner and beach field. At the meeting last night D. W. Huston, Huntington Beach, announced that T. W. Simmons was chairman and Horace Hancock of Huntington Beach, was secretary of the committee.

Simmons presided as chairman of the meeting last night. He introduced Congressman John Burke of Long Beach as the speaker of the evening. Burke in fiery tones said the purpose of the meeting was to organize for the battle against Standard Oil dominance in California politics and oil circles. He charged that the law suit was a Standard Oil lawsuit, said the state could not drill its tidelands and could not possibly benefit by the suit, and that now that the Standard Oil was in the suit, the state could not compromise. He said Standard Oil was named in the suit and drawn into the suit by state officials solely

LITVINOV AND HULL NEAR END OF CONFERENCE

Final Issues Of Recognition May Be Given Roosevelt Late Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Secretary of State Hull and Foreign Commissioner Maxim Litvinov of the Soviet Union today renewed their attack on the problems of impending American recognition of the Soviet, with the prospect of concluding them shortly.

Officials were hopeful that as a result of the State Department talks the final issues of the recognition problem might be placed before President Roosevelt late today. Announcement of recognition may come tonight or tomorrow.

President Roosevelt is keeping the late afternoon open in the event that preliminary negotiations between Litvinov and the State Department progress to the point where he can enter into the discussions.

At the White House it was explained that from 4:30 p. m. on, Mr. Roosevelt's appointment book was clear, and that he was prepared, if necessary, to begin his deliberations with the Soviet emissary.

The Hull-Litvinov talk began shortly after 11 a. m. The Soviet minister was accompanied to the State Department by Ivan A. Devilkorsky, a secretary in the Moscow foreign office.

Devilkorsky carried a brief case filled with data. The Soviets were expected, as a result of overnight study, to suggest solutions of problems which arose in the conversations yesterday.

At his press conference today, Hull parried all questions about the progress of the conversations, but indicated that a communiqué would be issued later. It was believed that if the negotiations succeeded in disposing of the main problems during the State Department and White House talks that the results of the conversations here may be summed up in a statement tonight.

Litvinov and his party, it became known, are hopeful of leaving before the end of the week and spending several days in New York before returning to Europe.

YOUTH TAKES OVER AFGHANISTAN RULE

KABUL, Afghanistan, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Nineteen-year-old Mohammed Zhr Khan sat on the thorny throne of this mountain kingdom today in the place of his father, Mohammed Nadir Khan Ghazi, who was assassinated by an unnamed person said to be a trusted friend who turned traitor.

Thanks to his father's popularity, Nadir received many protestations of loyalty. The young king, his wife and four sisters, ranging in age from 11 to 18, awaited pledges of loyalty from tribal leaders in remote portions of the kingdom. The country was quiet.

Mourning for the monarch, killed yesterday, was widespread and sincere.

GASOLINE PRICES FALL OFF 2 CENTS

Marking the second reduction in gasoline prices within a week, all three grades of motor fuel took a 2-cent drop today.

Standard Oil stations were the first to post the new price list, with other major concerns falling in line immediately.

Ethyl gasoline was listed at 14 1/2 cents, standard grades at 14 1/4 cents and the third rate structure fuel at 12 1/2 cents per gallon.

Less than a week ago a reduction of three cents per gallon was announced by the major concerns.

TAMMANY HALL OPENS BATTLE ON ROOSEVELT

Administration Branch Of Democratic Party Incurs Curry Hatred

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Tammany Hall, shorn of almost all power and reduced to a purely Manhattan Island political organization, today opened a desperate battle against the Roosevelt wing of the Democratic party.

John F. Curry, Tammany leader whose continued reign is likely to be questioned by disappointed subordinates, adopted the ancient strategy that the offensive is the best defense. He mapped a campaign to obtain the removal of Postmaster General James A. Farley as chairman of the New York state democratic committee.

The rumbling aftermath of Tuesday's election, which ended Tammany's 20-year control of New York City government, made it evident that war between factions of the Democratic party was almost inevitable. Mayor-Elect Fiorello H. LaGuardia and fusion candidates elected with him, worked feverishly on their program to inaugurate drastic governmental reforms the moment they take office January 1.

Attacks Farley
Curry said that Farley had sponsored the independent candidacy of Joseph V. McKee, thereby disrupting the Democratic vote and turning the party out of office. This, he said, made him unworthy of party leadership.

Farley also was attacked by Samuel Seabury, one of the sponsors of the fusion movement, who said McKee's entrance in the campaign had allowed Tammany to elect a few of its candidates.

White Farley lost prestige when McKee was defeated, he did not emerge from the election without gains, political observers believed. Democratic victories upstate gave him added strength in the state committee. It was believed he would be able to control the Brooklyn Democratic organization through federal patronage.

Flynn Wins Out
Edward J. Flynn, Bronx boss, retained all borough offices and retained the office of borough president which he did not previously hold. He is Farley's close political ally.

MACON WILL MAKE SHORT TRIP TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The U. S. dirigible Macon was to make a short flight today over the U. S. battle fleet, now anchored in San Francisco bay.

Admiral David F. Sellers, Admiral T. T. Craven, and Rear Admiral C. P. Snyder planned to board the giant airship at its Sunnyvale base and accompany it on a flight of approximately six hours.

The Macon was scheduled to take part in the sham battle naval maneuvers to be held in the bay area next week.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The 1933 Nobel prize for literature was awarded today to the Russian author, Ivan Bunin.

Last year's prize, worth approximately $31,000, was awarded to John Galsworthy, recognized as one of the masters of modern English literature. The 1930 prize went to Sinclair Lewis, the American.

For several years the award was valued at more than $40,000, but shrinkage in investment value of the funds set aside by the donor reduced its worth by approximately 25 per cent.

C. C. C. PAYMASTER COMMITS SUICIDE

MIAMI, Ariz., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Lieut. George Sutherland of Chicago, paymaster of the local C. C. C. camps, shot and killed himself in a local garage today, the sheriff's office reported.

No reason was given for Sutherland's act. A board of officers to investigate his suicide was appointed by Major R. C. Rutherford, C. C. C. area commander.

A sister, Miss Alice Sutherland, lives at 7331 South Shore drive, Chicago.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WEST POINT, Nev., Nov. 9.—(UP)—A son of Nebraska, the "Cornhusker State," today became the national corn husking champion. Sherman Henriksen husked more corn than any of his 17 rivals in the tenth annual corn husking contest at Ben Stalp's farm, judges announced after carefully weighing the contents of his wagon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The public works administration today allotted $400,000,000 to the civil works administration to carry out the president's plan to take 4,000,000 jobless off relief rolls this winter.

Operations Revealed By Authorities

More Than Half Million In Ransom Collected During 3 Years By Gang

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Operations of a well-organized and powerful gang of kidnapers, which collected more than $500,000 from victims during the past three years, were revealed today with the arrest of 12 men.

Confessions have been obtained from some of the alleged kidnapers under arrest, investigators for the state's attorney's office said. All were to be charged with kidnaping, a crime punishable by death under Illinois law.

The confessions, it was stated at the state's attorney's office, cleared up at least nine major kidnappings in the Chicago area and may result in solution of five others.

Placed in Jail
State and federal officers began the arrests a week ago. The alleged gang members were placed in jails in Chicago and nearby towns by investigators.

The disclosure of the gang was made when attorneys for Frank Souder, Benton, Ill., gambler, filed a petition in criminal court asking the state's attorney's office, or any other government agency having possession of Souder be forced to give him up.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan dismissed the petition for a writ of habeas corpus when Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, promised formal charges in connection with the kidnappings would be placed against him today.

Names Withheld
Among those held, besides Souder, were Dean Swolley of Peoria, Ill., Edward La Rue and Edward Wagner of Chicago, and Julian Jones of St. Charles. Names of the others were withheld.

In the list of the gang's victims, it was asserted, were the following:
James Hackett, Chicago gambler, twice kidnaped and forced to pay a total of $150,000.

William Urbana, Peoria gambler, forced to pay $100,000.

James Ward, Chicago alcohol distributor, from whom $45,000 was obtained.

John L. Lynch, Chicago manager of a news bureau furnishing race results, from whom the gang obtained $50,000 after breaking his ribs.

Three Aurora, Ill., gamblers who were forced to pay $100,000 each for their release, and two Iowa men who were released after they had paid $25,000 each.

More than $100,000 was obtained in other abductions attributed to the gang.

SUSPECTS SOUGHT IN TEXAS SLAYING

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Police today sought two Los Angeles men here as suspects in the slaying of a 35-year-old woman, near Kent, Texas, who was identified tentatively as Ramona Warren or Warnock.

Her nude body was found near Kent Tuesday. She had been strangled and choked.

El Paso authorities learned she was enroute from Los Angeles to Fort Worth to visit her mother.

SPECIAL SESSION DISCUSSED LOS ANGELES, NOV. 9.—(UP)—A series of conferences with Southern California legislators was planned today by Governor Rolph to determine the advisability of enacting a special session to enact laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Rolph said he would call the legislature into special session if convinced any loopholes existed in the state control act. The latter law, passed a year ago, investing the state with the right to regulate its own liquor traffic and sale. It becomes effective Dec. 5 when the national prohibition act expires.

Rolph plans on remaining here three days.

IMMEDIATE EMPLOYMENT OF 500 TO 1000 MEN HERE ON FEDERAL FUNDS PREDICTED

IMMEDIATE employment of from 500 to 1000 Santa Ana men with funds from the newly-announced winter unemployment relief program of President Roosevelt, was predicted today by Mayor Paul Witmer after the receipt of a telegram from government heads asking how many men can be put to work here.

Work for the men will be given repair of public utilities and public parks and related projects of public benefit as far as possible, the telegram indicated. A sum of $400,000,000 is being allotted from the public works funds to give 2,000,000 men work by November 15 and an additional two million "as soon thereafter as possible."

Under the present plan, the Federal government makes allotments to the state which, in turn, distributes funds to local communities on the basis of proper showing. The communities, in turn, provide work for the needy and pay them 40 cents an hour for as many hours as are necessary to provide bare sustenance. The average has been less than $20 a month for the 2,000,000 adults on the relief rolls.

Under the new plan, as it is understood here, these 2,000,000 men will be transferred, effective November 15, to the civil works administration and given employment on a 30-hour weekly basis at prevailing rates of wages.

Officials have announced that the work will be done on federal, state and local projects of such nature as pest control, parks and playgrounds, sanitation, highways and streets, water supply, general public improvements, extension and

Many Possibilities
Mayor Witmer, after conferring hastily with City Engineer J. L. McBride and city councilmen, announced that there are several possibilities for work in Santa Ana and that estimates of sufficient work for from 500 to 1000 men will be dispatched at once to government officials.

Among the projects mentioned by Witmer were the removal of the present handstand and rest rooms in Birch Park and the erection of a new combination handstand and restrooms in the west end of the park; installation of sidewalks around the Municipal Bowl and the painting of the new bleachers; development of more than seven acres of city property on West First street near Bristol into a park with cooking, recreational and playground facilities; and improvement of city land on North Bristol street at the site of the old pumping plant into a park with possible connection through the Santa Ana river with the Jack Fisher park on North Flower street.

He declared that the request of

LIQUOR RULES WEBB RULINGS WILL BE TAKEN ON BOOZE SALE UP TOMORROW GIVEN PUBLIC

President And Experts To Consider Problems At White House Parley

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will begin consideration of the liquor problem today in a conference with experts from five government agencies which have been drawing up a report covering the entire situation, the White House revealed.

With the 18th amendment slated for repeal Dec. 5, Mr. Roosevelt intends to work out control measures for the alcohol traffic and to establish some sort of control for the period beginning with the date of repeal and extending through the time congress begins consideration of recommendations that have been drawn up in a lengthy report.

Mr. Roosevelt will meet with representatives from the state, justice, commerce, and agriculture departments and the bureau of internal revenue.

The report of these agencies regarding various phases of the liquor problem already has been turned over to the president for study.

A house ways, and means subcommittee is already working on the liquor tax problem. Taxes imposed in the National Industrial Recovery act will become obsolete due to repeal.

These taxes included an additional one-half cent levy per gallon on gasoline which will be ended Jan. 1. Other taxes and the date of their expiration are:

A five per cent tax on dividends, expiring Jan. 1.
A tax of $1 for each $1,000 of declared valuation of the capital stock of corporations to become ineffective on July 1 following repeal.

An excess profits tax of five per cent on net earnings of corporations in excess of 12 1/2 per cent of the declared value of capital stock to end Jan. 1.

FORTUNE TELLERS BECOME MINISTERS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—A mysterious death of registered fortune tellers in Los Angeles county was explained today by the discovery that clairvoyants are being "ordained" in the ministry at $10 each, thus exempting themselves from a license tax.

For $25 the soothsayers are being made bishops in at least two incorporated churches, it was explained by investigators who were puzzled by the sudden shrinkage of license receipts. Only four fortune tellers in the entire county had paid the tax collector the $250 annual license fee which permits them to operate.

JOHNSON CHEERED IN STRIKE AREAS

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson was enroute to Kansas City today to continue his appeal to midwestern farmers for support of the administration program.

In a widely cheered speech here last night to an audience of 5,000, Johnson rebuked agrarians because of complaints that relief had not been faster.

"God knows no one can blame the impatience of people trying to save their homes, but such impatience should not take the form of going out and setting these homes afire," he said.

"Striking farmers are playing squarely into the hands of Wall Street," he continued. "Striking miners and silk workers do not want to go back to unregulated exploitation, but that's where they are headed if they win."

Railway And Auto Service Between Capital And Matanzas Broken Off

BULLETIN
HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(UP)—After an hour's heavy bombardment of their stronghold in Atares fortress, 700 rebels against the Grau San Martin company sent up two white flags at 3:40 p. m. Simultaneously the department of the interior announced that the rebels had surrendered.

HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Government forces began a brisk bombardment of 700 rebels in the Atares fortress at 3 p. m., from heavy field pieces which rumbled into place during a comparatively quiet morning.

The bombardment was preceded by considerable machine gun fire and sporadic long-distance attacks by members of the ABC, supporting the government, but the small arms were ineffective against the heavy walls of the fortress.

Attempts by a United Press staff correspondent to reach Atares were blocked by a heavy cordon of government forces ringing the land side of the fortress.

Scores of trucks loaded with soldiers dashed through the streets. Rooftops were scanned for snipers.

Soldiers scouring the neighborhood of the Dragones barracks, abandoned by the rebels, forced looters to carry back the furniture, beds and cooking utensils they had stolen from the deserted stronghold earlier today.

The ABC organization broadcast an order to the public to remain off the streets during the afternoon and indicated that an attack in full force could be expected at mid-afternoon.

Railway and automobile bus service between Havana and Pinar Del Rio and to Matanzas was completely broken at Pinar Del Rio. Buses and trucks were overturned, according to unconfirmed reports.

DOLLAR DRIVEN TO ITS LOWEST LEVEL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The dollar was driven down to new low levels today in line with President Roosevelt's currency depreciation policy, designed to thrust upward commodity prices through raising the price of newly mined gold.

The dollar went above $5 to the pound in the London foreign exchange market today, bringing the dollar to the lowest value in more than 60 years. At the same time the Reconstruction Finance corporation advanced its proffered gold to $33.15 an ounce, 10 cents above yesterday's price.

At the new gold price the gold value of the dollar was calculated at 62.25 cents, a new low and down 19 from yesterday's value of 62.54.

CEASE PICKETING IN GARMENT STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Threat of a renewed strike among local garment workers was halted today when union officials announced picketing would be discontinued at once.

Representatives of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union announced a previous truce would be enforced after members of the manufacturing community assured them special union line 23 manufacturers who thus far have refused to subscribe to "armistice" terms. Union officials professed assurance an amicable settlement would be effected without further strikes.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Police today sought two Los Angeles men here as suspects in the slaying of a 35-year-old woman, near Kent, Texas, who was identified tentatively as Harmona Warren or Warnock.

Her nude body was found near Kent Tuesday. She had been strangled and choked.

El Paso authorities learned she was enroute from Los Angeles to Fort Worth to visit her mother.

SPECIAL SESSION DISCUSSED LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—A series of conferences with Southern California legislators was planned today by Governor Rolph to determine the advisability of enacting laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Rolph said he would call the legislature into special session if convinced any loopholes existed in the state control act. The latter law, passed a year ago, investing the state with the right to regulate its own liquor traffic of license receipts. Only four fortune tellers in the entire county had paid the tax collector the $390 annual license fee which permits them to operate.

Rolph plans on remaining here three days.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—A mysterious death of registered fortune tellers in Los Angeles county was explained today by the discovery that clairvoyants are being "ordained" in the ministry at $10 each, thus exempting themselves from a license tax.

For $25 the soothsayers are being made bishops in at least two incorporated churches, it was explained by investigators who were puzzled by the sudden shrinkage of license receipts. Only four fortune tellers in the entire county had paid the tax collector the $390 annual license fee which permits them to operate.

JOHNSON CHEERED IN STRIKE AREAS

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 9.—(UP)—Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson was enroute to Kansas City today to continue his appeal to midwestern farmers for support of the administration program.

In a widely cheered speech here last night to an audience of 5,000, Johnson rebuked agrarians because of complaints that relief had not been faster.

"God knows no one can blame the impatience of people trying to save their homes, but such impatience should not take the form of going out and setting these homes afire," he said.

"Striking farmers are playing squarely into the hands of Wall Street," he continued. "Striking miners and silk workers do not want to go back to unregulated exploitation, but that's where they are headed if they win."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Threat of a renewed strike among local garment workers was halted today when union officials announced picketing would be discontinued at once.

Representatives of the International Ladies Garment Workers union announced a previous truce would be enforced after members of the manufacturing committee assured them special efforts would be made to bring into line 22 manufacturers who thus far have refused to subscribe to "armistice" terms. Union officials possessed assurance an amicable settlement would be effected without further strikes.

IMMEDIATE EMPLOYMENT OF 500 TO 1000 MEN HERE ON FEDERAL FUNDS PREDICTED

IMMEDIATE employment of from 500 to 1000 Santa Ana men with funds from the newly-announced winter unemployment relief program of President Roosevelt, was predicted today by Mayor Paul Witmer after the receipt of a telegram from government heads asking how many men can be put to work here.

Work for the men will be given in the form of repair of public utilities and public buildings.

Many Possibilities
Mayor Witmer, after conferring hastily with City Engineer J. L. McBride and city councilmen, announced that there are several possibilities for work in Santa Ana and that estimates of sufficient work for from 500 to 1000 men will be dispatched at once to government officials.

Among the projects mentioned by Witmer were the removal of the present handstand and rest rooms in Birch Park and the erection of a new combination handstand and restrooms in the west end of the park; installation of sidewalks along the Municipal Bowl and the painting of the new bleachers; development of more than seven acres of city property on West First street near Bristol into a park with cooking, recreational and playground facilities; and improvement of city land on North Bristol street at the site of the old pumping plant into a park with possible connection through the Santa Ana river with the Jack Fisher park on North Flower street.

He declared that the request of

Placed in Jail
State and federal officers began the arrests a week ago. The alleged gang members were placed in jails in Chicago and nearby towns by investigators.

The disclosure of the gang was made when attorneys for Frank Souder, Benton, Ill., gambler, filed a petition in criminal court asking the state's attorney's office, or any other government agency having possession of Souder be forced to give him up.

Judge Philip L. Sullivan dismissed the petition for a writ of habeas corpus when Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, promised formal charges in connection with the kidnappings would be placed against him today.

Names Withheld
Among those held, besides Souder, were Dean Swolley, of Peoria, Ill., Edward La Rue and Edward Wagner of Chicago, and Julian Jones of St. Charles. Names of the others were withheld.

In the list of the gang's victims was asserted, were the following: James Hackett, Chicago gambler, twice kidnaped and forced to pay a total of $150,000.

William Urbana, Peoria gambler, forced to pay $100,000.

James Ward, Chicago alcohol distributor, from whom $45,000 was obtained.

John L. Lynch, Chicago manager of a news bureau furnishing race results, from whom the gang obtained $50,000 after breaking his ribs.

Three Aurora, Ill., gamblers who were forced to pay $10,000 each for their release, and two Iowa men who were released after they had paid $25,000 each.

More than $100,000 was obtained in other abductions attributed to the gang.

HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(UP)—After an hour's heavy bombardment of their stronghold in Atares fortress, 700 rebels against the Grau San Martin company sent up two white flags at 3:40 p. m. Simultaneously the department of the interior announced that the rebels had surrendered.

HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Government forces began a brisk bombardment of 700 rebels in the Atares fortress at 3 p. m. from heavy field pieces which rumbled into place during a comparatively quiet morning.

The bombardment was preceded by considerable machine gun fire and sporadic long-distance attacks by members of the ABC, supporting the government, but the small arms were ineffective against the heavy walls of the fortress.

Attempts by a United Press staff correspondent to reach Atares were blocked by a heavy cordon of government forces circling the land side of the fortress. Scores of trucks loaded with soldiers dashed through the streets. Rooftops were scanned for snipers.

Soldiers scouring the neighborhood of the Dragones barracks, abandoned by the rebels, forced looters to carry back the furniture, beds and cooking utensils they had stolen from the deserted stronghold earlier today.

JOBLESS GROUP HANDLES FIFTY TONS PRODUCE

A total of more than 100,000 pounds of produce has been handled by the Cooperative Distribution Committee of Orange County during the past two weeks from the new warehouse operated by unemployed groups of the county. It was learned today.

This large amount of produce included 540 sacks of potatoes received in an exchange deal from the welfare department at Stockton. The potatoes were sent here on Union Oil company tankers and were trucked to Santa Ana from Long Beach by the Lacy Transfer company, both hauls being made without charge. The Orange county unit will send 200 boxes of oranges in exchange for the potatoes.

The new warehouse, located at Fourth street and the Santa Fe tracks in a building formerly occupied by the Globe Milling company, has been used to distribute oranges, lemons, persimmons, rhubarb, tomatoes, potatoes, peaches, apples and other produce.

Arrangements have been made with Los Angeles county to exchange produce for staple groceries for distribution to unemployed families in the county. It was announced today by Nate Dundson, chairman of the distribution committee.

The committee has requested the federal government to purchase a truck for the county group in making long hauls of food. An audit of work accomplished with the federal grant of gasoline and oil to Orange county cooperative groups will be completed by November 11 to show the government officials that the experiment has been successful. Success of the distribution of gasoline and oil experiment was necessary before further federal grants to unemployed of the county, it was pointed out.

Arrangements are being made to secure around 10 tons of cabbage in the near future. A crew was sent this afternoon to Yucalpa and Pine Valley to gather apples.

Today arrangements also were made with C. H. Christie, secretary-manager of the Orange County Milk Producers, Inc., and the Orange County Dairyman's association whereby skim milk will be available for unemployed units in the county.

A total of 1335 families have been re-registered by unemployed groups in the county during the past week. Registrations are still being made. These registrations are being taken in order to live up to federal rulings.

YOUNG ATTORNEYS FORM ASSOCIATION
Announcement was made today of the formation of a new legal fraternity in Orange county. The new group, known as the Attorneys' Association of Orange County, is made up of the younger lawyers in the county.

Officers of the new group are as follows: Raymond G. Thompson, of Fullerton, president; George X. Richmond, of Orange, vice president; and Ira Kroese, of Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer. The group also elected a program committee with the following members: Otto A. Jacobs, B. Z. McKinney and L. L. Blodgett. Officers of the group and the members of the program committee will form the personnel of the association's executive committee.

Six purposes for which the association was formed were outlined by Kroese as follows: To promote the welfare of younger attorneys; foster among members a feeling of fraternity and mutual confidence; advocate and endorse legislation that will promote public welfare; improve the administration of justice; confine the practice of law to members of the state bar; and encourage the members to increase their own knowledge of the principles and practice of law.

Members of the association agreed that the organization shall not take an active part in any distinctly political measure, act or party nor endorse any candidate for office.

The group will meet the first Monday night of each month and devote a portion of each meeting to a discussion of law problems, new laws and cases.

ROBERT H. COCHRAN DIES AT HIS HOME

Robert H. Cochran, 80, resident of this vicinity for the past 16 years, died at his home, 211 South Artesia street yesterday.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy Cochran; three sons, H. A. Cochran, Anaheim; J. L. Cochran, Santa Ana; and B. I. Cochran, Hemet; one daughter, Mrs. Kate Johnson, Tustin; one step-son, J. A. Nunnally, Phoenix, Ariz.; and one step-daughter, Mrs. Ida Pemberton, Newkirk, Okla.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Bean Land Sold For $50,000

Fifty acres of bean land at Greenville has been sold by Frank Plavin, Capistrano, former owner, to William Miles of Los Angeles. It was learned today. The sale price was $50,000 and the deal was made with cash it is reported. The trust department of the First National bank handled the escrow and the Orange County title company the title detail. The deed was recorded late yesterday.

REALTY BOARD URGES FEDERAL PROPERTY LOAN

Careful consideration of a resolution adopted by the Santa Ana Realty Board was urged today by W. F. Croddy, president, and R. J. Van Drimlen Jr., secretary of the organization.

"Because of the urgent need of refinancing real estate and the financing of new real estate projects and because real estate is greatly depressed for the lack of financing ability," the document resolved that "the Santa Ana Realty Board request the government to create a United States medium to loan money on real estate at a fair appraised value and at a low rate of interest to assist in lifting the excessive burden now resting upon the small property owner, and as a means of assisting the national recovery program."

Copies of the resolution were sent to the president of the United States, the vice president, the speaker of the house of representatives and to newspapers.

MILLS TO TALK ON PLAN FOR LABOR ARMY

Walter Thomas Mills has been invited to speak again in Santa Ana on Friday night by the Orange County Council of Technocracy. Mills has chosen as his subject, "Mrs. Martin's Plan and Technocracy" and is speaking at the People's Forum, 3rd and Bush streets, at 7:30.

The plan of Mrs. Martin in regard to national recovery and readjustment is that recently submitted to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and upon which she commented favorably. Miss Perkins also commented that it was interesting but "highly debatable." Mills also declares it debatable but that it might be a long step toward technocracy.

Under the plan as advocated by the 71 year old woman, all of the youth of the land between the ages of 18 and 26 would form a great labor army to produce all the necessities of life and take part in all the production. For this they would be compensated all of their life by the food, shelter and clothing and other necessities. At 26 they would graduate into the "capital" class and could work for luxuries if they so desired.

The public is cordially invited to his meeting according to the announcement of the Orange County Council of Technocracy.

SERVICE STATION MAN ARRESTED FOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Harold Clerk Hood, proprietor of a service station at Newport road and the 191 highway, appeared in justice court this morning on charges of violating the oil substitution act and will go on trial November 21 at 9 a. m.

J. Fred Sidebottom, county sealer of weights and measures, charged Hood with two offenses, resisting a deputy of his office and three counts of violating the state act. Under the last charge, the complaint charged Hood sold gasoline from pumps which were not adequately labelled according to law, advertised gasoline he did not sell, and mixed grades of gasoline in the same pumps.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR ANNIE JONES

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Smith and Tuthill chapel for Annie Laurie Jones, 37, who passed away at her home on Yorba street, east of Santa Ana, November 6. The flower-filled chapel and the many friends in attendance at the services were evidences of the high esteem in which Miss Jones was held in a community where she had passed her entire life. She was born in the house where her death occurred.

The Rev. E. J. Inwood, former pastor of the Santa Ana Methodist church, and now of Long Beach, who baptized Miss Jones at the time she became a member of the Santa Ana church, conducted the service. He spoke of her cheerful attitude toward life and the happy influence she had exerted on all those who came in contact with her, stressing the life of service for others, she had lived. Pallbearers were Dudley Field, Guy Field, Raymond Marisel, Frank Leonard, Don Osterman and Roy Roepke. Mrs. Roepke, a girlhood friend said, "Jesus Is All the World to Me," and "Someday We'll Understand."

Miss Jones had been ill for about two months before her death. She attended the Tustin Grammar school when J. J. Zeilan, was principal. She also attended the Santa Ana First Methodist church for a number of years taking an active part in the work of the church and Sunday school. Later she transferred her membership to the Methodist church organized at Tustin, where she was prominent in work done by the Ladies' Aid society.

Surviving her are two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Henry Robinson of Santa Ana, Mrs. E. G. Chandler of Orange, and Edward M. Jones of Los Angeles.

SEEKS NEW TRIAL AFTER CONVICTION

Further complications in the prosecution of members of the Otero family of Tustin following a raid of their home on October 28 were encountered today when Theophile Manriquez, found guilty Tuesday of carrying a concealed weapon, filed a motion for new trial and had a hearing set for November 16 in the Tustin justice court.

Manriquez was to have sentence pronounced by Acting Judge John Landell today following the jury verdict of guilty. On November 18, he is scheduled to have a preliminary hearing on charges of resisting an officer. On the same day, his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Otero, will face charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and his granddaughter, Beatrice Otero, will be tried for resisting an officer.

On November 13, Mrs. Otero will face possession of liquor charges and on November 20, sale of liquor charges. The dates were changed this week following the release of Mrs. Otero and Manriquez from jail on bond. The daughter is still in jail under $500 bail.

JOBLESS GROUP HANDLES FIFTY TONS PRODUCE

A total of more than 100,000 pounds of produce has been handled by the Cooperative Distribution Committee of Orange County during the past two weeks from the new warehouse operated by unemployed groups of the county, it was learned today.

This large amount of produce included 540 sacks of potatoes received in an exchange deal from the welfare department at Stockton. The potatoes were sent here on Union Oil company tankers and were trucked to Santa Ana from Long Beach by the Lacy Transfer company, both hauls being made without charge. The Orange county unit will send 200 boxes of oranges in exchange for the potatoes.

The new warehouse, located at Fourth street and the Santa Fe tracks in a building formerly occupied by the Globe Milling company, has been used to distribute oranges, lemons, persimmons, rhubarb, tomatoes, potatoes, peaches, apples and other produce.

Arrangements have been made with Los Angeles county to change produce for staple groceries for distribution to unemployed families in the county, it was announced today by Nate Dundson, chairman of the distribution committee.

The committee has requested the federal government to purchase a truck for the county group in making long hauls of food. An audit of work accomplished with the federal grant of gasoline and oil to Orange county cooperative groups will be completed by November 11 to show the government officials that the experiment has been successful. Success of the distribution of gasoline and oil experiment was necessary before further federal grants to unemployed of the county, it was pointed out.

Arrangements are being made to secure around 10 tons of cabbage in the near future. A crew was sent this afternoon to Yucalpa and Pine Valley to gather apples.

Today arrangements also were made with C. H. Christie, secretary-manager of the Orange County Milk Producers Inc. and the Orange County Dairyman's association whereby skim milk will be available for unemployed units in the county.

A total of 1335 families have been re-registered by unemployed groups in the county during the past week. Registrations are still being made. These registrations are being taken in order to live up to federal rulings.

Announcement was made today of the formation of a new legal fraternity in Orange county. The new group, known as the Attorney's Association of Orange County, is made up of the younger lawyers in the county.

Officers of the new group are as follows: Raymond G. Thompson, of Fullerton, president; Gordon X. Richmond, of Orange, vice president; and Ira Kroese, of Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer.

The group also elected a program committee with the following members: Otto A. Jacobs, B. Z. McKinney and L. L. Blodgett. Officers of the group and the members of the program committee will form the personnel of the association's executive committee.

Six purposes for which the association was formed were outlined by Kroese as follows: To promote the welfare of younger attorneys; foster among members a feeling of fraternity and mutual confidence; advocate and endorse legislation that will promote public welfare; improve the administration of justice; condone the practice of law to members of the state bar; and encourage the members to increase their own knowledge of the principles and practice of law.

Members of the association agreed that the organization shall not take an active part in any distinctly political measure, act or party nor endorse any candidate for office.

The group will meet the first Monday night of each month and devote a portion of each meeting to a discussion of law problems, new laws and cases.

ROBERT H. COCHRAN

Bean Land Sold For $50,000

Fifty acres of bean land at Greenville has been sold by Frank Plavin, Capistrano, former owner, to William Miles of Los Angeles, it was learned today. The sale price was $50,000 and the deal was made with cash it is reported. The trust department of the First National bank handled the escrow and the Orange County Title company the title detail. The deed was recorded late yesterday.

REALTY BOARD URGES FEDERAL PROPERTY LOAN

Careful consideration of a resolution adopted by the Santa Ana Realty Board was urged today by W. F. Croddy, president, and R. J. Van Drimlen Jr., secretary of the organization.

"Because of the urgent need of refinancing real estate and the financing of new real estate projects and because real estate is greatly depressed by the lack of financing ability," the document resolved that "the Santa Ana Realty Board request the government to create a United States medium to loan money on real estate at a fair appraised value and at a low rate of interest to assist in lifting the excessive burden now resting upon the small property owner, and as a means of assisting the national recovery program."

Copies of the resolution were sent to the president of the United States, the vice president, the speaker of the house of representatives and to newspapers.

Further complications in the prosecution of members of the Otero family of Tustin following a raid of their home on October 28 were encountered today when neophiles Manriquez, found guilty Tuesday of carrying a concealed weapon, filed a motion for new trial and had a hearing set for November 16 in the Tustin justice court.

Manriquez was to have sentence pronounced by Acting Judge John Landell today following the jury verdict of guilty. On November 18, he is scheduled to have a preliminary hearing on charges of resisting an officer. On the same day, his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Otero, will face charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and his granddaughter, Beatrice Otero, will be tried for resisting an officer.

On November 13, Mrs. Otero will face possession of liquor charges and on November 20, sale of liquor charges. The dates were changed this week following the release of Mrs. Otero and Manriquez from jail on bond. The daughter is still in jail under $500 bail.

The first telegraph line in the United States was built in 1844; it ran from Washington to Baltimore.

The public is cordially invited to his meeting according to the announcement of the Orange County Council of Technocracy.

Under the plan as advocated by the 71 year old woman, all of the youth of the land between the ages of 18 and 26 would form a great labor army to produce all the necessities of life and take part in all the production. For this they would be compensated all of their life by the food, shelter and clothing and other necessities. At 26 they would graduate into the "capital" class and could work for luxuries if they so desired.

The plan of Mrs. Martin in regard to national recovery and readjustment is that recently submitted to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and upon which she commented favorably. Miss Perkins also commented that it was interesting but "highly debatable."

Mills also declares it debatable but that it might be a long step toward technocracy.

Walter Thomas Mills has been invited to speak again in Santa Ana on Friday night by the Orange County Council of Technocracy. Mills has chosen as his subject, "Mrs. Martin's Plan and Technocracy" and is speaking at the People's Forum, 3rd and Bush streets, at 7:30.

The plan of Mrs. Martin in regard to national recovery and readjustment is that recently submitted to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and upon which she commented favorably. Miss Perkins also commented that it was interesting but "highly debatable."

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR ANNIE JONES

Funeral services were held yesterday at the Smith and Tuthill chapel for Annie Laurie Jones, 37, who passed away at her home on Yorba street, east of Santa Ana, November 6. The flower-filled chapel and the many friends in attendance at the services were evidences of the high esteem in which Miss Jones was held in a community where she had passed her entire life. She was born in the house where her death occurred.

The Rev. E. J. Inwood, former pastor of the Santa Ana Methodist church, and now of Long Beach, who baptized Miss Jones at the time she became a member of the Santa Ana church, conducted the service. He spoke of her cheerful attitude toward life and the happy influence she had exerted on all those who came in contact with her, stressing the life of service for others, she had lived. Pallbearers were Dudley Field, Guy Field, Raymond Marshall, Frank Leonard, Don Osterman and Roy Roepke. Mrs. Roepke, a girlhood friend sang, "Jesus Is All the World to Me," and "Someday We'll Understand."

Miss Jones had been ill for about two months before her death. She attended the Tustin Grammar school when J. J. Zeilan, was principal. She also attended the Santa Ana First Methodist church for number of years taking an active part in the work of the church and Sunday school. Later she transferred her membership to the Methodist church organized at Tustin, where she was prominent in work done by the Ladies' Aid society.

Surviving her are two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Henry Robinson of Santa Ana, Mrs. E. G. Chandler of Orange, and Edward M. Jones of Los Angeles.

Further complications in the prosecution of members of the Otero family of Tustin following a raid of their home on October 28 were encountered today when neophiles Manriquez, found guilty Tuesday of carrying a concealed weapon, filed a motion for new trial and had a hearing set for November 16 in the Tustin justice court.

Mills also declares it debatable but that it might be a long step toward technocracy.

Under the plan as advocated by the 71 year old woman, all of the youth of the land between the ages of 18 and 26 would form a great labor army to produce all the necessities of life and take part in all the production. For this they would be compensated all of their life by the food, shelter and clothing and other necessities. At 26 they would graduate into the "capital" class and could work for luxuries if they so desired.

The plan of Mrs. Martin in regard to national recovery and readjustment is that recently submitted to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and upon which she commented favorably. Miss Perkins also commented that it was interesting but "highly debatable."

RECOMMEND CHANGES IN TENURE LAW

Recommendations for changes in the present state teachers' tenure law, and the placing of teachers under an educational civil service commission were included in the report of a faculty committee appointed to study the problem by teachers of the Santa Ana Junior college and high school, it was learned today. The report will be presented to the teachers at the next monthly faculty meeting of the schools.

The report pointed out advantages of the present system that should be retained and among others included: "Standards already built up can be maintained; more care will be used in selecting teachers if they cannot be easily removed; and that teachers have a defense against the injustices of petty politics."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a quick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remedy a substitute. Be at drug stores.

PLAN TO HAVE LIGHTS TURNED OFF OPPOSED

Vigorous protest against the plan of the San Clemente city council to have the lights turned off was voiced at a meeting of taxpayers at the home of Ole Hanson, yesterday afternoon with adoption of a resolution for submission to the councilmen.

The San Clemente board at its last regular session took formal action to request the San Diego Gas and Electric corporation to discontinue light service on city streets.

A. E. Holloway, vice president of the company, was present at the meeting yesterday, and stated that his company had received the council's communication, but that his company was opposed to the plan of cutting off the lights.

A telegram received by Dan Mulholland, president of the San Clemente Chamber of commerce, from the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association, expressing, as a large taxpayer, opposition to the council's plan to have the lights cut off, was read.

The taxpayers resolution pointed out that the San Diego Gas and Electric corporation was not desirous of depriving the city of lights; that the sum owed at the present time, $3000, was approximately the same owed for the past four years. Furthermore, the city itself is not the lighting district, but merely acts as a collecting agency. It was brought out.

The resolution stated that "We were told that our city was in good shape and that if we retained the present mayor, our city would go on as usual; that our golf links would function, etc."

"But our golf links were closed and are fast burning up. An offer was made to keep the greens up without expense to the city, which the city refused and concealed the tools for caring for same, and refused to permit their own man, Mr. Abel, to continue working."

The meeting was called by Ole Hanson. Dan Mulholland was chairman, and E. R. Bartlett was secretary. A large number of taxpayers of the city attended the meeting.

POPE WILL ISSUE ENCYCLICAL LETTER

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 9.—(UP)—Pope Pius plans to address to world public opinion an encyclical letter complaining that Roman Catholic associations in Germany are hampered seriously because of the Nazi government's desire to insure supremacy of Protestantism. It was announced today.

Negotiations between the Vatican and the German government to enforce clauses of the treaty concluded last July have been proceeding but slowly.

The Vatican has called the German government's attention to what it terms the painful situation the Catholic associations are in, especially in Baden and Wurttemberg, and asserts that the associations do not enjoy the same freedom of action as before the Nazi government.

SPANISH WAR VETS OPPOSE ECONOMY ACT

Alleged inconsistencies in the Economy Act, and presidential orders concerning it and as handled by the Veterans Administration were pointed out in a report which has been endorsed by Calumet Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

Five new members were elected at the meeting these being C. F. Wood and Harry K. Steen by transfers from other camps; C. R. Priddy, by reinstatement, and Paul Corad and Oscar Area as honorary members, the latter two being members of the Calumet drum corps.

Members of the camp voted to change the meeting place to the K. C. hall, beginning December 1. Colonel Harry Matthews, of the old Company A, California National Guards, entertained with a brief talk.

The report on the Economy Bill, given by Charles E. Dixon, declared that the credit of the country was not impaired by the expenditure of money saved by cutting veteran benefits. He said arrangements have been made to spend more than the amount saved on CCC camps for men who have made no sacrifices for the country.

Spanish war veterans should have been classed with the Civil and Indian war veterans, and not with the World War veterans, the report stated. Dixon gave instances in the report to indicate that the percentage of cuts was not fair, asking why all cuts were not made 15 per cent in the same percentage that federal employees were cut.

OWNERS OF SMALL ACREAGE ELIGIBLE FOR FEDERAL LOANS

Announcement of a new plan for loans to owners of small properties of one or two acres was received today by C. A. Palmer, Federal Land bank agent in Orange county from the Berkeley office.

Under this plan loans can be made on small acreage properties where the income is not sufficient to make the payments on the land and a living for the family, up to 75 per cent of the normal agricultural value of the land, Palmer said.

Palmer also announced that the Land bank expects to grant $5,000,000 in loans during November and that the congestion is being rapidly worked out in the Berkeley office. He has forwarded more than 200 applications of an estimated total of approximately $2,000,000 from Orange county.

China's population totals more than 475,000,000.

CARRIERS GET BUSY IN BIG CASH CONTEST

Announcement a week ago to Register carriers of prizes aggregating over $300 to be distributed to winners in a carrier "Cash for Christmas" contest has created wide interest among Register carriers, R. M. Conklin, Circulation Manager in charge of the race, stated today. The contest started November 1 and closes 8 p. m. December 16.

Votes may be earned in the fray by securing new subscriptions, collecting from new and renewal subscribers, giving good service and increasing their route, Conklin said.

In spite of numerous school activities and their usual first of the month collections, many carriers in each group up to this time have earned votes in the competition. There are 128 boys, 60 city and 68 suburban, who are eligible to win one of the 36 prizes offered. The prize list consists of 18 awards in each group. They are as follows: First $50, second $25, third $15, fourth $10. There are six prizes of $5, four of $3 and four of $2.

A count of the votes at the end of the race will determine the winners. The fact that each contestant earns his regular commissions for his effort and still qualifies in the attractive prize list show the carriers the great possibilities of the Cash for Christmas Contest, Conklin said.

At this point Lemone Strickland leads the city group with 9000 votes. Roy Potters is second having earned 8000 votes. Third place is filled by three boys, Robert Elzig, Allen Ritter and Orr Noche, each having 7000 votes to their credit. Fourth place is held by Chester Salisbury who has 6000 votes.

In the suburban group three Orange boys head the list, LaVern Rees has 17,000 votes, Carl Davis 15,000 votes and R. M. Caples has 10,000 votes. Raymond Martindale, winner of the last carrier competition is fourth in the suburban race with 6000 votes.

Standings of all contestants appear on page 7 of today's paper.

Court Notes

Mrs. Hulda Lee has filed suit in superior court asking that her marriage to Ward J. Lee be annulled on the grounds that at the time they were married she was not yet divorced from a former husband, John Gilchrist. The Lees were married September 11, last, in Yuma.

Suit has been filed in superior court by the Pomona Mutual Building and Loan association against George W. Foster to collect $11,577.52, amount alleged due on a deficiency judgment, plus interest since September, 1932, and $500 accrued fees. According to the complaint, the deficiency followed foreclosure of Los Angeles city property under a mortgage and note for $21,700 signed January 20, 1932. The property was foreclosed in May, 1933, and sold for $15,000. After deductions of charges against the property were made there was an alleged deficiency of $11,577.52.

WAYS TO WEALTH TOPIC FOR FORUM

"Sixteen ways to Wealth" will be the title of a lecture and forum discussion by Harry S. Gerhart at the People's Forum, Third and Bush streets, at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The talk will be concerned with the ways of acquiring wealth in their relation to the true purpose of an economic system and the needs of the people living under the system, according to Gerhart.

Gerhart said he would review "The New Deal" by Stuart Chase, and "Mellon's Millions."

There is no charge for this lecture and open discussion at the People's Forum which is open to the public.

SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Henrietta Stowell and daughter, Katherine, have gone to Palm Springs for a visit of three months.

Mrs. Thomas F. Murphy Jr. and little son, Thomas III, have left for a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Homer Pendergrass, in El Centro.

Mrs. Bert Hymer and daughter, Elma, have moved to Los Angeles.

MANY TRADES IN RUBBER FACTORY

AKRON, O., Nov. 8.—Many more trades and professions than that of tire building are necessary to keep a huge rubber plant in operation.

Literally hundreds of varieties of talent—in fact all the trades and professions that are found in an average sized city—are represented in the Akron plants of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., according to a survey recently completed. In addition to the men who compound the rubber, weave the fabric and build the tires; professions ranging from highly trained engineers to cooks and waitresses are to be found at Goodyear.

Technical men, of course, are to be found in many departments. There are men skilled in electrical, civil, mechanical, structural, chemical and other forms of engineering; while research laboratories and development departments contain other scientists who are striving to make the product better.

Carpenters, plumbers, electricians, chauffeurs, garage mechanics, truckers, filling station attendants, cooks, waitresses, photographers, newspaper writers, lawyers, miners, telegraph operators, printers, stenographers, bookkeepers, filing clerks, doctors, dentists, nurses—there are but a few of the everyday professions represented at Goodyear.

The first cablegram was sent from London to New York on August 28, 1857.

A Quicker Way To Ease Headaches

HERE I AM... A BIG DINNER PARTY ON HAND... AND ANOTHER OF MY BAD HEADACHES. WHAT CAN I DO?

EVER TRY BAYER ASPIRIN? TAKE 2 TABLETS AND YOUR HEADACHE WILL BE GONE IN A JIFFY!

2 BEFORE THE DINNER. THAT BAYER ASPIRIN YOU SUGGESTED IS SIMPLY WONDERFUL! MY HEADACHE WAS ENTIRELY GONE IN A FEW MINUTES—

I KNEW IT WOULD BE... BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST!

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

These results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. A Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, see that you get the Genuine BAYER Aspirin. For Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "BAYER Aspirin."

White Elephant SALE

White Elephants are things that give a store manager a pain in the neck. Things that have been kicking around the place causing red ink. It's all good merchandise, but we've had it too long and now is the time to sell it. It's the tail end of the year and we've got to get the old cash register going.

So tomorrow morning for a few days only we are going to TURN LOOSE UPON THE UNSUSPECTING PUBLIC A HERD OF WHITE ELEPHANTS that will just make you buy whether you need the stuff or not. The prices are so doggone cheap and the merchandise is so doggone good that it will pay you to BUY NOW!

We've offered some of these things to you before but you wouldn't buy them so now we are putting prices on them that will make them so cheap that you can't help yourself. You will just have to buy.

Tires

We've got some tires at real bargain prices. If you need tires or know of anyone who will need them in the near future—Nuff said—just come in and look at our prices.

Used Tires

ONE HALF OFF! Any used tire in the place at half the regular used tire price. And we didn't mark 'em up for the sale either! Some are darned good—and some not so good.

Retreads

Some dandy retreads at special prices. And we've got some other retreads that don't look so good but the mileage is there and it will pay you to look 'em over.

Auto Robes

Auto Radios

We have some discontinued models at prices you can't turn down. They make fine Xmas gifts too. Some as low as $25.00 INSTALLED. We've got some good traded-in sets too. Come in and hear 'em play. Philips, Majestic and Motorolas.

Inner Tubes

Almost forgot this item. We've got some brand new inner tubes. The big heavy kind. Red ones. The prices will really surprise you if we've got your size. We probably haven't your size but it won't hurt to try us.

Motor Oil

Say! This IS a bargain. 100% Pure Pennsylvania. IT'S in a sealed 5-gallon can so no one has monkeyed with it. The price is $2.95 for the whole 5 gallons. The bucket it comes in is worth two bits. If you need oil you'd better hurry. It can't last long at these prices.

Brakes Reline

Fords $8.00 and Chevies $6.00. This is with OUR BEST GRADE of genuine Firestone Aquapuf Lining. Of course every job is guaranteed. That's the kind of work we do.

Batteries

When you go out to the garage one of these cool mornings and the old battery is flatter than a pan-cake you'll wish you had taken our offer of a BRAND NEW FIRESTONE BATTERY with plenty of pep for only $4.25 and your old battery. The batteries aren't White Elephants but we would like to sell a herd of 'em.

AUTO ACCESSORIES

HERE IS A BARGAIN!! One can Firestone Hi Test Top Dressing and one can of Firestone Wax and a can of Firestone Auto Body Cleaner and a Firestone Auto Dust Cloth—all for 98¢—and believe me that IS a bargain. Better hurry for we have only a few of these sets left.

Lubrication

While we are writing this ad we might as well tell you something about our LUBRICATION DEPARTMENT. It's just the best there is and the man who greases your car is just the best grease man who ever drew a grease gun on a customer. He'll tell you why he uses as many as nine different kinds of grease on your car. Our prices start at 75¢. Of course that's for Fords and Chevrolets and larger cars are higher. Not too high though. Let us do your dirty work!

Automotive Electrician

Our electrician is the best electrician that ever left a wrench on a customer's running board. He's a fiend for locating trouble, and if this winter is anything like last winter some of you good folks are going to have electrical trouble. Why not come in NOW and let us look the car over. We clean spark plugs for a nickel a piece. That's cheap enough. We are always glad to put water in your battery.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

Our credit man is rarin' to go. He'll open an account for you and then keep after you 'till you pay it. He says "hot or cold" he'll do business with you. So drop in and open an account. NO INTEREST—just charge it and pay for it in the regular way. It's convenient for the whole family.

Well folks, there's the dope! A lot of good merchandise at PRICES THAT ARE RIGHT DOWN TO THE BOTTOM. It will pay you to drop in and get what you need in the items listed above. A chance like this may never come again.

admitted by the committee was "That schools which are over-supplied with teachers encounter difficulties in reducing their personnel."

Various changes were recommended, the most drastic of which is "that re-election of teachers past the age of 65 shall be at the option of the board of education, and that a sound system of teachers' retirement compensation be worked out in conjunction with other civil service legislation and that teachers dismissed because of age or physical disability be granted retirement compensation pro-rated on their years of service."

The committee investigating the problem included H. A. Scott, chairman, Miss Josephine Arnoldy, Clyde D. Cook, George B. Holmes, and Miss Mabel G. Whitlock.

RUSSIAN PIANIST ON L. A. PROGRAM

The first guest artist to appear with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra this season will be Marjorie Maazel, Russian pianist. Maazel will appear at the third symphony pair of concerts, Thursday evening and Friday afternoon, November 16-17, in Philharmonic Auditorium, Los Angeles.

The concert will be directed by Otto Klemperer, conductor of the orchestra. Maazel has been heard in past seasons with the orchestra, also in recitals, and needs no introduction to Los Angeles concertgoers. For his appearance he will play the Tchaikovsky Concerto for Piano No. 1, in D Minor, Op. 23. Klemperer will open the program with Symphony in D Minor by Cesar Franck and close with "La Valse" Choreographic Poem by Ravel.

The second Sunday afternoon concert will be played at the Philharmonic Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, under the direction of Otto Klemperer. The program follows: Wagner, Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde"; Wagner, Tannhauser Overture; Tchaikovsky, Symphony No. 5 in E Minor, Op. 64.

Announcement of a new plan for loans to owners of small properties of one or two acres was received today by C. A. Palmer, Federal Land bank agent in Orange county from the Berkeley office.

Under this plan loans can be made on small acreage properties used for agricultural purposes where the income is not sufficient to make the payments on the land and a living for the family, up to 75 per cent of the normal agricultural value of the land, Palmer said.

Palmer also announced that the Land bank expects to grant $5,000,000 in loans during November and that the congestion is being rapidly worked out in the Berkeley office. He has forwarded more than 200 applications of an estimated total of approximately $2,000,000 from Orange county.

The contest started November 1 and closes 8 p. m. December 16.

Votes may be earned in the fray by securing new subscriptions, collecting from new and renewal subscribers, giving good service and increasing their route, Conklin said.

In spite of numerous school activities and their usual first of the month collections, many carriers in each group up to this time have earned votes in the competition. There are 128 boys, 60 city and 68 suburban, who are eligible to win one of the 36 prizes offered. The prize list consists of 18 awards in each group. They are as follows: First $50, second $25, third $15, fourth $10. There are six prizes of $5, four of $3 and four of $2.

A count of the votes at the end of the race will determine the winners. The fact that each contestant earns his regular commission for his effort and still qualifies in the attractive prize list show the carriers the great possibilities of the Cash for Christmas Contest, Conklin said.

At this point Lemone Strickland leads the city group with 8000 votes. Roy Potters is second having earned 6000 votes. Third place is filled by three boys, Robert Elzig, Allen Ritter and Ory Noche, each having 7000 votes to their credit. Fourth place is held by Chester Salisbury who has 6000 votes.

In the suburban group three Orange boys head the list. LaVern Rees has 17,000 votes, Carl Davis 15,000 votes and R. M. Caples has 10,000 votes. Raymond Martin, winner of the last carrier competition is fourth in the suburban race with 6000 votes.

Standings of all contestants appear on page 7 of today's paper.

Court Notes

Mrs. Hulda Lee has filed suit in superior court asking that her marriage to Ward J. Lee be annulled on the grounds that at the time they were married she was not yet divorced from a former husband, John Gilchrist. The Lees were married September 11, last, in Yuma.

Suit has been filed in superior court by the Pomona Mutual Building and Loan association against George W. Foster to collect $11,677.52, amount alleged due on a deficiency judgment, plus interest since September, 1932, and $500 accrued fees. According to the complaint, the deficiency followed foreclosure of Los Angeles city property under a mortgage and note for $21,700 signed January 20, 1932. The property was foreclosed in May, 1933, and sold for $15,000. After deductions of charges against the property were made there was an alleged deficiency of $11,677.52.

MANY TRADES IN RUBBER FACTORY

AKRON, O., Nov. 8.—Many more trades and professions than that of the building are necessary to keep a huge rubber plant in operation.

Literally hundreds of varieties of talent—in fact all the trades and professions that are found in an average sized city—are represented in the Akron plants of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., according to a survey recently completed. In addition to the men who compound the rubber, weave the fabric and build the tires, professions ranging from highly trained engineers to cooks and waitresses are to be found at Goodyear.

Technical men, of course, are to be found in many departments. There are men skilled in electrical, civil, mechanical, structural, chemical and other forms of engineering; while research laboratories and development departments contain other scientists who are striving to make the product better.

Carpenters, plumbers, electricians, chauffeurs, garage mechanics, truckers, filling station attendants, cooks, waitresses, photographers, newspaper writers, lawyers, miners, telegraph operators, printers, stenographers, bookkeepers, filing clerks, doctors, dentists, nurses—there are but a few of the everyday professions represented at Goodyear.

The first cablegram was sent from London to New York on August 28, 1857.

A Quicker Way To Ease Headaches

HERE I AM... A BIG DINNER PARTY ON HAND... AND ANOTHER OF MY BAD HEADACHES. WHAT CAN I DO?

EVERY BAYER ASPIRIN? TAKE 2 TABLETS AND YOUR HEADACHE WILL BE GONE IN A JIFFY!

2 BEFORE THE DINNER... THAT BAYER ASPIRIN YOU SUGGESTED IS SIMPLY WONDERFUL! MY HEADACHE WAS ENTIRELY GONE IN A FEW MINUTES—

I KNEW IT WOULD BE... BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST!

A Discovery that's Bringing Fast Relief to Millions

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. A Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, see that you get the Genuine Bayer Aspirin. For Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "Bayer Aspirin."

Does Not Harm the Heart

White Elephant SALE

White Elephants are things that give a store manager a pain in the neck. Things that have been kicking around the place causing red ink. It's all good merchandise, but we've had it too long and now is the time to sell it. It's the tail end of the year and we've got to get the old cash register going.

So tomorrow morning for a few days only we are going to TURN LOOSE UPON THE UN-SUSPECTING PUBLIC A HERD OF WHITE ELEPHANTS that will just make you buy whether you need the stuff or not. The prices are so doggone cheap and the merchandise is so doggone good that it will pay you to BUY NOW!!

We've offered some of these things to you before but you wouldn't buy them so now we are putting prices on them that will make them so cheap that you can't help yourself. You will just have to buy.

Tires

We've got some tires at real bargain prices. If you need tires or know of anyone who will need them in the near future—Nuff said—just come in and look at our prices.

Inner Tubes

Almost forgot this item. We've got some brand new inner tubes. The big heavy kind. Red ones. The prices will really surprise you if we've got your size. We probably haven't your size but it won't hurt to try us.

Used Tires

ONE HALF OFF! Any used tire in the place at half the regular used tire price. And we didn't mark 'em up for the sale either! Some are darned good—and some not so good.

Retreads

Some dandy retreads at special prices. And we've got some other retreads that don't look so good but the mileage is there and it will pay you to look 'em over.

Auto Robes

Auto Radios

We have some discontinued models at prices you can't turn down. They make fine Xmas gifts too. Some as low as $25.00 INSTALLED. We've got some good traded-in sets too. Come on in and hear 'em play. Philips, Majestic and Motorolas.

Batteries

Brakes Reline

Fords $6.80 and Cheviots $8.00. This is with OUR BEST GRADE of genuine Firestone Aquaproof Lining. Of course every job is guaranteed. That's the kind of work we do.

AUTO ACCESSORIES

HERE IS A BARGAIN!! One can Firestone Hi Test Top Dressing and one can of Firestone Wax and a can of Firestone Auto Body Cleaner and a Firestone Auto Dust Cloth—all for 98¢—and believe me that is a bargain. Better hurry for we have only a few of these sets left.

Lubrication

While we are writing this ad we might as well tell you something about our LUBRICATION DEPARTMENT. It's just the best there is and the man who greases your car is just the best grease man who ever drew a grease gun on a customer. He'll tell you why he uses as many as nine different kinds of grease on your car. Our prices start at 75¢. Of course that's for Fords and Chevrolets and larger cars are higher. Not too high though. Let us do your dirty work!

Automotive Electrician

Our electrician is the best electrician that ever left a wrench on a customer's running board. He's a fiend for locating trouble, and if this winter is anything like last winter some of you good folks are going to have electrical trouble. Why not come in NOW and let us look the car over. We clean spark plugs for a nickel a piece. That's cheap enough. We are always glad to put water in your battery.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

Our credit man is rarin' to go. He'll open an account for you and then keep after you 'till you pay it. He says "hot or cold" he'll do business with you. So drop in and open an account. NO INTEREST—just charge it and pay for it in the regular way. It's convenient for the whole family.

Well folks, there's the dope! A lot of good merchandise at PRICES THAT ARE RIGHT DOWN TO THE BOTTOM. It will pay you to drop in and get what you need in the items listed above. A chance like this may never come again.

GIRL ASKS $15,000 FOR CRASH INJURIES

Filing suit in superior court, as a minor, through her mother, Violet Wiedemann is asking damages totaling $15,000 for injuries allegedly received in an automobile accident. James Talley, his father, Earl Talley, and D. C. Price are named as defendants.

According to her complaint the Wiedemann girl received permanent injuries and scars about the face and nose and an injury to her left breast when the car, driven by Talley with whom she was riding collided with the automobile driven by Price. The crash occurred December 9, 1932, on Belmont Shore drive between Long Beach and Seal Beach.

HONOR STUDENTS AT H. S. GET HOLIDAY

Santa Ana high school Honor society members will be given a holiday from their classes Monday D. K. Hammond, principal, announced today.

The holiday is given to the honor students each semester as a reward for their high scholastic and citizenship standing in the school.

Hammond said that many of the students visit nearby colleges and universities where they become more familiar with university methods and are better prepared to enter them upon graduation from high school.

SEEKS $654 FOR DAMAGES TO TRUCK

Frank S. Spire has filed suit in superior court against Marion C. Blake, Charles A. Brown, Mrs. Charles A. Brown and Howard E. Brown, a minor, seeking judgment for $654.19, alleged damages to his truck received in a collision between Spire's truck and an automobile driven by young Brown.

According to the complaint, Spire accused young Brown with the reckless operation of an automobile owned by Marion Blake on July 31, last, when it collided with his truck at the intersection of Spadra road and Walnut street in Fullerton. He alleges that his truck was so badly damaged that the repair bill was $156.09. In addition to the amount of the repair bill, Spire is asking for $498.10, allegedly lost to him through loss of use of the truck for 14 days. Young Brown's parents are named defendants in the suit through their having "signed his application for an automobile operator's license when he applied to the state, July 7, 1931.

Court Asked To Determine Owner Of Cash In Bank

Ownership of $625.54 now on deposit in the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association will be determined by the superior court, according to a suit filed by Ramona Ybarra, who names as defendants Mary Delgado, sometimes known as Mary Ybarra, and the banking house, asking that the court quiet title to the money.

According to her complaint the money in the bank represents the balance between amounts deposited and drawn since December 30, 1926. She alleges that she made the deposits of the money in the bank in the name of Ramona Ybarra, by Mary Ybarra, and that all withdrawals were made by Mary Ybarra on behalf of and with the consent of herself. This arrangement was a matter of convenience, she alleges, due to the fact that she can speak no English.

Now, according to the complaint, Ramona Ybarra wants her money and the bank refuses to recognize her claim to it, so she is asking the court to determine ownership.

FLYING AROUND With Dale Deckert

According to a fairly well founded rumor circulating about the Eddie Martin Airport, several local fliers are about to leave for China. It is reported that they have received flattering offers to go to Shanghai as instructors under contract to the present government. Their duties, it is said, will be the instruction of pilots in the Chinese aviation corps.

In spite of the so-called depression considerable interest is being shown in aviation. The ground school meeting every Friday night from 8 to 10 p. m. at the Eddie Martin Airport, under direction of Professor Drake, is still attracting students. This course offers instruction in air commerce rules and regulations, theory of flight, meteorology, navigation, motor work and rigging. For the first time in any ground school the class is being given instruction in the new system for "blind flying" by the radio beam method.

Harold Hood, operator of a service station at First and Cypress streets, is the most recent student at the Eddie Martin Airport to make his solo flight. Hood made his solo flight after four hours and 30 minutes' instruction under Charles "Ace" Jackson, chief instructor at the airport.

According to government statistics of the 15,457 licensed pilots in the United States, California is leading all states with a registration of 3581 pilots at this time. California is also leading in the all their training at the Eddie Martin Airport. They are Johnny Martin, Eddie Martin, operator of the airport, Al Hottel, "Happy" Russell and Bart Cox. All of them are first pilots on ships making the run from Los Angeles to El Paso, Tex.

Young Brown's parents are named defendants in the suit through their having signed his application for an automobile operator's license when he applied to the state, July 7, 1931.

According to the complaint, Spire accused young Brown with the reckless operation of an automobile owned by Marion Blake on July 31, last, when it collided with his truck at the intersection of Spadra road and Walnut street in Fullerton. FLYING AROUND With Dale Deckert

According to a fairly well founded rumor circulating about the Eddie Martin Airport, several local fliers are about to leave for China. It is reported that they have received flattering offers to go to Shanghai as instructors under contract to the present government. Their duties, it is said, will be the instruction of pilots in the Chinese aviation corps.

In spite of the so-called depression considerable interest is being shown in aviation. The ground school meeting every Friday night from 8 to 10 p. m. at the Eddie Martin Airport, under direction of Professor Drake, is still attracting students. This course offers instruction in air commerce rules and regulations, theory of flight, meteorology, navigation, motor work and rigging. For the first time in any ground school the class is being given instruction in the new system for "blind flying" by the radio beam method.

Harold Hood, operator of a service station at First and Cypress streets, is the most recent student at the Eddie Martin Airport to make his solo flight. Hood made his solo flight after four hours and 30 minutes' instruction under Charles "Ace" Jackson, chief instructor at the airport.

According to government statistics of the 15,457 licensed pilots in the United States, California is leading all states with a registration of 3581 pilots at this time. California is also leading in the number of licensed airplanes with 985 of the 9988 in the United States registered from this state.

Otto Gardiner, local army reserve pilot who received his training at March field, left Saturday for South America where he will fly for Pan-American Airways. Gardiner will pilot a ship on the run from Santiago to Buenos Aires.

ed all their training at the Eddie Martin Airport. They are Johnny Martin, Eddie Martin, operator of the airport, Al Hottel, "Happy" Russell and Bart Cox. All of them are first pilots on ships making the run from Los Angeles to El Paso, Tex.

SONS OF ST. GERMAN'S
LEXINGTON, Ky.—The well-appointed stall with its highly polished brass door knobs, was empty. Straw was neatly piled at the side. Light poured in from the dozen windows. In a corner there was running water. There was everything in that stall that a gentleman should have, except perhaps a shower bath and a looking glass.

BUSY FOR A MOMENT
There were a few gestures that twenty grand felt necessary. One of them was to roll and shake himself. Next he stopped at the white watering fountain in the center of the paddock and took a sip of water. Then, with a dignified, half-strutting step he came toward us—not directly across the paddock but a roundabout way, following the fence.

As though he was a king and felt it one of his regal duties to keep people waiting a little. When he arrived at the gate, though, he was friendly. The big son of St. German-Bonus, who won the Derby—and about everything else two years ago—poked his head across the bars and took a friendly nip at your correspondent. The two horsemen present said that his gesture was just an amenity, but I wasn't so certain the bared teeth signified a smile despite their reassurances.

READY FOR RACES!
The big red gentleman's handkerchief went into a few flights of Kentucky gravity concerning the Greenie's grumpy-getter's splendid condition.

"Do you see any reason why he shouldn't be on the tracks right now?" he asked. A survey of those rippling muscles and finely formed limbs seemed to answer affirmatively. Twenty Grand is in great shape, at five years old. In the next paddock was a smaller horse, also a son of St. German's, a little red fellow who put his muzzle out to be petted. "This horse," said the attendant, "it given the same chances to run that Twenty Grand had, would have been just as great a horse."

The name was St. Brideaux. The same age as Twenty Grand, the smaller horse did not get the opportunities to show himself that the great Greenie's galloper received.

But St. Brideaux, looking across the fence at Twenty Grand, whose ears were perked as if listening, might well have been saying, "How about that Saratoga handicap two years ago that I reeled off in 2:04? And that Latonia championship at a mile and three-quarters that I made in 2:01 2-5? Maybe you can tie that, you big brute!"

Twenty Grand merely whinnied back: "Don't bet I couldn't, brother."

SMITH, KEOUGH CHIEF THREATS TO DON HOPES

When they face the severest test on the remainder of their schedule at Ontario Saturday, Santa Ana's Dons will encounter in Chaffey's Panthers a dangerous offense built around two scoring threats, Quarterbacks Bob Smith and Jack Keough.

Smith and Keough, whose speed compares with that of Santa Ana's fastest backs, have been Coach Burt Heiser's sparkplugs all season. Chaffey, despite its power through the line in Fullbacks Wise and Hofer, would be lost without its brilliant quarterbacks, who have pulled several games out of the fire for the Panthers.

Chaffey has a "never say die" spirit that may be the deciding factor in the Don-Panther tilt. For 40 minutes the Citrus Owls, outplayed by the Ontario eleven-two but tied in the fourth quarter, Chaffey seems strictly a "second-half" team. Against San Bernardino the Panthers scored only six points in the first two periods, then returned in the final half to walk away with a 24-7 count.

The Chaffey-Fullerton game stood 0-0 in the last quarter, but the Panthers scored twice in quick succession to win 14-6. Recently upset by Citrus, 7-6, for its first defeat, Santa Ana passes out of the championship picture if the Dons bow to Chaffey.

With the exception of Jim Bandy, 210-pound tackle, the Ontario gridders are in the best of condition. Bandy was injured on a hiking trip to the mountains last week and when a mauler badly bruised his leg and smashed his finger. Wilbert Kanfman, 175-pounder who stands 6-2, will replace Bandy against Santa Ana, but the Panther regular will play if Heiser needs him.

Fundamentals have featured Chaffey's drill this week. Not a hard scrimmage has been scheduled. Coach Heiser has his men in A-1 shape, and intends to keep them that way. Dummy scrimmages, with the squad polishing its assortment of Howard Jones.

Coach Bill Cook's Santa Anans, smarting under their unexpected defeat against Citrus, will be in a fighting mood. The Dons are in better physical condition than they've been all season, although they could be stronger with Capt. "Bomo" Koral, injured tackle, in the lineup.

LOS ANGELES CINCHES WESTERN DIVISION
While members of the Eastern conference are battling tooth and toenail and five teams are still in the title running, the Western conference junior college football race virtually has been decided.

With two weeks of play remaining the Los Angeles Cubs have practically clinched their first grid championship since joining the circuit, and only a series of unexpected results can prevent them from getting in the playoff.

Although tied, the Cubs are the only unbeaten member. They draw a bye this week-end, but can lose their final game of the season next week and still get a tie for first place.

Ventura, Compton and Glendale are now tied for second place, and one of these will be eliminated for sure when Compton goes to Glendale Saturday.

Student Price At Coliseum 40 Cents
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—Good news for young fans from high school age down was given today by General Manager Arnold Eddy of the University of Southern California in the announcement that they can see the Trojan-Stanford game at the Coliseum here Saturday for only 40 cents. All that the school children and high school students have to do is present a student body card or some means of identification at the Coliseum periphery gate.

The Trojans maintain their "kid" and high school gates at most games but this is the first time that they have been established for the feature classic of the home season.

William Kolkhurst, a forward who last fall established a scoring record with 32 points, went on another rampage at the "Y" last night to lead his fast-stepping First Christians to a 51-12 basketball victory over the Latter Day Saints, one of the major teams of the Santa Ana Community Church league.

Kolkhurst found the loop for 26 points. Already having edged out the First Methodists, another first-ranking quintet, the Christians are now tied with Costa Mesa Federated for first place in the standings with five victories against one defeat, and favored to win the first-round championship which ends late this month.

Center Jacques, earning 11 points, aided Kolkhurst in humbling the Mormons. "Cotton" Bennett teamed with Kolkhurst at forward, with Veterans Conkright and Valentine stationed at guard.

Costa Mesa had an easy time with M. E. South, 32 championship in the second game. The Mesans overthrew the weak tie defenders, 44-23.

Orange Avenue Christian and First Methodist teams clash at the "Y" tomorrow night, with the United Presbyterian and St. Peter's Lutheran squads paired in the second game.

HEYDLER GRATIFIED AT 'BLUE LAW' END
John Heydler, president of the National league, today expressed his gratification over Pennsylvania's action in voting to permit Sunday baseball in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

"This indicates," said Heydler, "that the game still holds its popular appeal and that, after successfully fighting off about the worst year it will ever have to face, it can be expected to gain steadily from now on."

Purvis, Purdue Halfback, Lost For Irish Game
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 9.—(INS)—Duane Purvis, star halfback, today was apparently lost to the Purdue football team for Saturday's game with Notre Dame. As a result Coach Knute Kizer must rely on a new backfield alignment.

Purvis underwent an operation for an infected leg that was badly bruised in the Carnegie Tech game. Dr. Gordon Thomas, team physician, said it was almost certain that the star ball-carrier would not be fit to play against Notre Dame.

SCRIBE ATTENDS HORSE SHOW

M'LeMure Learns Angle Of Rider's Thumb Counts HIGH-POWERED NAGS PSYCHIC
BY HENRY McLEMORE
(Upated Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—I never gave a tinker's fetlock how we held our hands when we were astride her, I recall, most of the time we grabbed her mane, gave her a boot in the ribs and let her sail.

But these high-powered nags at the horse show, according to Cadley, can tell when a rider has an erroneous hold without so much as turning around to look.

The hands must stay put while the beast is galloping, trotting, even bucking. No jiggling or bubbling around, or one's honor is fouled and one won't be seen thereafter mingling in the upper crust.

All of this seems said to me, a man's honor, after all, is a thing to be cherished as well as defended. It is unfair to place too much importance on the position of the dukes while in the saddle. Old John, I want you to know, never in all her life turned around and bit a hunk out of me because I didn't have my paws in place.

However, people who go to horse shows seem to like that sort of thing. And you can't argue with people who go to horse shows. All I can say is that even in riding a bicycle, there is a time when I can free-wheel without holding. Even with my hands in my pockets. That's art.

BRITISH CHALLENGE FOR CUP RACES ACCEPTED BY AMERICA
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—The American Cup series, international classic of the yachting world in which millionaires on both sides of the Atlantic spend millions to compete for a somewhat tarnished silver pitcher worth about $500, will be held next year, probably off Newport, R. I., in mid-September.

The 1934 series was assured last night when the New York Yacht club formally accepted the British Challenge for the trophy over which Brits have fought since 1851.

Yachtmen have fought since 1851—sometimes as bitterly as small boys in a marble game.

Acceptance meant that Thomas O. N. Sopwith, millionaire English aircraft manufacturer, will race his new yacht Endeavor against the fleetest sloop American built—can turn out. The Endeavor, a Class J sloop, is being built in Guisport, Eng.

It will be the first America's cup series since the 1930. Thomas Lipton made his fifth and last challenge off Newport in 1930 with Shamrock V. Although the

MICHIGAN TO EJECT 'FOOTBALL DRUNKS'
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten, today expressed approval of Athletic Director Fielding Yost's decision to eject inebriated and rowdy fans from Michigan football games.

"It has always been the Western conference's aim to discourage drinking and rowdism at its football games," said Major Griffith, "when a person buys a ticket to see a football game he has the same right to protection as one would have in a theater. I think Yost is making a move in the right direction."

FRIDAY'S GAMES

Hardly a mashie shot from the end of their 1933 schedule, six Orange County league high school football teams resume action at Orange, Anaheim and Brea tomorrow afternoon.

"Shorty" Smith's Brea-Olindans, needing only two more victories to clinch their first championship, play the demoralized Huntington Beach Oilers on the Brea-greenward. After the Huntington Beach game, Brea-Olinda goes to Newport Harbor for a closing contest with the team which last week virtually eliminated Tustin as a contender.

Brea is favored to win from Huntington Beach by several touchdowns. The Oilers started the season rated as a serious threat to prove itself the best offensive team we have met this year.

Anaheim, which won the title in '32 and still has a chance for the title if any body beats Brea, should dispose of Garden Grove without great trouble, although Bert Kidd, star halfback whose long punts have featured league games for two years, will be out of action with an ankle injury.

Orange looks to have a buzz-saw on its hands in Newport Harbor, the most underestimated eleven in the conference. Orange's rearranged team, with Elmer Rice at tackle and McCarter, Black, Lentz and Captain Bob Goodwin in the backfield, will be kept intact for the invasion from Newport Heights, which features a hard-running back named Dick Johnston.

Tustin draws the week's bye.

BARTHOLOMAE'S CHALLENGE ACCEPTED BY BRITISH
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(UP)—William A. Bartholomae Jr., of Los Angeles, will attempt to wrest the international challenge cup for decked-canoe sailing from England this summer, the Royal Canoe club of London having accepted Bartholomae's challenge.

The race will be held in England, probably at Longston Harbor in July. It will be the first race ever sailed in foreign waters since the cup was put up in 1886.

Uffa Fox and Roger De Quincey of the Royal Canoe club took it from the United States last summer.

BERKELEY—California's starting lineup for the Washington game Saturday presented another new backfield combination of the many tried by Coach Bill Ingram. His selections were Stewart, Blower, Moeller and Keefer.

PALO ALTO—Stanford plans a wide open offensive in its clash with U.S.C. Saturday, according to Coach "Tiny" Thornhill. The Indians' tutor will depend on speed, both in running plays and in aerial tosses, to overcome the Trojans.

STOCKTON—Foxy Amos Alonzo Stagg took his ten end candidates aside today and drilled them on defense against the end-running attack St. Mary's of Moraga will use in its game with Stagg's College of the Pacific team here Saturday.

Jones Fears Fleet Backs Of Stanford

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Sudden switches in the Stanford backfield, adding speed and power, today boomed ticket sales for Stanford's game here Saturday against Southern California.

Indications were that more than 75,000 would attend.

Coach Howard Jones has listened silently to the "we'll go south and mop 'em up" conversation from Northern California and is not worried about the outcome of the game, although he declared privately "I fear Stanford's tricky attack."

It was realized that Stanford, although possessing the fastest and most versatile attack to be shot at the Trojans this year, probably will not be "hopped up" as were Oregon State and California when they played the champions.

Sons of Stanford in Southern California are preparing a warm welcome when Coach "Tiny" Thornhill and his somewhat demoralized Indians arrive Saturday morning.

Los Angeles fans have heard considerable about Grayson and Cerbus and looked forward with eagerness to seeing these two Stanford gridmen.

"Stanford has speed," said Jones. "The Indian backs will be the fastest we ever have met. Moscrip is a fine end. I look for Stanford to prove itself the best offensive team we have met this year."

With all players—including Warburton, small but mighty quarterback who dashed California's hopes—in good condition, U. S. C. is ready for its current foe, after which comes Oregon, Notre Dame, Georgia and Washington.

Fishing Date Extended
WASHINGTON.—(UP)—The open season for fishing in waters within the District of Columbia has been extended from October 15 to November 15. Reason: Economic conditions have forced so many people to depend on catching fish for their food supplies that welfare agents fear stopping this source would cause great suffering.

The name of Jimmy Crowley, Fordham coach, wouldn't need to be added if he wasn't the Fordham coach. It would head the list. Notre Dame wanted him. It still does, but to attempt to take him away from Fordham, it is surmised, might very well be construed as an "unfriendly act" by a college whose interests are Notre Dame's are closely allied.

KIZER SAYS HE WILL REMAIN PURDUE COACH

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—In spite of everything that has been said to date, or maybe because of it, there seems to be an air of lessened certainty now about whether Notre Dame intends to do in the case of the head coach who had very young men in there losing very earnestly for him and of a football team that apparently will not even win for itself.

Originally, there was to have been an exchange, whereby Noble Kizer was to leave Purdue and come to Notre Dame and take in plenty of landscape. This may still be done but, in a sense, the boys are beginning to ponder the matter deeply, including I suspect, Mr. Kizer. He has already announced—a little belatedly, perhaps—that he knows nothing about the Notre Dame deal and intends to remain at Purdue.

That leaves the gentlemen in an unassailable position. He now can either change his mind or stand forth righteously as one who is above temptation, in case they change theirs. They might.

Saturday's Game To Decide?
For one thing, there is almost a necessity to await the result of Saturday's rather dramatic meeting between Purdue and Notre Dame, since the latter can't vary well fire Mr. Anderson in favor of a coach who does not happen to beat him. For another, there is now the chance that they will not fire him at all, but merely return him to the position he once held with honor and some distinction.

In other words, they may name a backfield man as head coach and give the forwards back to Mr. Anderson who not only was an excellent line coach under Rockne but has plenty of friends. I can guarantee both of these statements, especially the latter, having been (a) written to and (b) talked at by all too many of them. The idea of the backfield appointee is the realization that Notre Dame football since Rockne has been founded on an uncertain attack, which was the one thing that Rockne seldom knew.

There are probably only a few thousand ex-backfield men from Notre Dame available, so we won't go into that, except in these cases:

OFFICIAL ECKHARDT SLUG AVERAGE .414

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—(INS)—Official 1933 records of the Pacific Coast league today revealed that Oscar Eckhardt, Mission club outfielder, headed the league batsmen with the healthy average of .414. His teammate, William Walters, was runner-up with an average of .376.

Two Los Angeles pitchers topped the league in games won. Dick Ward was in the top spot with 25 victories and nine defeats. "Buck" Newsom had 30 victories, 11 defeats.

LEAVE RULES ALONE, SHAUGHNESSY PLEA
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(INS)—"Leave the football rules alone for a while."

That was the advice of Clark Shaughnessy, gridiron coach at the University of Chicago today. Shaughnessy said he could see no good reason for the present demand for changes in the rules governing fumbles.

"The best thing to do with the rules is to let them alone long enough for coaches and players to get adjusted to them," he said.

INDIANS READY FOR GAME WITH BURBANK TEAM

FULLERTON, Nov. 9.—Donald C. Cruikshank, Fullerton Union High school mentor, will renew an old feud with Jerry Ogden tomorrow afternoon when he sends his Indians against Burbank on the final football game here this season, as both high school teams and the junior college squads wind up their schedules on the road.

Following his graduation from U. S. C., the present Fullerton mentor coached Eagle Rock high. Burbank, then a member of the San Fernando Valley league, trounced the Cruikshank-coached eleven regularly.

The probable starting line-ups: Fullerton: Line—Johnson, Basabe, Funk, Whitfield, Light, Davidson, Peterson, Kiser, McQuinn. Fullback—Barnes.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves
Thousands of pile sufferers have not yet learned that quick, safe and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.
Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are filled with stagnant blood, weak and flabby. To get rid of pile misery an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the weakened parts.
Dr. J. S. Leonard after years of study found a cure for piles. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and after prescribing it for his patients with a most reliable record of success, decided every pile sufferer might get his prescription at their druggist with a money back guarantee.
Dr. Leonard's remedy is such an effective one that it should help you to quickly trade misery for blessed relief. So why doubt or delay when McGoy's Drug Store says "Get a bottle of HEM-ROID tablets today; take them as directed, then if you are not free from all pile misery, your money back."—A.D.V.

IMPROVEMENTS BOOK REVIEWS IN CITY PARK PRESENTED AS GIVEN PRAISE SECTION MEETS

FULLERTON, Nov. 9.—The improvements of Hillcrest park, which have been developed this summer chiefly by R. F. C. labor, were highly praised yesterday by Fullerton Rotary club when the members met at the Isaac Walton cabin in the park, and had as their guests city councilmen and other officials.

Dr. D. C. Cowles presided. After the meeting, the members and guests took a walk through the park looking at the new developments and hearing of the proposed plans, which are to include the completion of the out-door bowl, with a tunnel leading from the theater, which is being built in the canyon below the lodge, to Harvard avenue, for pedestrians. The summer work includes a change of the picnic grounds to the top of the hill and the making of the territory that lies along Spadra road into beautiful lawn, with a rock wall background, wherein is a fountain, and the crossing of the arroyo that winds through the park, as well as the making of lawns of many other parts of the park.

GIRLS' PLAY DAYS SET FOR NOV. 14, 16

FULLERTON, Nov. 9.—Fullerton union high school girls will be hostesses at the girls' annual basketball play-days. Class teams from nine Orange county high schools compete here November 14 and 16. Miss Florence Randall, girls' athletic coach, announced today.

The junior and senior class teams will play on November 14 and freshmen and sophomores will play on November 16, with matings determined by lot. The first contest will begin at 2 p. m. Refreshments and a social period will follow the games.

ALIBI BLOWS UP: SUSPECT IS CONVICTED

Found guilty of second degree burglary by Superior Judge James L. Allen, Donald W. McEuen will appear in department two Friday morning for pronouncement of judgment.

McEuen waived a jury when he went to trial and depended upon an alibi for his defense. He testified on his own behalf and told the court that at the time he is alleged to have burglarized the Hill home in Newport Beach that he was in fact in Los Angeles helping a man known as Stanley George De Arman, repair his automobile.

McEuen bemoaned the fact that De Arman had left Los Angeles and was in New York. He said that it was possible to get in touch with him De Arman would verify his story.

The prosecution found it not so difficult to get in touch with the man and produced De Arman in court and he testified that at the time the Hill home was burglarized he was in the Los Angeles county jail serving a sentence for burglary. He testified that he started serving his sentence in August and was in jail at the time of the burglary, which was in September.

GOODRICH SHOWS IMPROVED AUTO BATTERY DESIGN

The "Electro-Pak," an automobile storage battery of strikingly distinctive and unique new design, is announced by the B. F. Goodrich Company, tire and rubber manufacturers of Akron, O. Manufactured in sizes for all popular makes of cars, the battery unit is entirely encased in a hard rubber protective cover of modernistic design. This is the first time this type of construction has been used on an American made battery, the manufacturer claims.

With all the formerly exposed metal parts of the battery completely covered, the exclusive new cover protects against dirt, acid fumes, surface moisture and metal drooping across the terminals, thus preventing short circuits and greatly reducing corrosion and power leakage, deadly enemies to battery life.

A list of advantages claimed by the manufacturer for the "Electro-Pak" are: High resistance to corrosion; great reduction of starting power leakage; sturdy construction; better appearance; greater power, longer life; distinctive design; protective cover; hard rubber case of uniform thickness; convenient hand grips.

Moore Brothers Open Radio Shop

Harry (WIFUU) Moore and E. (WUGO) Moore, well known radio men of Santa Ana, have opened a store at 206 West First street and will cater to amateur radio operators in addition to general radio repair work. A line of Patterson radios also will be carried for sale. Both the Moore boys have licenses for amateur transmitting and will specialize in the building of amateur transmitters. It is the only store of its kind in Orange county, according to the Moore boys.

WASHINGTON
By George Durne

SWEETNESS

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace took a few shots as a result of being stuck out front on the hotly controversial sugar quota negotiations.

It will be recalled a quota agreement was reached some days back after months of struggle but was rejected by the administration.

Apparently Wallace was told to down-thump the agreement and give his own reasons.

The real reason was the Cuban quota. This must be agreeable to the Cuban Government. Unfortunately Washington is not at all sure the wobbly Cuban administration is going to stick.

So Wallace announced to the refiners, growers and their associates that the agreement was temporarily out the window because of unsettled conditions in Cuba.

The State Department immediately let out a yell.

ACIDITY

Wallace then back-tracked his line of reasoning and said the benefits of the agreement according to the 42,000 sugar beet farmers in this country would be far offset by lofty sugar prices to millions of other farmers.

Again the heat was turned on—this time from the farm belt. Agriculture's boss was told his figures on the number of beet farmers and prices were all wet.

Wallace finally decided the quotas were rejected for "high reasons of state." The State Department blandly said it didn't know what he was talking about. There the matter rests.

The sniping and back-biting among the sugar men is getting a little bit ludicrous.

Two factions have been at each other's throats ever since the negotiations began last spring. They've leveled charge and counter-charge against each other—some of which have broken into print.

Others have gone so far on the wrong side of the label border that no newspaper would dare print them.

HO-HUM

So far the hopeless job of getting the industry together has passed through four hands.

Each side has succeeded in knocking at least one AAA arbitrator out of the job.

Now the refiners are muttering that one of their chief opponents has been setting advance inside information and speculating in the sugar market. The accused is passing the word around that he is very close to the administration, that the charges are not true and their publication would be embarrassing to certain very high officials.

DUTIES

Manufacturers and importers of cordage and binding twine have raised an interesting question in an interesting way.

Cord twine, along with hundreds of other products, are now importable duty free. Under the terms of the Recovery Act the President is bound to protect American code adherents from foreign competition by lifting tariffs clear up to complete embargo.

Can the President take an article off the free list and tax it or bar it? The question is important because so many things are on the free list.

Representatives of Cuban, Mexican and British Colonial binding twine put the matter on a much loftier plane.

They don't think of themselves at all.

"How about the millions of down-trodden farmers forced to pay ever so much more for their binding twine?" is the tenor of their demand.

The multitudinous code hearings staged all over Washington are watched closely by the diplomatic corps.

Paul May, the Belgian Ambassador, personally attended a hearing on plate glass the other day, that product being a very important manufacture in Belgium.

GUNNERY

Gus Gennerich, personal body guard to President Roosevelt and a former lieutenant of New York police, has very definite ideas on crime suppression.

First he would use guerilla methods in fighting guerrillas. "Don't give them any more of a chance than they give the people they spray with machine guns."

He reasons the war on kidnappers, racketeers and other hoodlums is just as much a war as was the late unpleasantness in France.

The Roosevelt aide would form a picked force of 500 men into the "United States Police" with broad powers which know no state lines. Trial of the mobsters inadvertently brought in alive would be by court martial. Penalties up to the firing squad would be invoked immediately on establishment of guilt.

Gus further would make possession of a gun a capital offense. He would not even permit police to own their own weapons. All firearms in circulation would be subject to instant check.

Hunters would call at armories in season for their shotguns, sign for them and return them when the hunting was over.

REBUFF

Senator McKellar of Tennessee apparently has lost himself a constituent.

The Senator recently has been advocating Russian recognition and repeal of the immigration laws, according to this aggrieved gentleman. Taking issue with the view the constituent wrote McKellar a letter of protest.

He got a reply from D. W. McKellar, Secretary (brother Don) stating the letter would NOT be shown to the Senator.

NOTES

Senator Bob Wagner of New York, chairman of the National Labor Board, has had some tall orders in his career but recently he got one that took his breath away. . . . A Pennsylvania lady, writing in a cultured hand, requested "Please send me complete information on capital and labor." . . . Barney Baruch addressed officer students at the Army War College the other day. . . . He does it once a year. . . . Having been head of the War Industries Board he lectures the Army officers on pooling patents, price-fixing, purchasing, etc., in time of war.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

MANNA

The Swope plan for handing industry back to itself was a back-door move to bolster NRA. The opposition has been feeding on red meat lately and something had to be done to head off wholesale rebellion at an awkward time.

The chief complaint from the business moguls has been that they no longer have authority to manage their own affairs. What could be sweeter than to imply that some day they will get that authority back? Many a time a tasty dish of hope has killed off an appetite for insurgency.

The odd thing is that when the Swope plan was first broached two years ago it aroused no enthusiasm whatever. Now it looks like manna to starving individualists in comparison to the profit famine they think the government has inflicted on them. Many of its present adherents believe it could be jettisoned when once adopted and the government was out of the picture.

VETO

Even if the Swope plan were adopted it wouldn't get as far away from NRA principles as most people think. The government would still have representatives—though with only a veto power—sitting in on industrial conclaves. Offhand it seems that the government would thereby yield most of its authority. But the joker is that the plan presupposes the adoption of NRA codes by industry. Therefore the veto power would be enough to prevent changes in code hours or wages or other conditions. The individualists couldn't get too rugged under that restriction.

BALLOONS

Local insiders say the significant angle to the Swope plan presentation was General Johnson's two reactions to it a day apart. They say it certainly saves time to send up two trial balloons at once instead of spacing them out. Public reactions will be closely watched and New York believes that Washington's course will be shaped by public sentiment. There is practically no chance that NRA principles will be sharply modified even though the NRA itself goes into the discard.

EASING

Meanwhile the drive to give employers a better break has one foot well inside the Blue Eagle's door. The local compliance board has already approved several applications to lengthen working hours and is considering "granting relief" to several concerns which insist that higher wages are too great a burden.

You can write it in the book that the gain of even an inch will be pushed as a precedent. The old-timers still nurse hopes of converting a rear-guard action into a counter-attack.

TRADE

Local retailers wish November would do its stuff and get cold. The mild weather has been a decided brake on the wheels of progress. Dollar sales are running somewhat lower than a year ago and physical volume much lower. The retailers haven't had the nerve to try price reductions in the face of rising costs but they've talked it over and may be driven to it.

MOTORS

The automobile makers will try to recapture the declining popular urge to buy by bringing out new models much earlier than usual. The tool and die-makers' strike is being cleared up with that goal in view. They're not sure it will work but they'll try anything. This should make happy news for the steel companies—and they need it.

REGULATION

Wall Street hears that one of the moves to regulate the Stock Exchange will take the form of naming government representatives to sit on the Exchange Board of Governors with power to compel immediate action in cases of funny business. The Exchange would like this as well as the Chinese like Japanese military governors.

Whether this move would do any good depends entirely on the caliber of men to be selected. A

ABSTAINERS

The New York banks have become teetotalers so far as the Stock Market is concerned. They just aren't having any part of any speculative activity. This helps to account for the extreme thinness of the market in recent weeks. Normally bankers like their little swig of speculative stimulant as well as any body. But they can see no percentage in it with the Senate investigation just getting into stride.

PORTO RICO

A Porto Rican ghost may rise to haunt our delegation's efforts at the Montevideo Pan-American conference. The intense dislike of a powerful minority for Governor

Gore will be translated into subtle propaganda among the Latin nations against Uncle Sam the oppressor. New Yorkers say the Gore appointment may do plenty of damage that we haven't heard about yet.

SILENCE

The Royal Bank of Canada could give the rest of the world a lesson on going into the silences. It has enormous stakes in Cuba which have suffered as much as ours but it hasn't uttered a peep.

SIDELIGHTS

Governor Lehman's illness was more uncomfortable than serious. . . . An exceptionally large number of inquiries as to the secrecy of voting machines was rated a good omen for Fusion. . . . Park & Tilford's full-page future delivery liquor ad drew orders running into seven figures (not counting the decimals).

J. C. PAPER TO PUT OUT ALUMNI EDITION

A special alumni edition of El Don, weekly publication of the Santa Ana Junior college, to be published December 6 was announced today by James Torrens, editor.

John Dunlap, president of the Junior College Alumni association, is co-operating with Torrens and has promised to have letters from former students who are now prominent at other schools.

Torrens said that this edition will carry several special alumni features besides the letters from former students, and will be eight pages instead of the regular four. The following week, December 13, the annual Christmas edition of the college paper will be issued. While not as pretentious as in former years because of the preceding special edition, Torrens has promised a unique departure from usual school papers.

ALIBI BLOWS UP; SUSPECT IS CONVICTED

Found guilty of second degree burglary by Superior Judge James L. Allen, Donald W. McEuen will appear in department two Friday morning for pronouncement of judgment.

McEuen waived a jury when he went to trial and depended upon an alibi for his defense. He testified on his own behalf and told the court that at the time he is alleged to have burglarized the Hill home in Newport Beach that he was in fact in Los Angeles helping a man known as Stanley George De Arman, repair his automobile.

McEuen bemoaned the fact that De Arman had left Los Angeles and was in New York. He said that were it possible to get in touch with him De Arman would verify his story.

The prosecution found it not so difficult to get in touch with the man and produced De Arman in court and he testified that at the time the Hill home was burglarized he was in the Los Angeles county jail serving a sentence for burglary. He testified that he started serving his sentence in August and was in jail at the time of the burglary, which was in September.

GOODRICH SHOWS IMPROVED AUTO BATTERY DESIGN

The "Electro-Pak," an automobile storage battery of strikingly distinctive and unique new design, is announced by the B. F. Goodrich Company, tire and rubber manufacturers of Akron, O.

Manufactured in sizes for all popular makes of cars, the battery unit is entirely encased in a hard rubber protective cover of modern design. This is the first time this type of construction has been used on an American made battery, the manufacturer claims.

With all the formerly exposed metal parts of the battery completely covered, the exclusive new cover protects against dirt, acid fumes, surface moisture and metal droppings across the terminals, thus preventing short circuits and greatly reducing corrosion and power leakage, deadly enemies to battery life.

A list of advantages claimed by the manufacturer for the "Electro-Pak" are: High resistance to corrosion and power leakage; sturdy construction; better appearance; greater power, longer life; distinctive design; protective cover; hard rubber case of uniform thickness; convenient hand grips.

Moore Brothers Open Radio Shop

Harry (WIFU) Moore and E. (WJGO) Moore, well known radio men of Santa Ana, have opened a store at 206 West First street and will cater to amateur radio operators in addition to general radio repair work. A line of Patterson radios also will be carried for sale. Both the Moore boys have licenses for amateur transmitting and will specialize in the building of amateur transmitters. It is the only store of its kind in Orange county, according to the Moore boys.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durne

SWEETNESS

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace took a few shots as a result of being stuck out front on the hotly controversial sugar quota negotiations.

It will be recalled a quota agreement was reached some days back after months of struggle but was rejected by the administration.

Apparently Wallace was told to down-thump the agreement and give his own reasons.

The real reason was the Cuban quota. This must be agreeable to the Cuban Government. Unfortunately Washington is not at all sure the wobbly Cuban administration is going to stick.

So Wallace announced to the refiners, growers and their associates that the agreement was temporarily out the window because of unsettled conditions in Cuba.

The State Department immediately let out a yell.

ACIDITY

Wallace then back-tracked his line of reasoning and said the benefits of the agreement according to the 42,000 sugar beet farmers in this country would be far offset by lofty sugar prices to millions of other farmers.

Again the heat was turned on—this time from the farm belt. Agriculture's boss was told his figures on the number of beet farmers and prices were all wet.

Wallace finally decided the quotas were rejected for "high reasons of state." The State Department blandly said it didn't know what he was talking about. There the matter rests.

The sniping and back-biting among the sugar men is getting a little bit ludicrous.

Two factions have been at each other's throats ever since the negotiations began last spring. They've leveled charge and counter-charge against each other—some of which have broken into print.

Others have gone so far on the wrong side of the libel border that no newspaper would dare print them.

HO-HUM

So far the hopeless job of getting the industry together has passed through four hands.

Each side has succeeded in knocking at least one AAA arbitrator out of the job.

Now the refiners are muttering that one of their chief opponents has been getting advance inside information and speculating in the sugar market. The accused is passing the word around that he is very close to the administration, that the charges are not true and their publication would be embarrassing to certain very high officials.

DUTIES

Manufacturers and importers of cordage and binding twine have raised an interesting question in an interesting way.

Cord twine, along with hundreds of other products, are now imperable duty free. Under the terms of the Recovery Act the President is bound to protect American code adherents from foreign competition by lifting tariffs clear up to complete embargo.

Can the President take an article off the free list and tax it or bar it? The question is important because so many things are on the free list.

Representatives of Cuban, Mexican and British Colonial binding twine put the matter on a much loftier plane.

They don't think of themselves at all. "How about the millions of down-trodden farmers forced to pay ever so much more for their binding twine?" is the tenor of their demand.

The multitudinous code hearings staged all over Washington are watched closely by the diplomatic corps.

Paul May, the Belgian Ambassador, personally attended a hearing on plate glass the other day, that product being a very important manufacture in Belgium.

GUNNERY

Gus Gennrich, personal body guard to President Roosevelt and a former lieutenant of New York police, has very definite ideas on crime suppression.

First he would use guerilla methods in fighting guerillas. "Don't give them any more of a chance than they give the people they spray with machine guns."

He reasons the war on kidnappers, racketeers and other hoodlums is just as much a war as was the late unpleasantness in France.

The Roosevelt aide would form a picked force of 500 men into the "United States Police" with broad powers which know no state line. Trial of the mobsters inadvertently brought in alive would be by court martial. Penalties up to the firing squad would be invoked immediately on establishment of guilt.

Gus further would make possession of a gun a capital offense. He would not even permit police to own their own weapons. All firearms in circulation would be subject to instant check.

Hunters would call at armories in season for their shotguns, sign for them and return them when the hunting was over.

REBUFF

Senator McKellar of Tennessee apparently has lost himself a constituent.

The Senator recently has been advocating Russian recognition and repeal of the immigration laws, according to this aggrieved gentleman. Taking issue with these views the constituent wrote McKellar a letter of protest.

He got a reply from D. W. McKellar, Secretary (brother Don) stating the letter would NOT be shown to the Senator.

NOTES

Senator Bob Wagner of New York, chairman of the National Labor Board, has had some tall orders in his career but recently he got one that took his breath away. . . . A Pennsylvania lady, writing in a cultured hand, requested "Please send me complete information on capital and labor." . . . Barney Baruch addressed officer students at the Army War College the other day. . . . He does it once a year. . . . Having been head of the War Industries Board he lectures the Army officers on pooling patents, price-fixing, purchasing, etc., in time of war.

NEW YORK

MANNA

The Swope plan for handing industry back to itself was a back-door move to bolster NRA. The opposition has been feeding on red meat lately and something had to be done to head off wholesale rebellion at an awkward time.

The chief complaint from the business moguls has been that they no longer have authority to manage their own affairs. What could be sweeter than to imply that some day they will get that authority back? Many a time a tasty dish of hope has killed off an appetite for insurgency.

The odd thing is that when the Swope plan was first broached two years ago it aroused no enthusiasm whatever. Now it looks like manna to starving individualists in comparison to the profit famine they think the government has inflicted on them. Many of its present adherents believe it could be jettisoned when once adopted and the government was out of the picture.

VETO

Even if the Swope plan were adopted it wouldn't get as far away from NRA principles as most people think. The government would still have representatives—though with only a veto power—sitting in on industrial conclaves. Offhand it seems that the government would thereby yield most of its authority. But the joker is that the plan presupposes the adoption of NRA codes by industry. Therefore the veto power would be enough to prevent changes in code hours or wages or other conditions. The individualists couldn't get too rugged under that restriction.

BALLOONS

Local insiders say the significant angle to the Swope plan presentation was General Johnson's two reactions to it a day apart. They say it certainly saves time to send up two trial balloons at once instead of spacing them out. Public reactions will be closely watched and New York believes that Washington's course will be shaped by public sentiment. There is practically no chance that NRA principles will be sharply modified even though the NRA itself goes into the discard.

EASING

Meanwhile the drive to give employers a better break has one foot well inside the Blue Eagle's door. The local compliance board has already approved several applications to lengthen working hours and is considering "granting relief" to several concerns which insist that higher wages are too great a burden.

You can write it in the book that the gain of even an inch will be pushed as a precedent. The old-timers still nurse hopes of converting a rear-guard action into a counter-attack.

TRADE

Local retailers wish November would do its stuff and get cold. The mild weather has been a decided brake on the wheels of progress. Dollar sales are running somewhat lower than a year ago and physical volume much lower. The retailers haven't had the nerve to try price reductions in the face of rising costs but they've talked it over and may be driven to it.

MOTORS

The automobile makers will try to recapture the declining popular urge to buy by bringing out new models much earlier than usual. The tool and die-makers' strike is being cleared up with that goal in view. They're not sure it will work but they'll try anything. This should make happy news for the steel companies—and they need it.

REGULATION

Wall Street hears that one of the moves to regulate the Stock Exchange will take the form of naming government representatives to sit on the Exchange Board of Governors with power to compel immediate action in cases of funny business. The Exchange would like this as well as the Chinese like Japanese military governors.

Whether this move would do any good depends entirely on the caliber of men to be selected.

ABSTAINERS

The New York banks have become testotallers so far as the Stock Market is concerned. They just aren't having any part of any speculative activity. This helps to account for the extreme thinness of the market in recent weeks. Normally bankers like their little swig of speculative stimulant as well as any body. But they can see no percentage in it with the Senate investigation just getting into stride.

PORTO RICO

A Porto Rican ghost may rise to haunt our delegation's efforts at the Montevideo Pan-American conference. The intense dislike of a powerful minority for Governor

Gore will be translated into subtle propaganda among the Latin nations against Uncle Sam the oppressor. New Yorkers say the Gore appointment may do plenty of damage that we haven't heard about yet.

SILENCE

The Royal Bank of Canada could give the rest of the world a lesson on going into the silences. It has enormous stakes in Cuba which have suffered as much as ours but it hasn't uttered a peep.

SIDELIGHTS

Governor Lehman's illness was more uncomfortable than serious. . . . An exceptionally large number of inquiries as to the secrecy of voting machines was rated a good omen for Fusion. . . . Park & Tilford's full-page future delivery liquor ad drew orders running into seven figures (not counting the decimals).

J. C. PAPER TO PUT OUT ALUMNI EDITION

A special alumni edition of El Don, weekly publication of the Santa Ana junior college, to be published December 6 was announced today by James Torrens, editor.

John Dunlap, president of the Junior College Alumni association, is co-operating with Torrens and has promised to have letters from former students who are now prominent at other schools.

Torrens said that this edition will carry several special alumni features besides the letters from former students, and will be eight pages instead of the regular four. The following week, December 13, the annual Christmas edition of the college paper will be issued. While not as pretentious as in former years because of the preceding special edition, Torrens has promised a unique departure from usual school papers.

8 BANDS, BUGLE CORPS TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Eight bands and bugle corps will be entered in the 15th annual Orange county Armistice Day parade Saturday, according to R. C. Steele, Armistice committee chairman.

The organizations obtained include the Santa Ana Drum and Bugle corps, Huntington Beach Municipal band, Anaheim Drum and Bugle corps, Santa Ana Municipal band, St. Joseph's academy band, Anaheim, Sherman Indian band, Long Beach Elks band, Fullerton band and Spanish-American Drum and Bugle corps.

Under the supervision of Claude Potter, county council commander and member of the Orange post, a reviewing stand is being erected on a vacant lot at the corner of Chapman avenue and Grand street.

The reviewing stand will seat 250 persons, including parade judges, county officials, city officials and Gold Star mothers.

W. O. Hart, post commander of the Orange Legion post, will serve as grand marshal, riding a Palomino stallion. He will be assisted by Sheriff Logan Jackson, Sam Jernigan and J. E. Seale, Seale, who lives in Fullerton, will be in charge of the horse division.

An entry is to be sponsored by the Santa Ana 20-30 club, with Miss Laura Anderson and Johnny Powers serving as Governor and Mrs. Pico.

The county-wide Armistice celebration will include a football game in the afternoon and a dance in the evening.

FOOTBALL FROLIC TO RAISE ROCKNE FUND

Staged to raise money for the Rockne Memorial fund, an Armistice Day Football Frolic will be held Friday and Saturday night starting at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today, in the Ambassador auditorium, West Eighth at Federal streets, Los Angeles.

The frolic will be featured by dancing, vaudeville, football festivities, appearance of screen stars, stunts by the American Legion, music and other diversions.

This Market Will Close From 10:30 to 12:30 Sat. Nov. 11th

Due to these closing hours, all of the Special Values offered for Saturday shoppers will be in effect at Noon Friday, Nov. 10th.

Addition Is Principle Of Better Life

Urging the use of the principle of addition to cleanse the "tainted waters" of social and personal life, the Rev. Albert Kelly was the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Orange County Breakfast club this morning in James' cafe.

Introduced by the Rev. Harry Egan O'wings, program chairman of the day, the speaker pointed out that such social taints as liquor usage and others may be better controlled by application of the principle of addition; by the addition of higher ideals for the inner control of man, a thing he said might have been done long ago. He told several stories to show how tainted waters had been cleansed by the addition of the proper elements.

Guy Gilbert, chairman of a special committee appointed, announced that the Breakfast club plans to purchase glasses for all children in Orange county whose eyes are defective, and whose parents are unable to purchase the glasses. About 25 pairs of glasses will be purchased for Santa Ana school children, he said, as an investigation revealed that this number would cover all the needy cases in the city. It is not yet known how many pairs will be purchased in the entire county. Parents who desire can repay the club for the cost of the glasses, which will be low, Gilbert reported.

T. Gray Johnson told club members and guests of the vocational training work being carried on by the Vocational Rehabilitation Bureau of the state in training persons over 16 years of age who are permanently disabled for work. A representative of the bureau calls in Santa Ana every week to check needs and further the program, he said. The federal government pays half the cost and the state pays the other half of the expenses, he declared.

Dr. C. D. Ball introduced Col. Harry Mathews, pioneer resident of Santa Ana and member of old Company L, California National Guards, who spoke briefly on the history of Orange county and of his experiences in France during the war. He paid tribute to the old pioneer families of the county who aided in building up the cities of the county, predicting that it would not be long before all cities in the county would be united into one city.

Musical portion of the program today was furnished by J. Leslie Steffensen Jr., who sang two solos, accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon, club pianist.

E. L. Lucas, manager of Montgomery-Ward and Company store here, was introduced as a guest of Jerry Hall.

PLAN TO AID BOYS SPREADS OVER COUNTY

A move launched in Santa Ana by service clubs in an effort to rehabilitate the characters of boys who appear in juvenile court on various charges has spread over the entire county, it was learned today.

The idea, which had its origin with a plea for aid from a mother to W. H. Spurgeon Jr., Santa Ana civic leader, to aid her boy who was faced with a serious charge in juvenile court, is for members of service clubs to act as "big brothers" to boys who get into trouble.

The plan is now actually in operation and a number of boys have been paroled to business men of Santa Ana, who, with the boys' mothers, are responsible for their behavior.

The idea met with instantaneous support when presented to the various service clubs of the city and a committee of boys committees of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs has been organized to direct the program.

W. H. Spurgeon, Rotary club heads the committee. Other members from the Rotary club are J. B. Tucker, O. Scott McFarland and D. K. Hammond. Kiwanis representatives are E. T. Mateer, Rolla Hays, O. A. Haley and Dr. John Wehrly sr., while Lions club members are Judge Kenneth E. Morrison and W. K. Hillyard. An executive committee comprised of Spurgeon, Mateer and Morrison will actually direct the work for the larger group.

The executive committee will keep in touch with boys who appear before Judge H. G. Ames in juvenile court, Judge Ames, who has shown an intense interest in the work, will obtain the history of the boy and each case and turn over the information to the committee.

The name of some business man in the city will be turned in to act as a "big brother" to the delinquent youth and in this manner it is expected that a great good can be accomplished for the boy in trouble.

Practically every member of service clubs in the city have volunteered to aid in the work, and since the inception of the plan Judge Ames had made talks in several cities of the county, with the result that similar programs are being put into effect in other communities.

Explaining the reasons for the formation of the boys work committee, Spurgeon pointed out the bad effect on the mental attitude of boys, who find more opportunity for getting into more trouble with their more leisure time and dissension in the home. He pointed out that nearly all boys are good at heart, and are led astray in nearly every case by an older and criminal youth or man. It has been proven, he said, that many careers of crime could have been avoided had some man whom the boy could respect taken an interest in the boy and kept in touch with him.

The movement here started about the time a gang of boys, from nine to 15 years old, were arrested after having been found to have been perpetrating burglaries, robberies and other crimes. The age of youth in criminal activities is lower than it used to be, it was stated, and the reformation plan in effect now is expected to prove of great assistance in lowering the number of delinquent youth cases in the county.

How Political-minded Cuba Makes Its Feelings Known

The temper of restless Cuba, with thousands of the populace ready on short notice to mass in political demonstrations, is vividly illustrated in this photograph taken before the national capitol in Havana. Jamming the street from sidewalk to sidewalk, a throng of 100,000 assembled to protest a government edict barring physicians from practice unless they belong to the Medical Federation.

22,947 RATS KILLED IN COUNTY WAR ON RODENTS

Reporting on the rat extermination campaign that has been conducted in Santa Ana and Orange county, Dr. K. L. Sutherland, county health officer, has informed the supervisors that 22,947 rodents have been exterminated since August 28, when the campaign started.

Dr. Sutherland said that 11,112 rats had been either trapped or poisoned in the rest of the county since August 28, while in Santa Ana 11,835 rats had been exterminated. In the city of Santa Ana 6605 rats were killed in traps and 5230 were poisoned. In the rest of the county there were 8397 of the pests killed in traps and 2720 poisoned.

All the rodents were dissected and examined for bubonic plague. According to Dr. Sutherland every one of the rats so examined was free of the dread disease germ.

The extermination campaign up to October 28, cost the county $1,688.84 for supervision, mileage and supplies, or a fraction over seven cents per rat. The men employed in the actual work of spreading the poison and setting traps were paid for through R. F. C. funds.

Charges Husband Jailed 10 Times On Liquor Counts

Accusing him of extreme cruelty and reciting threats to poison her, Mrs. Mary Gillis has filed suit for divorce in superior court from her husband, Charles Gillis. She is also asking the court to award her all community property and a fair amount monthly for her support.

They were married in Los Angeles July 27, 1920, and separated October 10, last, when Gillis is alleged to have cursed her and ordered her to leave the house.

In her complaint Mrs. Gillis alleges that from 1927 to 1930 her husband was arrested no fewer than 10 times and convicted of violations of the Wright act. In 1930, she charges, he was confined in the county jail under sentence to serve two years.

S. A. ONE OF 12 COAST CITIES SHOWING GAIN

Santa Ana was included among the 12 cities on the Pacific Coast which recorded gains in building permits in October over the preceding month, according to a report received today from the Western Monthly Building Survey.

Permits issued in this city for October were $31,787 as compared with $30,081 the preceding month and $12,985 for October last year.

Los Angeles retained its lead among Pacific coast cities and San Francisco again was replaced by Long Beach as the second ranking city.

An increase of 16 per cent in building permits from 83 Pacific coast cities is shown in the report for October of this year compared with the same month last year.

These 83 Pacific coast cities reported total building permits of $6,064,217 in October, 1933, compared with $5,106,990 in October, 1932. The report indicated that the 25 cities on the Pacific coast reporting largest volume of building permits had a total of $4,457,314 which was a 27 per cent increase over $4,976,613 shown in the preceding month, and a 32 per cent gain over the $3,707,323 reported by the same 25 cities in October, 1932.

8 BANDS, BUGLE CORPS TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Eight bands and bugle corps will be entered in the 15th annual Orange county Armistice Day parade Saturday, according to R. C. Steele, Armistice committee chairman.

The organizations obtained include the Santa Ana Drum and Bugle corps, Huntington Beach Municipal band, Anaheim Drum and Bugle corps, Santa Ana Municipal band, Anaheim Sherman band, Long Beach Elks band, Fullerton band, Anaheim High School band and Spanish American Drum and Bugle corps.

Under the supervision of Claude Potter, county council commander and member of the Orange post, a reviewing stand is being erected on a vacant lot at the corner of Chapman avenue and Grand street.

The reviewing stand will seat 250 persons, including parade judges, county officials, city officials and Gold Star mothers.

W. O. Hart, past commander of the Orange Legion post, will serve as grand marshal, riding a Palomino stallion. He will be assisted by Sheriff Logan Jackson, Sam Jernigan and J. E. Seale, Seale, who lives in Fullerton, will be in charge of the horse division.

An entry is to be sponsored by the Santa Ana 20-30 club, with Miss Laura Anderson and Johnny Powers serving as Governor and Mrs. Pico.

The county-wide Armistice celebration will include a football game in the afternoon and a dance in the evening.

FOOTBALL FROLIC TO RAISE ROCKNE FUND

Staged to raise money for the Rockne Memorial fund, an Armistice Day Football Frolic will be held Friday and Saturday night starting at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today, in the Ambassador auditorium, West Eighth at Federal streets, Los Angeles.

The frolic will be featured by dancing, vaudeville, football festivities, appearance of screen stars, stunts by the American Legion, music and other diversions.

This Market Will Close From 10:30 to 12:30 Sat. Nov. 11th

Due to these closing hours, all of the Special Values offered for Saturday shoppers will be in effect at Noon Friday, Nov. 10th.

Addition Is Principle Of Better Life

Urging the use of the principle of addition to cleanse the "tainted waters" of social and personal life, the Rev. Albert Kelly was the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Orange County Breakfast club this morning in James' cafe.

Introduced by the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, program chairman of the day, the speaker pointed out that such social taints as liquor usage and others may be better controlled by application of the principle of addition; by the addition of higher ideals for the inner control of man, a thing he said might have been done long ago. He told several stories to show how tainted waters had been cleansed by the addition of the proper elements.

Clay Gilbert, chairman of a special committee appointed, announced that the Breakfast club plans to purchase glasses for all children in Orange county whose eyes are defective and whose parents are unable to purchase the glasses. About 25 pairs of glasses will be purchased for Santa Ana school children, he said, as an investigation revealed that this number would cover all the needy cases in the city. It is not yet known how many pairs will be purchased in the entire county.

Parents who desire can repay the club for the cost of the glasses, which will be low, Gilbert reported. T. Gray Johnson told club members and guests of the vocational training work being carried on by the Vocational Rehabilitation Bureau of the state in training persons over 16 years of age who are permanently disabled for work.

A representative of the bureau calls in Santa Ana every week to check needs and further the program, he said. The federal government pays half the cost and the state pays the other half of the expenses, he declared.

Dr. C. D. Ball introduced Col. Harry Mathews, pioneer resident of Santa Ana and member of old Company L, California National Guards, who spoke briefly on the history of Orange county and of his experiences in France during the war. He paid tribute to the old pioneer families of the county who aided in building up the cities of the county, predicting that it would not be long before all cities in the county would be united into one city.

Musical portion of the program today was furnished by J. Leslie Steffensen Jr., who sang two songs, accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon, club pianist.

E. L. Lucas, manager of Montgomery-Ward and Company store here, was introduced as a guest of Jerry Hall.

PLAN TO AID BOYS SPREADS OVER COUNTY

A move launched in Santa Ana by service clubs in an effort to rehabilitate the characters of boys who appear in juvenile court on various charges has spread over the entire county, it was learned today.

The idea, which had its origin with a plea for aid from a mother to W. H. Spurgeon Jr., Santa Ana civic leader, to aid her boy who was faced with a serious charge in juvenile court, is for members of service clubs to act as "big brothers" to boys who get into trouble.

The plan is now actually in operation and a number of boys have been paroled to business men of Santa Ana, who, with the boys' mothers, are responsible for their behavior.

The idea met with instantaneous support when presented to the various service clubs of the city and a committee of boys' committee of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs has been organized to direct the program.

W. H. Spurgeon, Rotary club heads the committee. Other members from the Rotary club are J. B. Tucker, O. Scott McFarland and D. K. Hammond. Kiwanis representatives are E. T. Mateer, Rolla Hays, O. A. Haley and Dr. John Wehrly sr., while Lions club members are Judge Kenneth E. Morrison and W. K. Hillyard. An executive committee comprised of Spurgeon, Mateer and Morrison will actually direct the work for the larger group.

The executive committee will keep in touch with boys who appear before Judge H. G. Ames in juvenile court, Judge Ames, who has shown an intense interest in the work, will obtain the history of the boy and make a recommendation to the committee. The name of some business man in the city will be turned in to act as a "big brother" to the delinquent youth and in this manner it is expected that a great good can be accomplished for the boy in trouble.

Practically every member of service clubs in the city have volunteered to aid in the work, and since the inception of the plan Judge Ames had made talks in several cities of the county, with the result that similar programs are being put into effect in other communities.

Explaining the reasons for the formation of the boys work committee, Spurgeon pointed out the bad effect on the mental attitude of boys, who find more opportunity for getting into more trouble with their more leisure time and dissipation in the home. He pointed out that nearly all boys are good at heart, and are led astray in nearly every case by an older and criminal youth or man. It has been proven, he said, that many careers of crime could have been avoided had some man whom the boy could respect taken an interest in the boy and kept in touch with him.

The movement here started about the time a gang of boys, from nine to 15 years old, were arrested after having been found to have been perpetrating burglaries, robberies and other crimes. The age of youth in criminal activities is lower than it used to be, it was stated, and the reformation plan in effect now is expected to prove of great assistance in lowering the number of delinquent youth cases in the county.

How Political-minded Cuba Makes Its Feelings Known

The temper of restless Cuba, with thousands of the populace ready on short notice to mass in political demonstrations, is vividly illustrated in this photograph taken before the national capitol in Havana. Jamming the street from sidewalk to sidewalk, a throng of 100,000 assembled to protest a government edict barring physicians from practice unless they belong to the Medical Federation.

22,947 RATS KILLED IN COUNTY WAR ON RODENTS

Reporting on the rat extermination campaign that has been conducted in Santa Ana and Orange county, Dr. K. L. Sutherland, county health officer, has informed the supervisors that 22,947 rodents have been exterminated since August 28, when the campaign started.

Dr. Sutherland said that 11,112 rats had been either trapped or poisoned in the rest of the county since August 28, while in Santa Ana 11,835 rats had been exterminated. In the city of Santa Ana 6505 rats were killed in traps and 5230 were poisoned. In the rest of the county there were 8397 of the pests killed in traps and 2720 poisoned.

All the rodents were dissected and examined for bubonic plague. According to Dr. Sutherland every one of the rats so examined was free of the dread disease germ.

The extermination campaign up to October 23, cost the county $1688.84 for supervision, mileage and supplies, or a fraction over seven cents per rat. The men employed in the actual work of spreading the poison and setting traps were paid for through R. P. C. funds.

Charges Husband Jailed 10 Times On Liquor Counts

Accusing him of extreme cruelty and reeling threats to poison her, Mrs. Mary Gillis has filed suit for divorce in superior court from her husband, Charles Gillis. She is also asking the court to award her all community property and a fair amount monthly for her support.

They were married in Los Angeles July 27, 1920, and separated October 10, last, when Gillis is alleged to have cursed her and ordered her to leave the house. In her complaint Mrs. Gillis alleges that from 1927 to 1930 her husband was arrested no fewer than 10 times and convicted of violations of the Wright act. In 1930, she charges, he was confined in the county jail under sentence to serve two years.

Santa Ana was included among the 12 cities on the Pacific Coast which recorded gains in building permits in October over the preceding month, according to a report received today from the Western Monthly Building Survey.

Permits issued in this city for October were $31,787 as compared with $30,081 the preceding month and $12,985 for October last year.

Los Angeles retained its lead among Pacific coast cities and San Francisco again was replaced by Long Beach as the second ranking city.

An increase of 16 per cent in building permits from 33 Pacific coast cities is shown in the report for October of this year compared with the same month last year.

These 33 Pacific coast cities reported total building permits of $6,064,217 in October, 1933, compared with $5,105,990 in October, 1932. The report indicated that the 25 cities on the Pacific coast reporting largest volume of building permits had a total of $5,457,314 which was a 27 per cent increase over $4,976,613 shown in the preceding month, and a 32 per cent gain over the $3,707,323 reported by the same 25 cities in October, 1932.

Junior Clubwomen Hear Interesting Review Of Late Play

Reviewing Sidney Howard's successful play, "The Late Christopher Bean" as the November program feature for Junior Ebell clubwomen, Frank Richard Vernon of the Wayside Colony, Long Beach, was highly praised by the society membership for the cleverness of his characterization.

He was introduced on Tuesday night's program in Ebell clubhouse, where a number of General Ebell society members were noted in the audience. The play, dealing almost entirely with character development, was made extremely interesting in review by the capable manner in which the character was developed by Mr. Vernon. Especially entertaining was his portrayal of "Abbie," the role portrayed by Charlotte Greenwood in Hollywood.

Business matters of the society were many and varied, as presented under direction of the president, Miss Mary Sawyer. Mrs. Albert Harvey of the welfare committee, told of the work at the baby clinic at Orange County hospital, and the baby health clinic at the court house, newly established projects of her committee.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. R. C. Harris and her Committee Chest group, the Misses Nan Mead and Lolita Mead, Mrs. Aubrey Gilman and Mrs. Robert Heffner, who had secured $250 in cash and pledges, in the recent campaign.

Mrs. Leland Finley, membership chairman, presented as new members, Mrs. Wendell Finley, Mrs. Kellar Watson Jr., Miss June Arnold, Mrs. H. Raymond Smith, Miss Anne Tarver, Miss Catherine G. Smith, Miss Marian Bruner, Miss Mary Bruner, Miss John Newman, Mrs. Kenneth Coulson, Mrs. C. E. Sienkowsky, Miss Catherine Barr, Mrs. Burt Frederick Zaiser and Mrs. C. Harold Dale. Announcements of events to come included that of a bridge party which Travel section members will hold December 9 in the home of Colonel and Mrs. S. H. Finley, 1633 East Fourth street. Miss Nan Mead told details of the hospital party.

Mrs. Frederick Elliott, chairman for the Harvest ball committee, made the final announcement of plans for that event, to be staged in Ebell clubhouse on Saturday night, November 18.

Beta Sigma Phi Have Two Merry Affairs

Beta Sigma Phi sorority members took part in two events of special enjoyment recently, the latest of which was a costume party held at Orange County Country club.

Dancing and games were enjoyed. Prizes for the most clever costumes were awarded Miss Lynette Robb, Miss Elsie Siemsen, Ray Wise and Henry Stevens. Cider and doughnuts were served.

An earlier affair in which the sorority participated was a backward party made especially enjoyable by the unique appointments for a progressive dinner party. Hostesses were the Misses Juanita Fowler, Orange; Ruth Stephenson, Katherine Spicer and Lucie McDermott, Santa Ana; Lynette Robb, Huntington Beach.

Family Observes Two Birthday Dates at Dinner Party

A happy family celebration of two birthday dates was that held Sunday in the H. F. Christensen home on Holt avenue, when the tenth anniversary of young Lewis Christensen, of Anaheim, occurring on the previous day, November 4, and the seventy-sixth anniversary of his grandfather, H. F. Christensen, an event of Sunday, were observed.

The table where a delicious chicken dinner was served at 5 o'clock, was prettily arranged in pink and white, and with the dessert course appeared two decorated cakes, one with ten glowing candles for Lewis, and the other with its tapers arranged to suggest the 76 years of the host. The cakes were served with ice cream, and as the lights were turned off, the only illumination was that of the birthday candles and those flickering on the dining table.

It was during this interval that Mr. Christensen, seated at the head of the table, was presented with the many gifts brought for him, an assortment of articles with an appeal to a man. The birthday gifts for his grandson, Lewis, already had been presented that young man in his Anaheim home.

During the remainder of the evening, members of this congenial family party played cards informally or reminisced of other equally enjoyable gatherings.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen entertained as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Christensen of Anaheim, and their three children, Velda, Lewis and Christensen of Tustin. Harold Christensen of the home, Mrs. Madeline Robertson of Los Angeles, and her young son and daughter, Billy and Voreen, who make their home with their grandparents; Miss Anne Donohue, C. U. Christensen of Santa Ana, and the latter's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Christensen of Alberta, Can., who is visiting in his home; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland, Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hensen, Costa Mesa.

YOU and your Friends

Complimenting Mrs. W. M. Kelsey of Garden Grove, who spoke yesterday afternoon at a meeting of Tustin Grammar school P. T. A., Mrs. J. D. Campbell entertained in her home in Tustin with a luncheon for the Mayflower club members of the Mayflower club. Mrs. J. D. Campbell was co-hostess with Mrs. Shidler.

It was announced that the next business meeting of the organization will be held January 9, 1934, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Patison, 1705 West Washington avenue, with Mrs. Edward Cochems as co-hostess.

Members sewed during the meeting, and were served refreshments on individual trays at the close of the afternoon. The salad course and all appointments were in keeping with a yellow and brown theme. Flowers used in decorating included yellow, orchid and white chrysanthemums sent by Mrs. William Lawrence and bright-hued zinnias from the gardens of the Shidler home.

Special guests were Mrs. F. W. Sanford of this city and Mrs. R. S. Williamson of Washington. Members present, other than Mrs. Shidler and Mrs. Parkinson were Mesdames A. C. Wiebe, W. R. Ford, A. T. Perkins, R. E. Smith, Edward Cochems, L. A. Gowdy, J. H. Patison, William Lawrence, P. T. Leherwood, W. A. Maryme and J. D. Sanborn.

Mrs. E. S. Tradewell of Antigo, Wis., is here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Humphrey, 1402 North Main street, and with her brother and his family, Arthur Humphrey, Cypress avenue. She came by bus, stopping at Chicago to visit the Century of Progress exposition, and at St. Louis, Mo., to visit with her daughter, Miss Dorothy Tradewell. Mrs. Tradewell's father, H. C. Humphrey, has been in poor health for some time.

Honeymooners Return From Two Months In Wisconsin

Arrival in this city on Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Straw, completed an interesting honeymoon trip upon which the young people departed shortly after their marriage of Saturday, September 2 in Inglewood.

Traveling by automobile to Green Bay, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Straw spent the autumn months there in the bride's former home where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quatsoe, represent a fine old pioneer family. Mr. and Mrs. Quatsoe and a host of friends, made the autumn very delightful for the newly wedded pair, and many trips to places of interest in Wisconsin and Illinois were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Straw made a party motoring to Chicago together to attend the exposition, and then after another pleasant interval in Green Bay, the Straws started on their return trip to California motoring through the states of the southern route. They will make their home at 1609 North Main street.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Choice of:
1 shredded wheat biscuit with 1 sliced banana and 1-2 cup milk, no sugar, or 2 slices thin toast 1 cup hot milk 1 tsp. brown sugar and 1-2 ripe apple diced over toast 1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar.

How Is Your Cookie Jar?

Empty or full, you'll thank me for bringing you this recipe to your attention again. I published it several weeks ago, but not until today did I have opportunity to test it, and finding the cookies so delicious, I can't resist a second publication. This is one of the contributed recipes in exchange for the Calory List.

Shredded Wheat Cookies
1 cup shortening
2 eggs
1-2 cup sour milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
3 cups flour
6 crushed shredded wheat biscuits.

Cream sugar and shortening, add beaten eggs, milk mixed with soda, the salt and vanilla. Stir hard, then add flour and crushed shredded wheat. Cook as drop cookies. Crisp . . . a crunch like nuts and cocoanut . . . and altogether very satisfactory! Make them up for school lunches.

Macaroni and Lima Bean Casserole
2 cups cooked macaroni
1 cup cooked lima beans
1 cup grated cheese
2 Tbsps. butter

"WHAT GRAND NEWS!"

Universal Star

"This beauty soap I use actually contains precious elements all skin must have to be lovely . . ."

Gloria Stuart has the irresistible appeal of lovely skin—the charm that every woman longs to have—that every woman can have!

For—here's wonderful news. Scientists now tell you: "Skin grows old-looking through the gradual loss of certain elements Nature puts in skin to keep it youthful. Gentle Lux Toilet Soap, so readily soluble, actually contains such precious elements—checks their loss from the skin." No wonder 9 out of 10 screen stars use this fragrant, white soap! Why don't you try it? Begin today.

1-2 tsp. salt
1-2 tsp. grated onion
1-4 tsp. paprika
1-2 cup strained tomato
Bread crumbs for top.
—Contributed Recipe.
One cup of dry macaroni makes two cups of cooked macaroni.

Butter a shallow baking dish and place the macaroni, beans and cheese in layers (cheese scattered over each layer). Melt butter, add flour, stir until it bubbles, add milk and cook into a cream sauce. Season with grated onion, salt and paprika. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes, stir in the strained tomato and pour over the beans and macaroni. Scatter crumbs over top and bake in a medium hot oven 30 minutes.

This is a main dish, requiring nothing more than a crisp raw salad and a fruit dessert, with rolls, muffins or bread for those who want bread.

This will interest mothers who have their children's health at heart. Lima beans combined with milk make a full and perfect protein food for growing children. In this instance, combined with a fine carbohydrate for excess energy needs, the dish is a complete meal for them if a raw apple and milk are added.

Interesting Review
Of Late Play

Reviewing Sidney Howard's successful play, "The Late Christopher Bean" as the November program feature for Junior Clubwomen of the Wayside Colony, Long Beach, was highly praised by the society membership for the cleverness of its characterization.

He was introduced on Tuesday night's program by the clubwomen, where a number of General Clubwomen members were noted in the audience. The play, dealing almost entirely with character development, was made extremely interesting in review by the capable manner in which the characters were developed by Mr. Verner. Especially entertaining was his portrayal of "Abbie," the role portrayed by Charlotte Greenwood in Hollywood.

Business matters of the society were many and varied, as presented under direction of the president, Miss Mary Saffley. Mrs. Albert Harvey of the welfare committee, told of the work at the baby clinic at Orange County hospital, and the baby health clinic at the court house, newly established projects of her committee.

Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. R. C. Harris and her Community Chest group, the Misses Mary Mead and Lolita Mead, Mrs. Audrey Gilman and Mrs. Robert Heffner, who had secured $320 in cash and pledges, in the recent campaign.

Mrs. Leland Finley, membership chairman, presented as new members, Mrs. Wendell Finley, Mrs. Kellar Watson, Jr., Raymond Smith, Arnold, Mrs. Anne Tarver, Miss Catherine G. Smith, Miss Marian Bruner, Miss Mary Bruner, Mrs. John Newman, Mrs. Kenneth Coulson, Mrs. C. E. Siemmons, Miss Catherine Barr, Mrs. Burt Frederick Zaiser and Mrs. C. Harold Dale.

Announcements of events to come included a bridge party which Travel section members will hold December 9 in the home of Colonel and Mrs. S. H. Finley, 1633 East Fourth street. Miss Nan Mead told details of the hospital plan.

Mrs. Frederick Elliott, chairman for the Harvest ball committee, made the final announcement of plans for that event, to be staged in Eboli clubhouse on Saturday night, November 10.

Beta Sigma Phi's Have Two Merry Affairs

Beta Sigma Phi sorority members took part in two events of special enjoyment recently, the latest of which was a costume party held at Orange County Country club.

Dancing and games were enjoyed. Prizes for the most clever costumes were awarded Miss Lynette Robb, Miss Elsie Siemsen, Ray Wise and Henry Stevens. Cider and doughnuts were served.

Backward Party

An earlier affair in which the sorority participated was a backward party made especially enjoyable by the unique appointments for a progressive dinner party. Hostesses were the Misses Juanita Fowler, Orange; Ruth Stephenson, Katherine Spicer and Lucie McDermott, Santa Ana; Lynette Robb, Huntington Beach.

Family Observes Two
Dinner Party

A happy family celebration of two birthday dates was held Sunday in the H. P. Christensen home on Holt avenue, when the tenth anniversary of young Lewis Christensen, of Anaheim, occurring on the previous day, November 8, and the seventy-sixth anniversary of his grandfather, H. P. Christensen, an event of Sunday, were observed.

The table where a delicious chicken dinner was served at 5 o'clock, was prettily arranged in pink and white, and with the dessert course appeared two decorated cakes, one with ten glowing candles for Lewis, and the other with its tapers arranged to suggest the 76 years of the host. The cakes were served with ice cream, and as the lights were turned off, the only illumination was that of the birthday candles and those flickering on the dining table.

It was during this interval that Mr. Christensen, seated at the head of the table, was presented with the many gifts brought for him, an assortment of articles which he opened to a man. The birthday gifts for his grandson, Lewis, already had been presented that young man in his Anaheim home.

During the remainder of the evening, members of this congenial family party played cards informally or reminisced of other equally enjoyable gatherings. Mr. and Mrs. Christensen entertained as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Christensen of Anaheim, and their three children, Velda, Lewis and Evelyn; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Christensen of Tustin, Harold Christensen of the home, Mrs. Madeline Robertson of Los Angeles, and her young son and daughter, Billy and Voreen, who make their home with their grandparents; Miss Anne Donohue, C. U. Christensen of Santa Ana, and the latter's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Christensen of Alberta, Can., who is visiting in his home; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland, Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hensen, Costa Mesa.

Officers were elected Monday night at a meet of Hermosa chapter, O.E.S. held in Masonic temple, with Marion Wallace and W. B. McConnell, worthy matron and worthy patron, presiding.

Those named were Nell Neighbour, worthy patron; Franklin West, worthy patron; Vera Jacoby, associate matron; Cassius E. Reed, associate patron; Elizabeth Bohling, conductress; Elizabeth Lewis, associate conductress; Nell D. Winslow, secretary; Etta D. Sweet, treasurer.

Installation will take place the first meeting in December.

Announcements

Country Club Parties
For November Begin
Tomorrow Night

November social affairs at Santa Ana Country club will start tomorrow night when members will be entertained at bridge by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. S. Niel, Miss Lolita Mead and W. O. Adams. Five prizes will be played for, first and second high scorers among both men and women to be rewarded in addition to the presentation of a special guest prize. The serving of light refreshments will conclude the evening.

On Friday afternoon, November 17, women of the membership will meet for a bridge tea with play to begin at 2 o'clock. Miss Lolita Mead will be one of the hostesses on this occasion also sharing that pleasant responsibility with Mrs. Gene Fenelon. Holders of first and second high score will be rewarded and there will be a guest prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Osman Pixley and Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Drumm will be hosts at the month's informal dance, scheduled for the following Friday night, November 24. Excellent music has been planned for this event, and dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock.

Guest privileges will be extended at each function and a club member may invite one couple to each of the evening parties, and one woman guest to the bridge tea next week.

Phi Sigma Fraternity Plans Thanksgiving Informal Dance

Planning to share one of their enjoyable semi-formal dances with a number of non-fraternity friends, Alpha Alpha and Alpha Nu chapters of Phi Sigma fraternity have issued attractive parchment invitations to their eighth annual Thanksgiving dance.

This function is to be held on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday night, November 29, in Lakewood Country club, Long Beach. The host organizations have secured excellent music for the dancing, which is to begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Mayflower Club Makes Plans For Holiday Party

Devoting part of the afternoon to formation of plans for a Christmas party to be held December 12 at noon in the garden inn, members of the Mayflower club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. V. C. Shidler, 1129 South Garnsey street. Mrs. J. W. Parkinson was co-hostess with Mrs. Shidler.

It was announced that the next business meeting of the organization will be held January 9, 1934, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Patison, 1705 West Washington avenue, with Mrs. Edward Cochems as co-hostess.

Members sewed during the meeting, and were served refreshments on individual trays at the close of the afternoon. The salad course and all appointments were in keeping with a yellow and brown theme. Flowers used in decorating included yellow, orchid and white chrysanthemums sent by Mrs. William Lawrence and bright-hued zinnias from the gardens of the Shidler home.

Special guests were Mrs. F. W. Sanford of this city and Mrs. R. S. Williamson of Washington. Members present, other than Mrs. Shidler and Mrs. Parkinson were Mesdames A. C. Wiebe, W. R. Ford, A. T. Perkins, R. E. Smith, Edward Cochems, L. A. Gowdy, J. H. Patison, William Lawrence, P. T. Leherwood, W. A. Marymee and J. D. Sanborn.

Scouts Take Part In National Observance

Given as the local observance of National Girl Scout week, a program put on recently in Jack Fisher park by Girl Scouts of this city drew a large audience. Colonel M. B. Wellington was speaker, talking on "Scouting."

With the assistance of Frances Was of Troop No. 1, girls of Mrs. R. C. Harris' Troop No. 2 presented a short play exemplifying Scout laws. Girls of Troop No. 3, of which Mrs. Rose Lux is captain, gave readings and a play.

The program included group singing in which all of the Scouts joined, with Miss Charlotte Mook leading. Miss Dorothy Tedford conducted responsive reading, and then read a short prayer which had been written by Dorothy Jane Abbott, a member of Mrs. R. R. Rusick's Troop No. 1. Irene Noble, also of Troop No. 1, played a trumpet solo. Three members of the high school group sang a hymn.

Eighteen members of the Brownie pack, composed of girls between the ages of 7 and 10, appeared in uniform, singing the Brownie song. Miss Urdell Silver is their leader. The program closed with Taps.

Honeymooners Return
From Two Months
In Wisconsin

Arrival in this city on Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Straw, completed an interesting honeymoon trip upon which the young people departed shortly after their marriage of Saturday, September 2 in Ingleswood.

Traveling by automobile to Green Bay, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Straw spent the autumn months there in the bride's former home where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Quatsoe, represent a fine old pioneer family. Mr. and Mrs. Quatsoe and a host of friends, made the autumn very delightful for the newly wedded pair, and many trips to places of interest in Wisconsin and Illinois were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Straw made a party motoring to Chicago together to attend the exposition, and then after another pleasant interval in Green Bay, the Straws started on their return trip to California motoring through the states of the southern route. They will make their home at 1609 North Main street.

How Is Your Cooky Jar?

Empty or full, you'll thank me for bringing you this recipe to your attention again. I published it several weeks ago, but not until today did I have opportunity to test it, and finding the cookies so delicious, I can't resist a second publication. This is one of the contributed recipes in exchange for the Calory List.

Shredded Wheat Cookies

1 cup shortening
1-2 cup sour milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
8 cups flour
6 crushed shredded wheat biscuits.

Cream sugar and shortening, add beaten eggs, milk mixed with soda, the salt and vanilla. Stir hard, then add flour and crushed shredded wheat. Cook as drop cookies.

Crisp . . . a crunch like nuts and coconut . . . and altogether very satisfactory! Make them up for school lunches.

Macaroni and Lima Bean Casserole

2 cups cooked macaroni
1 cup cooked lima beans
1 cup grated cheese
2 Tbsp. butter

"STATE FAIR"

2 cups milk
1-2 tsp. salt
1-2 tsp. grated onion
1-4 tsp. paprika
1-2 cup strained tomato
Bread crumbs for top.
—Contributed Recipe.
One cup of dry macaroni makes two cups of cooked macaroni.

Butter a shallow baking dish and place the macaroni, beans and cheese in layers (cheese scattered over each layer). Melt butter, add flour, stir until it bubbles, add milk and cook into a cream sauce. Season with grated onion, salt and paprika. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes, stir in the strained tomato and pour over the beans and macaroni. Scatter crumbs over top and bake in a medium hot oven 30 minutes.

This is a main dish, requiring nothing more than a crisp salad and a fruit dessert, with rolls, muffins or bread for those who want bread.

This will interest mothers who have their children's health at heart. Lima beans combined with milk make a full and perfect protein food for growing children. In this instance, combined with a fine carbohydrate for excess energy needs, the dish is a complete meal for them if a raw apple and milk are added.

COUNTY GROUPS TAKE PART IN CHURCH SERVICE

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will be the principal speaker at the Christian church tonight, in keeping with the golden anniversary celebration of the founding of the Christian church. He has chosen as his subject, "Golden Opportunities for Christ in Social Relations." The following pastors of the community will take part in the evening's worship: James E. Dunning, H. F. Sheerer, J. A. Shirley, J. S. Sorensen and James C. Fisk.

Last night's service was one of fellowship with the Christian churches of Orange county, with the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the Christian church of Santa Ana, giving the sermon on "Golden Contributions from Christianity in the Past." Contributions as stated by the Rev. Mr. Buchanan included the work of the martyrs for the cause of Christianity, the step made by Robert Roke when he instituted the Sunday school, the missionary projects started in 1912, the founding of Christian Endeavor in 1881 and the work of Thomas Campbell in 1809.

Greetings were brought to the local church by the Rev. George F. Tinsley, pastor of the Fullerton church on behalf of the churches of Orange county. Other pastors taking part in the evening of worship were the Rev. Wesley Runyan, of Brea; the Rev. J. H. Hurst, of Huntington Beach, and the Rev. C. F. Martin, of Santa Ana.

Reserves Work On Prints, Book Ends

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Pewter bracelets, block prints, stencils and book ends are among the numerous articles which are being made by members of the eighth grade Girl Reserves, under the leadership of Miss Lavina Compton, for their Christmas project in handicraft.

Announcement was made at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Girl Reserve room of the high school that the club's baseball team has challenged members of the other Girl Reserve groups for baseball games.

Menonite Church Revival Services Open Next Sunday

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Arrangements have been made for revival meetings to take place in the Menonite church beginning Sunday morning, with the Rev. J. F. Groul, of Everett, Wash., as evangelist.

The Rev. Mr. Groul has been a member of the Menonite church for many years and has had a wide experience in religious work. It is stated. The meetings are to be continued for a period of three weeks.

ARSON RACKET DESCRIBED AT LIONS SESSION

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—That the arson racket is annually costing the public millions of dollars, was the assertion made by Paul Wolfe, chief of the Los Angeles arson bureau, in a talk before the Orange Lions club Wednesday.

Wolfe, whose specially-trained squad investigates all fires in Los Angeles in which arson is suspected, declared that many ingenious devices are used by experienced firebugs seeking to collect insurance.

"Some of the smarter arsonists are using chemicals as a fire-setting device," the speaker said. "These can be timed to go off at any desired time within a year, leaving less clues behind than any other arson method."

The speaker said that 90 percent of the incendiary fires are started by foreign-born citizens. The arson squad is so expertly trained that it can tell the nationality and even the sex of persons setting the fires, Wolfe declared.

Alvin Drumm served as program chairman, with President Earle Phillips presiding over the meeting.

Honor Society Names Officers

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Honor society of the Orange Union High school, with Miss Florence Dierker, president; Miss Alice Compton, vice president; Miss Dorothy Stadel, secretary, and Miss Helen Volberding, publicity chairman.

During a very short business meeting, plans were formulated for a trip to be taken in the near future to U. S. C.

CHINA VISITOR GIVES TALK IN ORANGE CHURCH

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Chinese tapestries, hand-carved wooden vases, panels and pictures served as an appropriate background when Mrs. Charles Hollister spoke on her recent trip to China at the mid-week meeting held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday night. Mrs. Hollister brought the beautiful collection with her on her return a few weeks ago. Of unusual interest was a hand-made pillow cover, embroidered in silk. Also included in the display of Chinese handicraft were many varieties of beautiful wood carvings, and the silk embroidery work for which the Chinese people are noted.

Mrs. Hollister wore a dress made for her while in China in an intricate lace pattern. Over the dress she wore a richly embroidered Chinese robe.

"The Chinese love beauty," stated Mrs. Hollister. "Not only is this portrayed in their art, but also in their homes." She emphasized the attractiveness of the windows in Chinese homes and the neatness of their yards. She stated that while civilization has penetrated into China, many of the ancient customs still are practiced.

"Many women still bind their feet," she said, "and in many of the native churches, the men sit on one side, and the women on the other."

MRS. REBECCA POPE HOSTESS TO CLUB

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Rebecca Pope, was hostess at her home, 222 North Grand street, yesterday afternoon to members of the C. M. P. club. The home reflected the spirit of autumn with the many lovely bouquets of fall flowers grown in the garden of the hostess.

A business meeting preceded an enjoyable afternoon spent in sewing and visiting, during which time Mrs. E. N. Turner offered her home for the annual Christmas party to be held the afternoon of December 13. Each member will bring a can of fruit vegetables, which will be given to a needy family in Orange.

PROGRAM IS PRESENTED WHEN FOOTHILL CENTER CONVENES; STATE WATER PLAN OPPOSED

VILLA PARK, Nov. 9.—Business was relegated to the background at a meeting of the Foothill Farm center last night, when an entertaining program was given by a group of talented young people of the county. At the brief business session, L. A. Bortz, delegate-at-large, advised members to vote "No" on the Central Valley water project which is to come before the people December 12. He said that the water committee had thoroughly investigated this project and had decided against it.

Mrs. L. A. Bortz, of the home department announced that there would be a bread demonstration Friday morning at 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Harold T. Brewer in the Cerro Villa tract. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Brewer or Mrs. Bortz.

More than 150 members and friends were seated at the tables at the pot luck dinner. The song service was led by J. B. Wilbur, with Miss Genevieve Goble at the piano. C. A. Palmer, president of the center, introduced the new officers. Floyd Watson, new vice president, made a short talk. Mr. Mueller, membership chairman, reported 13 new members. Felton B. Brown, newly elected president of the Orange County Farm bureau, was introduced. He announced the state convention to be held in Santa Barbara November 13, 14 and 15.

A special program of music and dancing was featured by the Goble trio and the Collegiate Kids.

JAMES B. UTT TALKS AT 20-30 MEETING

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—James B. Utt, assemblyman from the 74th district was the speaker at the meeting of the Orange 20-30 club at the Sunshine Broomer Wednesday night, when he related happenings at the state capital during a legislative session. Stan Wilson was program chairman.

Tentative plans were made for a dance, the proceeds from which are to go to the Orange Community Welfare board. Plans also were outlined for boys' bicycle races which is to be staged here.

Dr. W. C. Leitchfuss was appointed program for the next meeting.

A. Huscroft, Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss, Mrs. D. E. Strain, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. D. F. Campbell, Mrs. Ed. Windolph, Mrs. L. W. Hemphill, Mrs. Laura Bowen and Mrs. A. B. Lane. Special guests of the afternoon were Miss Sue Rankin and Mrs. Parks.

POST PREPARES FOR ARMISTICE DAY ACTIVITIES

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Otto Rosell, post No. 2835, formerly the Theodore Roosevelt post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has established headquarters for Armistice Day in the Edwards building at the corner of North Glassell street and the plaza. Members of the post are planning to serve food, the proceeds from which is to be used for welfare work carried on by the organization.

From 9:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. on Armistice Day, a radio program will be given at the headquarters over a national hook-up. The national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is to speak, and selections by the U. S. Navy band will be included in the program.

One of the most interesting features at the headquarters is a collection of American World War posters. The posters are those used in war time to promote the sale of Liberty bonds and for other purposes. A poster depicting the Salvation Army's activities in the World War is of interest to war veterans. The collection is the property of F. E. Hallman.

The name of the post was changed recently when it was found that a Theodore Roosevelt post had been formed some years ago in another state. The post was renamed in memory of the

Wally Griggs, of Santa Ana, acted as the master of ceremonies when the program was presented and Genevieve Goble was the accompanist. The following program was given:

LIST SPEAKERS FOR BANQUETS NOVEMBER 16

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Plans are being made by several of the churches in the community for annual father and son banquets, which will be held November 16 in the various churches. As in previous years, the Y. M. C. A. will furnish a "flying squadron" made up of representatives of the various churches, which will put on a short skit and program at each banquet. The squadron is in charge of J. B. Wilbur, "Y" secretary.

The banquet in the Presbyterian church is to be given through the auspices of the board of fellowship, of which Alfred Higgins is chairman. The Rev. Harry E. Owing, pastor of the Santa Ana First Baptist church, will be the principal speaker. An interesting program is being planned under the direction of George Stoner.

The Methodist banquet committee, headed by Harold Gilton, has procured the Rev. Frank Toothaker of Los Angeles, a former missionary to China, as the speaker of the evening. The committee is promoting an exhibition of hobbies. Each father and son is invited to bring anything representing his particular hobby.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, married DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. They keep their marriage secret. Dick opposes Eve's continued employment but she is determined to go to work. On her wedding night Eve is sent to New York to meet FRED CAR-TER, dress buyer. There Eve meets THORON REED who is much attracted by her. She visits IRENE PRENTISS, former schoolmate who is playing the stock market. A week later Eve returns to Lake City to find a new copy writer, MONA ALLEN, at the office. Mona is a trouble-maker. Eve and Dick take an apartment in an old-fashioned house. Eve becomes nervous from worry and Dick takes her on a week-end trip to the little town of Tamkville. In an antique shop there Eve admires several pieces of furniture. Dick says they can not afford them but when Eve leaves she finds the shop owner has sold them for them later.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Christmas fell on Tuesday that year and Eve was overjoyed when Mr. Barnes said that she could have Monday as a holiday and thus be able to spend Christmas with her parents 500 miles away. Bixby's was open until nine o'clock each evening of the week before Christmas and Eve was obliged to spend at least part of every evening at the office. Dick agreed without objection to come down town to have dinner with her those nights.

Saturday, with the last task completed, Eve said goodbye to the others in the office, wished them a Merry Christmas, and left to meet Dick. On their way to the train they posted their marriage announcements to Eve's friends in Lake City. Those for the home folks had been sent a week earlier.

Eve felt a mixture of apprehension and relief after the announcements were mailed. But at least there was nothing to worry about for the present and she boarded the train with a light heart. Tomorrow she would see her parents again and Dick would be with her.

It had snowed heavily overnight and Hank drove carefully. He was proud of his new car and boasted to Dick of the number of years he had driven the old one.

The Bayless home was in an old section of the city on a tree-lined street. "Nice here in the summer," said Hank as he drove into the yard. Dick saw a modest house of the seven-room variety with side porch and a low attic over the kitchen. Eve's mother, rosy and smiling, beamed a welcome from the doorway.

Dick felt the spirit of Christmas for which he had long been homesick. He accompanied his father-in-law to the woodshed and helped him nail together a stand for the Christmas tree. Later he helped Eve trim the tree. He put extra leaves in the dining room table to accommodate the guests and when Eve's sister, Esther, arrived with her husband and child the baby held out her arms to Dick and seemed to prefer him to anyone else. Later, to the child's intense delight, Dick made a snow man.

Eve's grandmother, accompanied by the son with whom she lived, came for dinner. Grandmother Bayless, little, spry, and yet always complaining, enjoyed the day enormously. "I have lived a great many years," she said, "but I declare to goodness no one ever surprised me as much as Eve does. That announcement now coming with a Christmas greeting—'Twas right odd! I thought to myself, 'That's just like Eve! Seems like you picked out a right nice man, though, I know you must have asked him; he doesn't look as though he was bold enough to ask you.'"

After dinner they all gathered in the old parlor and Esther played the piano while the others sang Christmas carols. Then the gifts were distributed. Dick, who had been alone at Christmas for the last 10 years, was amazed at the unselfish generosity displayed. Accustomed to paying his way and expecting favors from no one, he was touched and pleased to see how he was accepted and included in the group as one of the family. Grandmother Bayless, in particular, amused him. She brought Eve a handsome quilt of intricate "log cabin" design which she had made herself and then grumbled when she saw the exquisitely colored

"H-m!" Grandmother declared. "Now I know why Kate was so overlastingly busy dyeing and sewing all those rags that she couldn't even take time to visit with a person!"

Dick surprised Eve with his gift—a beautifully designed dinner ring set with diamonds. "We were engaged and married all in one breath," Eve explained to her mother, "and I asked to have only the wedding ring."

That evening the whole family bundled into heavy wraps and rode out to "Cousin Myrtle's" in Beachwood. There, in a modern suburb, Cousin Myrtle and her family lived in a house of Normandy type. There was a tower with a winding, wrought iron stair and casement windows. Through diamond-shaped panes of glass the lights of an outdoor Christmas tree twinkled. The beautifully furnished home had not been built by wealth but rather by years of hard work combined with thrift and careful planning.

Dick felt himself attracted to all of Eve's relatives who seemed so friendly and merry. The next morning he built a crate to hold their gifts. "It's such fun," the cousins had declared, "to celebrate Christmas and a marriage at the same time." There were shell pink dishes, an onyx base lamp and a portable radio. There were exquisite silver pieces and an electric waffle iron.

her and what new complications she would have to face.

Would Barnes be nice about it or would he be afraid her work would reflect a divided interest? How would the girls take the news? Marya would be sweet, she knew. But Mona Allen?

Eve's trepidation increased later when she entered the store. Mr. Barnes had given her permission to arrive late, inasmuch as he had train did not reach Lake City until 10 o'clock. A throng of after-the-holiday shoppers already was engaging the attention of the clerks, but Eve felt all eyes focused on herself. She nodded to several acquaintances as she hurried along toward the elevator. Her knees were weak by the time she entered the advertising office.

COUNTY GROUPS TAKE PART IN CHURCH SERVICE

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will be the principal speaker at the Christian church tonight, in keeping with the golden anniversary celebration of the founding of the Christian church. He has chosen as his subject, "Golden Opportunities for Christ in Social Relations." The following pastors of the community will take part in the evening's service: James E. Dunning, H. F. Sheerer, J. A. Shirley, J. S. Sorenson and James C. Fisk.

Last night's service was one of fellowship, with the Christian churches of Orange county, with the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor of the Christian church of Santa Ana, giving the sermon on "Golden Opportunities for Christ in Social Relations." Contributions as stated by the Rev. Mr. Buchanan included the work of the missionaries for the cause of Christianity, the step made by Robert Rakes when he instituted the Sunday school, the missionary projects started in 1912, the founding of Christian Endeavor in 1931 and the work of Thomas Campbell in 1930.

Greetings were brought to the local church by the Rev. George F. Thimley, pastor of the Fullerton church on behalf of the churches of Orange county. Other pastors taking part in the evening of worship were the Rev. Wesley Runyan, of Brea; the Rev. J. H. Hurst, of Huntington Beach, and the Rev. C. F. Martin, of Santa Ana.

Reserves Work On Prints, Book Ends

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Pewee brackets, block prints, stencils and book ends are among the numerous articles which are being made by members of the eighth grade Girl Reserves, under the leadership of Miss Lavina Compton, for their Christmas project in handicraft.

Announcement was made at the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Girl Reserve room of the high school that the club's baseball team has challenged members of the other Girl Reserve groups for baseball games.

Menonite Church Revival Services Open Next Sunday

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Arrangements have been made for revival meetings to take place in the Menonite church beginning Sunday morning, with the Rev. J. F. Groult, of Everett, Wash., as evangelist.

The Rev. Mr. Groult has been a member of the Menonite church for many years and has had a wide experience in religious work. It is stated, the meetings are to be continued for a period of three weeks.

ARSON RACKET DESCRIBED AT LIONS SESSION

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—That the arson racket is annually costing the public millions of dollars, was the assertion made by Paul Wolfe, chief of the Los Angeles arson bureau, in a talk before the Orange Lions club Wednesday.

Wolfe, whose specially-trained squad investigates all fires in Los Angeles in which arson is suspected, declared that many ingenious devices are used by experienced firebugs seeking to collect insurance.

"Some of the smarter arsonists are using chemicals as a fire setting device," the speaker said. "These can be timed to go off at any desired time within a year, leaving less clues behind than any other arson method."

The speaker said that 90 per cent of the incendiary fires are started by foreign-born citizens. The arson squad is so expertly trained that it can tell the nationality and even the sex of persons setting the fires, Wolfe declared.

Alvin Drumm served as program chairman, with President Earle Phillips presiding over the meeting.

Honor Society Names Officers

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Officers were elected yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Honor society of the Orange Union High school, with Miss Florence Dierker, president; Miss Alice Compton, vice president; Miss Dorothy Stadel, secretary, and Miss Helen Volberding, publicity chairman.

During a very short business meeting, plans were formulated for a trip to be taken in the near future to U. S. C.

CHINA VISITOR GIVES TALK IN ORANGE CHURCH

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Chinese tapestries, hand-carved wooden vases, panels and pictures served as an appropriate background when Mrs. Charles Hollister spoke on her recent trip to China at the mid-week meeting held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday night. Mrs. Hollister brought the beautiful collection with her on her return a few weeks ago. Of unusual interest was a hand-made pillow cover, embroidered in silk. Also included in the display of Chinese handicraft were many varieties of beautiful wood carvings, and the silk embroidery work for which the Chinese people are noted.

Mrs. Hollister wore a dress made for her while in China in an intricate lace pattern. Over the dress she wore a richly embroidered Chinese robe.

"The Chinese love beauty," stated Mrs. Hollister. "Not only is this portrayed in their art, but also in their homes." She emphasized the attractiveness of the windows in Chinese homes and the neatness of their yards. She stated that while civilization has penetrated into China, many of the ancient customs still are practiced.

"Many women still bind their feet," she said, "and in many of the native churches, the men sit on one side, and the women on the other."

MRS. REBECCA POPE HOSTESS TO CLUB

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Rebecca Pope, was hostess at her home, 222 North Grand street, yesterday afternoon to members of the C. M. P. club. The home reflected the spirit of autumn with the many lovely bouquets of fall flowers grown in the garden of the hostess.

A business meeting preceded an enjoyable afternoon spent in sewing and visiting, during which time Mrs. E. N. Turner offered her home for the annual Christmas party to be held the afternoon of December 13. Each member will bring a can of fruit vegetables, which will be given to a needy family in Orange.

PROGRAM IS PRESENTED WHEN FOOTHILL CENTER CONVENES; STATE WATER PLAN OPPOSED

VILLA PARK, Nov. 9.—Business was relegated to the background at a meeting of the Foothill Farm center last night, when an entertaining program was given by a group of talented young people of the county. At the brief business session, L. A. Bortz, delegate-at-large, advised members to vote "No" on the Central Valley water project which is to come before the people December 19. He said that the water committee had thoroughly investigated this project and had decided against it.

Mrs. L. A. Bortz, of the home department announced that there would be a bread demonstration Friday morning at 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Harold T. Brewer in the Cerro Villa tract. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Brewer or Mrs. Bortz.

More than 150 members and friends were seated at the tables at the pot luck dinner. The song service was led by J. B. Wilbur, with Miss Genevieve Goble at the piano. C. A. Palmer, president of the center, introduced the new officers. Floyd Watson, new vice president, made a short talk. Mr. Mueller, membership chairman, reported 13 new members. Felton B. Brown, newly elected president of the Orange County Farm bureau, was introduced. He announced the state convention to be held in Santa Barbara November 13, 14 and 15.

A special program of music and dancing was featured by the Goble trio and the Collegiate Kids.

JAMES B. UTT TALKS AT 20-30 MEETING

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—James B. Utt, assemblyman from the 74th district was the speaker at the meeting of the Orange 20-30 club at the Sunshine Broomer Wednesday night, when he related happenings at the state capital during a legislative session. Stan Wilson was program chairman.

Tentative plans were made for a dance, the proceeds from which are to go to the Orange Community Welfare board. Plans also were outlined for boys' bicycle race which is to be staged here.

Dr. W. C. Leitch was appointed program for the next meeting.

A. Huscrot, Mrs. Charles Hotchkiss, Mrs. D. E. Strain, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. D. F. Campbell, Mrs. Ed. Windolph, L. W. Hemphill, Mrs. Laura Bowen and Mrs. A. B. Lane. Special guests of the afternoon were Miss Sue Rankin and Mrs. Parks.

Wally Griggs, of Santa Ana, acted as the master of ceremonies when the program was presented and Genevieve Goble was the accompanist. The following program was given:

Song and dance, "Hard Billed Rose," Betty Blossom Goble; Genevieve Goble, Spanish harmony and tango dance; Betty Blossom Goble, readings, "The Blossom Lady" and "Grandma Pays the Bill"; Junior Kavanagh, Fullerton, song and dance, "We're in the Money"; Genevieve Goble, reading, "The Debutante Plays Bridge"; Catherine Schanis, Fullerton, acrobatic dance;

Genevieve Goble, novel song number, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf"; Aberdeen Rubidoux, Fullerton, Spanish dance; Junior Kavanagh, dance, "Are You Making Money?"; Louise Goble, reading, "Lessons With a Fan"; Betty Blossom Goble, song and dance, "Sweeties"; Louise Goble, dance readings, "Time Is Money" and "Chewing Gum"; Junior and Betty, old fashioned and modern dancing;

Louise Goble, "Dolly Dimples" dance; Junior Kavanagh, song and dance, "Lazy Bones"; Catherine Schanis, acrobatic number; Louise Goble, "Nigger Doll" dance; Junior Kavanagh, tap dance, "Twelfth Street Rag"; Genevieve Goble, harmony, "I've Got a Job" and "Chewing Gum"; Junior and Betty, song and dance, "Petin' in the Park."

POST PREPARES FOR ARMISTICE DAY ACTIVITIES

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Otto Rozell post No. 2335, formerly the Theodore Roosevelt post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has established headquarters for Armistice Day in the Edwards building at the corner of North Glassell street and the plaza. Members of the post are planning to serve food, the proceeds from which is to be used for welfare work carried on by the organization.

From 9:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. on Armistice Day, a radio program will be given at the headquarters over a national hook-up. The national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is to speak, and selections by the U. S. Navy band will be included in the program.

One of the most interesting features at the headquarters is a collection of American World war posters. The posters are those used in war time to promote the sale of Liberty bonds and for other purposes. A poster depicting the Salvation Army's activities in the World was in the collection. The collection is the property of F. E. Hallman.

The name of the post was changed recently when it was found that a Theodore Roosevelt post had been formed some years ago in another state. The post was renamed in memory of the first Orange county boy to fall in the World's war. Otto Rozell enlisted in the war in March, 1918, in the marine corps and was wounded in the battle of Soissons, and died shortly afterward in a Paris hospital of shrapnel wounds. Young Rozell was an Orange Union High school student and his brother, Vernon, died from wounds received in action, after his return to Orange.

The Edwards building is being appropriately decorated for the day's activities and many war trophies are to be displayed.

LIST SPEAKERS FOR BANQUETS NOVEMBER 16

ORANGE, Nov. 9.—Plans are being made by several of the churches in the community for annual father and son banquets, which will be held November 16 in the various churches. As in previous years, the Y. M. C. A. will furnish a "flying squadron" made up of representatives of the various churches, which will put on a short skit and program at each banquet. The squadron is in charge of J. B. Wilbur, "Y" secretary.

The banquet in the Presbyterian church is to be given through the auspices of the board of fellowship, of which Alfred Higgins is chairman. The Rev. Harry E. Owens, pastor of the Santa Ana First Baptist church, will be the principal speaker. An interesting program is being planned under the direction of George Stoner.

The Methodist banquet committee, headed by Harold Gilton, has procured the Rev. Frank Toothaker of Los Angeles, a former missionary to China, as the speaker of the evening. The committee is promoting an exhibition of hobbies. Each father and son is invited to bring anything representing his particular hobby.

For the LOVE of EVE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

EVE BAYLESS, pretty assistant to EARLE BARNES, advertising manager of Bixby's department store, married DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. They keep their marriage secret. Dick opposes Eve's continued employment but she is determined to go to work. On her wedding night Eve is sent to New York to meet FRED CARPENTER, dress designer. Eve is attracted by her. She visits IRENE PRENTISS, former schoolmate who is playing the stock market. A week later Eve returns to Lake City to find a new copy writer, MONA ALLEN, at the office. Mona is a trouble-maker. Eve and Dick take an apartment in an old-fashioned house. Eve becomes nervous from worry and Dick takes her on a week-end trip to the little town of Taminville. In an antique shop there Eve admires several pieces of furniture. Dick says they can not afford them, but when Eve leaves she tells the shop owner she will send for them later.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

Christmas fell on Tuesday that year and Eve was overjoyed when Mr. Barnes said that she could have Monday as a holiday and that he be able to spend Christmas with her parents 500 miles away. Bixby's was open until nine o'clock each evening of the week before Christmas and Eve was obliged to spend at least part of every evening at the office. Dick agreed without objection to come down town to have dinner with her those nights.

Saturday, with the last task completed, Eve said goodbye to the others in the office, wished them a Merry Christmas, and left to meet Dick. On their way to the train they posted their marriage announcements to Eve's friends in Lake City. Those for the home folks had been sent a week earlier. Eve felt a mixture of apprehension and relief after the announcements were mailed. But at least there was nothing to worry about for the present and she boarded the train with a light heart. Tomorrow she would see her parents again and Dick would be with her.

Henry Bayless met them at the station Sunday morning. Eve spied her father first and gulped as her eyes filled with tears. Then she hurried forward and kissed him while he struggled for composure. Partings and meetings after long separation always affected Henry Bayless. His eyes were blurry and he swallowed hard. Then he welcomed Dick with a hearty handshake and felt a slow, friendly glow in the firm clasp. Hank trusted few men until they proved themselves but his instinct told him Dick Rader was all right.

It had snowed heavily overnight and Hank drove carefully. He was proud of his new car and boasted to Dick of the number of years he had driven the old one.

The Bayless home was in an old section of the city on a tree-lined street. "Nice here in the summer," said Hank as he drove into the yard. Dick saw a modest house of the seven-room variety with side porch and a low attic over the kitchen. Eve's mother, rosy and smiling, beamed a welcome from the doorway.

Dick felt the spirit of Christmas for which he had long been homesick. He accompanied his father-in-law to the woodshed and helped him nail together a stand for the Christmas tree. Later he helped Eve trim the tree. He put extra leaves in the dining room table to accommodate the guests and when Eve's sister, Esther, arrived with her husband and child the baby held out her arms to Dick and seemed to prefer him to anyone else. Later, to the child's intense delight, Dick made a snow man.

Eve's grandmother, accompanied by the son with whom she lived, came for dinner. Grandmother Bayless, little, spiry, and yet always complaining, enjoyed the day enormously. "I have lived a great many years," she said, "but I declare to goodness no one ever surprised me as much as Eve does. That announcement now coming with a Christmas greeting—'Twas right odd! I thought to myself, 'That's just like Eve.' Seems like you picked out a right nice man, though. I know you must have asked him; he doesn't look as though he was bold enough to ask you."

After dinner they all gathered in the old parlor and Esther played the piano while the others sang Christmas carols. Then the gifts were distributed. Dick, who had been alone at Christmas for the last 10 years, was amazed at the unselfish generosity displayed. Accustomed to paying his way and expecting favors from no one, he was touched and pleased to see how he was accepted and included in the group as one of the family. Grandmother Bayless, in particular, amused him. She brought Eve a handsome quilt of intricate "log cabin" design which she had made herself and then grumbled when she saw the exquisitely colored rag rugs which Eve's mother had given to Dick.

"Hi-m!" Grandmother declared. "Now I know why Kate was so overlastingly busy dyeing and sewing all those rags that she couldn't even take time to visit with a person!"

Dick surprised Eve with his gift—a beautifully designed dinner ring set with diamonds. "We were engaged and married all in one breath," Eve explained to her mother, and asked to have only the wedding ring.

That evening the whole family bundled into heavy wraps and rode out to "Cousin Myrtle's" in Beachwood. There, in a modern suburb, Cousin Myrtle and her family lived in a house of Normandy type. There was a tower with a winding, wrought iron stair and casement windows. Through diamond-shaped panes of glass the lights of an outdoor Christmas tree twinkled. The beautifully furnished home had not been built by wealth but rather by years of hard work, combined with thrift and careful planning.

Dick felt himself attracted to all of Eve's relatives who seemed so friendly and merry. The next morning he built a crate to hold their gifts. "It's such fun," the cousins had declared, "to celebrate Christmas and a marriage at the same time." There were shell pink dishes, an ornate base lamp and a portable radio. There were exquisite silver pieces and an electric waffle iron.

Monday evening Esther invited a crowd of young people—all of them old friends of Eve's—to her home. There was bridge with a "buffet supper and music afterward." Then Christmas night the whole Bayless family escorted Eve and Dick to the station. "Eve," said her mother a moment before the train arrived, "here is an extra little present for you. Buy yourself some nice silver or something you really want to use. I And don't tell your Pa! I saved it myself." It was a $50 bill.

Eve was awake and had eaten breakfast long before the train reached Lake City next morning. She was filled with anxiety. By the time she reached the office the store would have been open for some time and she would have to face everyone at once. They would all know about her marriage. She wondered how they would greet her and what new complications she would have to face.

Would Barnes be nice about it or would he be afraid her work would reflect a divided interest? How would the girls take the news? Marya would be sweet, she knew. But Mona Allen?

Eve's trepidation increased later when she entered the store. Mr. Barnes had given her permission to arrive late, inasmuch as her train did not reach Lake City until 10 o'clock. A throng of after-the-holiday shoppers already was engaging the attention of the clerks, but Eve felt all eyes focused on herself. She nodded to several acquaintances as she hurried along toward the elevator. Her knees were weak by the time she entered the advertising office.

"Eve!" shrieked Arlene Smith, darting up from her typewriter and flinging her arms about Eve's slight form. "Congratulations, darling!"

Marya looked up from the evening slipper she was sketching. She arose and with dignity extended her hand and kissed Eve. "I am so happy for you," she said, smiling. Eve never remembered what she answered. She thought giddily, "What deep dimples Marya has."

Mona Allen assumed a bored expression. She remained at her desk and as Eve passed she glanced up and returned her greeting with a "Good morning, Mrs. Rader." The words came as a distinct thrust. Strange as it seemed to Eve then, she had never thought of being called anything but "Miss Bayless" or "Eve" by her business associates.

To her intense relief Mr. Barnes was in consultation and she had time to regain her composure before facing him. As Eve opened her desk and lifted out sketches and notes she answered Arlene's questions and learned that the marriage announcement had caused pleasant excitement in the office. Arlene and Marya said they hoped Eve would continue her work. Mona Allen permitted one corner of her mouth to lift in a scornful quiver.

The office boy entered then, almost buried under the stack of newspapers he was carrying. He tossed the papers on a large flat-topped desk and smiled brightly as he greeted Eve. Approaching her desk, he scowled darkly and whispered, "Don't let Miss Allen get your job. She's counting on it!"

"A stunt like this I've never tried. It's almost like a horseback ride." Then Rumble shouted, "Giddy up! How fast can you lads run?"

"I'll tell you what," said Coppy. "We will have a little race to see if I can beat wee Scouty. Now you lads hang on real tight."

"We'll race to yonder tree and then turn 'round and run back here again." The other Tintins gathered in a group to see the sight.

"I'll be starter," Duncy cried. "Now, first of all, stand side-by-side, and when I holler go, both start to tear across the ground." He shortly gave the word and, gee, it was a thrilling sight to see. The Thunder Man's small helpers both were bounding all around.

"Hang on," yelled Scouty, with a grin. "Cause of you do, we're going to win." But just then little Rattle slipped and took a sudden drop.

Brave Coppy kept up quite a pace and, finally, he won the race. "I lost it," said wee Scouty, "cause the slip forced me to stop."

Soon Rumble said, "We've had our fun. Now, back into the trees we'll run until we find the home of our old friend, the Thunder Man."

"It isn't very far from here and there won't be a thing to fear. The whole bunch shortly reached the home. Oh, my, how they all ran."

"Why, it's a big drum," Goldy cried. "Is Mister Thunder Man inside?" "You bet he is," said Rattle. "He's asleep in there no doubt."

"Now, hold your ears while we both pound. It's going to make an awful sound, but it's the way we rap, to make the Thunder Man come out."

(The Thunder Man pops out of the drum in the next story.)

SECTION TO MEET

BREA, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Frances W. Davis, chairman of the book and basket section of the Brea Woman's club, announces that Mrs. W. E. REVEALS FACTS GIVEN AT BEACH CLUB MEETING

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 9.—Facts and figures on unemployment in Orange county were given by Bryon Curry, county director of welfare, and William Jerome, county supervisor, at the meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday noon.

Curry stated that there are 3250 unemployed now and that the number will reach 5000 in December. The sum of $248,000 is available for relief work for the year 1933-1934, Curry said. Indications are that funds will be exhausted before the year is up, he said, but he indicated that arrangements will be made to meet the emergency.

Jerome pointed out that California sent three per cent of the United States soldiers to the World War and now 30 per cent of the disabled soldiers are here because of climatic conditions. Many poor families from the east have come here within the past few months, hoping to find better conditions, only to swell the ranks of the needy, he said. Jerome called attention to the fact that all of the funds that have been available for relief work, 97 per cent have gone directly for relief, only three per cent being required as overhead expenses.

Miss Margaret McDonough, teacher of English and music in the Newport Harbor Union High school, and Gillman Brookings, a student in the school, gave musical numbers, including a trumpet solo, "The Charming," by Boos, Miss McDonough accompanying; and a piano solo, "Country Gardens," by Percy Grainger, given by Miss McDonough.

Visitors present included Miss Margaret McDonough, Miss Lucille Meyer, Gillman Brookings, Bill Brown and Harold C. Stroup, pastor of the local community church, acting in the interests of the Red Cross, sold 18 memberships to the society during the meeting.

Announcement was made that next week's regular meeting of the club will be a joint gathering of the local club with the Huntington Beach Rotary club, the meeting place to be announced later. George MacLeod is program chairman for the meeting. Sidney H. Davidson, president, appointed Leroy Anderson, Roland Hodgkinson and George MacLeod as a reception committee.

It was announced that a joint meeting of the Costa Mesa Lions with the Newport club is being arranged. Sidney H. Davidson, president of the club, was in charge. H. E. Lannan, of Lido Isle, was in charge of the program arrangement.

Baptists Of Brea Purchase Building

BREA, Nov. 9.—A 16 by 30 frame building, formerly used by the Union Oil company as a bunk house, has been purchased by the Baptist church and has been moved into the property at the corner of Birch and Flower streets.

The building contains six rooms, each 8 by 10 feet, with an outside entrance to each room. Inside wall has been removed, providing the primary department 10 by 16 feet in size. The four remaining rooms will also be used for class rooms. A little later, according to present plans, the building will be painted inside and out.

L. W. Hyde is busy just now laying a 12-inch brick walk from the front of the church building to this building, which will be called the church annex.

Fat Men

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you get one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast for 4 weeks and cut down on pastries, sugar and fatty meats—

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one jar of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 4 weeks and costs not more than 50c. After you have taken one jar the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and by reducing excess fat probably live years longer.

Mr. Paul Malone of Chicago, Ill., writes: "I've been taking Kruschen for 5 weeks and so far have lost 18 lbs. As the worthless fat goes I feel better and better. I was so bad it was hard for me to breathe whether walking or sitting, but now I can breathe again and have lost plenty of my stomach. My stomach at first was large, bulky and flabby but now it's decreased plenty and after a few more doses I'll be able to see my feet once more."

To take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY take as directed above—don't worry it's the safe way to reduce and get rid of constipation, gas and acidity.

But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, or at any drugstore in the world and if the results one jar brings—do not joyfully back—Adv.

Processing Of Walnut Crop Is Completed

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 9.—The Garden Grove Walnut Growers' association has finished processing this year's crop. There were 210 tons, as compared to 450 tons last year. This year's crop is the smallest in the past 10 years, with the exception of 1926, when there were 165 tons. Culls composed 10 per cent, while last year the culls amounted to 22 per cent.

The local house has shipped nine carloads of walnuts and about 10 tons of walnut meats, according to Wayne Holt, secretary.

The cracking room will finish about the last of the week. Between 75 and 80 people have been employed by the association since the house opened October 1.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SEAL BEACH CLUB MEETING

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 9.—At the regular monthly business meeting of the Seal Beach Woman's club Wednesday afternoon, in the auditorium of the city hall, three new committee heads were appointed. Mrs. Wooding was appointed music chairman; Mrs. H. W. Snider, dramatics; and Mrs. Vernon Armstrong, publicity.

Mrs. Mary Washburn, Mrs. Haskell and Mrs. C. H. Greenwald spoke on the last meeting of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs. Reports of the committees and the findings of the auditor were read. A tentative outline of the year's activities was presented to the members for their approval.

A new feature of the business meetings, a study class, was introduced, and it promises to be a regular event. The topic for study was the use of correct grammar in every-day speech.

The next meeting will be the regular social, held November 22, in the city hall auditorium. The meeting will feature a pot-luck dinner, followed by a musical program and speakers. The subject of the talks will be the organization of a junior department of the Woman's club.

UNEMPLOYED GET $69 FOR TOMATOES

BREA, Nov. 9.—M. M. Ord, fruit and vegetable shipper of Brea, yesterday packed 154 boxes of choice shipping tomatoes from the gardens of the Unemployed Workers' association here. Ord brought his own packers, working in the garden until the twilight forced them to complete the work in the commissary. A check for $69.30 was received by the association for the tomatoes.

Arrange Service At Mesa Mission

COSTA MESA, Nov. 9.—The Starr Evangelistic party of Los Angeles will have charge of the service at the Mesa mission, Newport boulevard and Bolsa avenue, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Hilton Todd Park, known as the "wonder boy evangelist," will preach. The Rev. May Ross Starr, accompanied by her daughter, will sing a number of her new and original songs. Everyone is invited to attend.

Adkinson Speaks At Club Meeting

BUENA PARK, Nov. 9.—County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson, addressed members of the Kiwanis club at their regular meeting in the Woman's club-house Tuesday evening. Adkinson spoke on "Education."

DRAWN JAIL TERM LA HABRA, Nov. 9.—Ernesto Mesa, who was arrested Monday morning on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. C. Earley Tuesday afternoon and given a 60-day sentence on the second charge and $50 or 25 days in the county jail on the other charge. It was alleged that Mesa was threatening his family when Officer Tremaine was called to the camp to take him in custody.

Joe Hernandez, charged with interfering with Tremaine, will appear before Judge Ponce Tuesday at 3 p. m.

TWO PROGRAMS ARRANGED FOR SCHOOL FRIDAY

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Nov. 9.—A skit in three scenes, "Advertising the Harbor H. Galleon," was given at the regular weekly student body assembly Wednesday as the chief number on the program. Action in scenes one and three took place in the office of Sherlock Holmes, Macaulay Ropp taking the part of Holmes and Benny Hitt acting as Holmes' assistant. Scene two was laid in Miss Perry's room, where the Harbor H. annual was in the process of making. Miss Phil Curry is editor-in-chief of the Galleon.

Announcement was made that two Armistice day programs will be given in the high school auditorium tomorrow. The first program will be given at 9:15 a. m., an American Legion ceremony being the main feature. A speaker is being secured. The program is designed to fit into Educational week. A one-act play will be given by the school's dramatic club. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades from both the Costa Mesa and Newport Beach grammar schools will attend, and the public is invited. It is announced by Prof. Sidney H. Davidson, principal of the high school.

At 8:15 p. m. Capt. Don Wilkie, former United States secret service agent, will be the chief speaker on the program. The speech will be supplemented by several vaudeville acts. No charge will be made at either meeting.

WILKIE TO SPEAK IN SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 9.—Capt. Don Wilkie, former secret service agent, will be principal speaker at the session of the Woman's club November 21 at 3 p. m. The meeting will be open to everyone.

As a medium of advertising San Clemente, the Woman's club has decided to adopt the use of specially designed stationery. A committee composed of Mrs. Emma Servus, Mrs. A. T. Smith and Mrs. J. B. Lape were appointed at the business meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon to consider a suitable design and to investigate prices on a quantity of stationery for social and business correspondence. Endeavor will be made to place this in general use with residents and guests of the city.

The club, represented by Mrs. A. T. Smith, ways and means chairman, has made arrangements to sponsor a picture show in San Juan Capistrano within two weeks. The exact date is to be fixed within a few days.

The luncheon was served by Mrs. L. B. Brown, Miss Jennie Lane, Mrs. Eleanor Clark and Mrs. P. S. Warner. Barbara Hoge, land, Dr. J. B. Lape, A. T. Smith, P. W. Want To Look Young?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Tells Of Chamber Community Work At P-T. A. Meeting

PLACENTIA, Nov. 9.—Stuart Strathman, secretary of Placentia Chamber of commerce, told of the place of the chamber of commerce in community life when he spoke before the Placentia Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon.

The program included a folk dance by Mrs. Benton's first and second grade. Mrs. Florence Arnold led in community singing. Mrs. Frank Hill reported 120 members. Mrs. J. H. Rymer asked that members save newspapers and cans for the association to sell. Miss Mabel Anderson asked for names of those who will be willing to sew for Red Cross, Tuesdays, from 2 to 4 p. m., that she may notify them when needed.

A pot-luck dinner was shared at 6:30 o'clock, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Bardwell and Miss Minnie Winder.

Musical numbers on the entertainment program included guitar duets by Miss Genevieve Bowen and Louis Ebel, and vocal solos by Nelson Rogers, with Bob Adams accompanying at the piano.

"Winning an Heiress," a burlesque on the play which will be given by the Friendship class on November 17 at the church, was put on by Mesdames C. A. Day, E. A. Watson, Dixon Tubbs, B. McCulla, Frank H. Greenwood, Grant Henderson, Earl Sharpless and H. J. Plumb.

A brief business session, conducted by the class president, J. B. Gorton, brought the meeting to a close.

TUSTIN COUNCIL CHECKS ON BILLS

TUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The regular meeting of the city council was held at 8 o'clock Monday night in the city hall, with Mayor William Huntley presiding. Considerable time was spent checking over various past-due bills of the city to determine the amounts still owned on them.

Mrs. James Blee Hostess To Club

TUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The Thanksgiving motif was stressed by Mrs. James Blee Tuesday, when she was hostess to members and guests of her bridge club at her home on Newport road.

A three-course luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and was followed by the usual afternoon card contest. Checking of tallies revealed that Mrs. Blee and Mrs. Rena Bouchard held high and second high scores.

Mrs. Earl Sharpless and Miss Marjory Rawlings were special guests of the club, while members present were Mrs. Rena Bouchard, Mrs. Albert Thorman, Mrs. W. S. Leinberger, Mrs. Robert Korff, Mrs. Vincent Humeston and Mrs. Blee.

BRIDGE ENJOYED

COSTA MESA, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Violet Webster was hostess to a group of young women of Costa Mesa at a bridge party in her Orange avenue home Wednesday. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Robert Fuller was winner of high honors and Miss Roberta Middleton received the consolation prize.

Those present were the Misses Roberta Middleton, Blanche Siegel, Ethel Kinley and Martha Mae Hurst, Mrs. Robert Fuller, Mrs. Donald Stearns, Mrs. Roy King and Mrs. Webster.

STOP THAT COLD THE FIRST DAY!

A cold once rooted is a cold of danger! Trust to no makeshift methods. A cold, being an internal infection, calls for internal treatment. A cold also calls for a COLD remedy and not a preparation good for a number of other things as well.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It is internal and direct—and it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine for it by the full name and ask for it but do not substitute on any pretext.—Adv.

RELIEF FACTS GIVEN AT BEACH CLUB MEETING

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 9.—Facts and figures on unemployment in Orange county were given by Bryon Curry, county director of welfare, and William Jerome, county supervisor, at the meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday noon.

Curry stated that there are 3250 unemployed now and that the number will reach 5000 in December. The sum of $345,000 is available for relief work for the year 1933-1934. Curry said. Indications are that funds will be exhausted before the year is up, he said, but he indicated that arrangements will be made to meet the emergency.

Jerome pointed out that California sent three per cent of the United States soldiers to the World War and now 30 per cent of the disabled soldiers are here because of climatic conditions. Many poor families from the east have come here within the past few months, hoping to find better conditions, only to swell the ranks of the needy, he said. Jerome called attention to the fact that of all the funds that have been available for relief work, 97 per cent has gone directly for relief, only three cent being required as overhead expense.

Miss Margaret McDonough, teacher of English and music in the Newport Harbor Union High school, and Gliman Brookings, a student in the school, gave musical numbers, including a trumpet solo, "The Charming," by Boos, Miss McDonough accompanying; and a piano solo, "Country Gardens," by Percy Grainger, given by Miss McDonough.

Visitors present included Miss Margaret McDonough, Miss Lucile Meyer, Gliman Brookings, Bill Brown and Harold Grauel.

The Rev. Russell C. Stroup, pastor of the local Community church, acting in the interests of the Red Cross, sold 18 memberships to the society during the meeting.

Announcement was made that the next week's regular meeting of the club will be a joint gathering of the local club with the Huntington Beach Rotary club, the meeting place to be announced later. George MacLeod is program chairman for the meeting. Sidney H. Davidson, president, appointed Leroy Anderson, Roland Hodgkinson and George MacLeod as a reception committee.

It was announced that a joint meeting of the Costa Mesa Lions with the Newport club is being arranged.

Sidney H. Davidson, president of the club, was in charge. H. E. Loman, of Lido Isle, was in charge of the program arrangement.

Baptists Of Brea Purchase Building

BREA, Nov. 9.—A 16 by 30 frame building, formerly used by the Union Oil company as a bunk house, has been purchased by the Baptist church and has been moved into the property at the corner of Birch and Flower streets.

The building contains six rooms, each 8 by 10 feet, with an outside entrance to each room. An inside wall has been removed, providing the primary department of the church school with a room 10 by 16 feet in size. The four remaining rooms will also be used for class rooms. A little later, according to present plans, the building will be painted inside and out.

L. W. Hyde is busy just now laying a 42-inch brick walk from the front of the church building to this building, which will be called the church annex.

Fat Men

I don't care how fat you are or how much you eat to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoonful of Epsom salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast for 4 weeks and cut down on pastries, sugar and fatty foods, you will be surprised to find that you will be able to see your feet once more.

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one jar of Kruschen Salts. It will last you 4 weeks and costs not more than 50c. After you have taken one jar the old army chair will hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy your walk—you'll sleep like a top and by reducing excess fat probably live years longer.

Dr. Paul Malone of Chicago, Ill., writes: "I've been taking Kruschen for 5 weeks and so far have lost 15 lbs. As the worthless fat goes I feel better and better. I was so bad it was hard for me to breathe whether walking or sitting, but now I can breathe again and have lost plenty of my stomach. My stomach at first was large, bulky and flabby but now it's decreased in size and after a few more doses I'll be able to see my feet once more."

Don't take off fat carelessly and SAFELY take as directed above—don't worry. It's the safe way to reduce and get rid of constipation, gas and acidity.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get the real Kruschen Salts. Get them at McEly Drug Co., 2 stores, or any drugstore in the world and if the results are not satisfactory you'll get your money back—Adv.

Processing Of Walnut Crop Is Completed

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 9.—The Garden Grove Walnut Growers' association has finished processing this year's crop. There were 210 tons, as compared to 450 tons last year. This year's crop is the smallest in the past 10 years, with the exception of 1926, when there were 165 tons. Culls composed 10 per cent, while last year the culls amounted to 22 per cent.

The local house has shipped nine carloads of walnuts and about 10 tons of walnut meats, according to Wayne Holt, secretary.

The cracking room will finish about the last of the week. Between 75 and 80 people have been employed by the association since the house opened October 1.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SEAL BEACH CLUB MEETING

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 9.—At the regular monthly business meeting of the Seal Beach Woman's club Wednesday afternoon, in the auditorium of the city hall, three new committee heads were appointed. Mrs. Wooding was appointed music chairman; Mrs. H. W. Snider, dramatics; Mrs. Mrs. Vernon Armstrong, publicity.

Mrs. Mary Washburn, Mrs. Hassell and Mrs. C. H. Greenwald spoke on the last meeting of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs. Reports of the committees and the findings of the auditor were read. A tentative outline of the year's activities was presented to the members for their approval.

A new feature of the business meetings, a study class, was introduced, and it promises to be a regular event. The topic for study was the use of correct grammar in every-day speech.

The next meeting will be the regular social, held November 22, in the city hall auditorium. The meeting will feature a pot-luck dinner, followed by a musical program and speakers. The subject of the talks will be the organization of a junior department of the Woman's club.

UNEMPLOYED GET $69 FOR TOMATOES

BREA, Nov. 9.—M. M. Ord, fruit and vegetable shipper of Bellflower, yesterday packed 154 boxes of choice shipping tomatoes from the gardens of the Unemployed Workers' association here. Ord brought his own packers, working in the garden until the twilight forced them to complete the work in the commissary. A check for $69.00 was received by the association for the tomatoes.

Arrange Service At Mesa Mission

COSTA MESA, Nov. 9.—The Starr Evangelistic party of Los Angeles will have charge of the service at the Mesa mission, Newport boulevard and Bolsa avenue, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. DRAWS JAIL TERM

LA HABRA, Nov. 9.—Ernesto Mesa, who was arrested Monday morning on charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace A. C. Earley Tuesday afternoon and given a 60-day sentence on the second charge and $50 or 25 days in the county jail on the other charge. It was alleged that Mesa was threatening his family when Officer Tremaine was called to the camp to take him in custody.

Joe Hernandez, charged with interfering with Tremaine, will appear before Judge Earley Wednesday at 3 p. m.

TWO PROGRAMS ARRANGED FOR SCHOOL FRIDAY

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Nov. 9.—A skit in three scenes, "Advertising the Harbor Hi Galleon," was given at the regular weekly student body assembly Wednesday as the chief number on the program. Action in scenes one and three took place in the office of Sherlock Holmes, Macaulay Ropp taking the part of Holmes and Benny Hitt acting as Holmes' assistant. Scene two was laid in Miss Perry's room, where the Harbor Hi annual was in the process of making. Miss Phil Curry is editor-in-chief of the Galleon.

Announcement was made that two Armistice day programs will be given in the high school auditorium tomorrow. The first program will be given at 9:15 a. m., an American Legion ceremony being the main feature. A speaker is being secured. The program is designed to fit into Educational week. A one-act play will be given by the school's dramatic club. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades from both the Costa Mesa and Newport Beach grammar schools will attend, and the public is invited. It is announced by Prof. Sidney H. Davidson, principal of the high school.

At 8:15 p. m. Capt. Don Wilkie, former United States secret service agent, will be the chief speaker on the program. The speech will be supplemented by several vaudeville acts. No charge will be made at either meeting.

PROGRAM HELD BY P.-T. A. OF TUSTIN SCHOOL

TUSTIN, Nov. 9.—An interesting address on "The Hard-of-Hearing Child" was given by Miss Ruth Bartlett, of Santa Ana, at Wednesday's regular meeting of the grammar school P.-T. A., held in the lower auditorium of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Porter Luther, president, presided.

Miss Bartlett, teacher of a lip reading class sponsored by the adult education department held at Julia Lathrop school in Santa Ana, urged the mothers to snatch their children from deafness as they would a rattlesnake. The speaker said, "Up to the present time, no cure has been found for deafness. Every child should have his hearing tested each year. If your child is hard-of-hearing, he should be taught a trade; keep him a normal child and try to make him forget his handicap."

Mesdames William Kellams, B. J. McReynolds, J. D. Campbell, L. R. Stearns, J. Stuart Hydanus, Raymond Marsile, Marshall Burke, Frank McEntee and John Matson took part in a round-table discussion on "Character Building," presided by Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, of Garden Grove. The flag salute was led by Mrs. Jack Squires. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Ruth Walker and the treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Robert Korff.

Mrs. William Kellams announced that the Friendship Bible class will present a three-act comedy, "Winning an Heiress," at 7:30 p. m., November 17 in the Presbyterian church.

Musical numbers on the program included several songs by the eighth grade pupils, accompanied by Mrs. Effie Matthews, and vocal selections by Robert Newcomb, with Mrs. Charles Nalle at the piano.

Mesdames W. A. Woodard, Fred Chapman, Worth Alexander, Marshall Burke and Forrest Collier served refreshments of tea and water to the 70 members and friends present.

A cooked food sale was held before and after the meeting, with Mesdames William Plator, A. M. Robinson, Eugene Chittenden, A. Walker, C. L. Carl and A. E. Ashcraft in charge. Exhibits of the school children in the store windows attracted much attention.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY CLUB MEMBERS

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Wesley Lamb welcomed members of the "Three T's" Twenty club to her home east of town Tuesday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Irvine Gorman presided at the business session. New officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Mrs. C. G. Hall; vice-president, Mrs. Wilbur Harper; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Edwards; historian, Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. J. L. Mitchell and Mrs. Howard Barnes were taken in as new members.

Mrs. F. A. Monroe was in charge of the program. Miss Evelyn Lamb and Miss Ruth Leslie Mitchell entertained with two piano duets. Mrs. Andrew Smiley read a paper on Thanksgiving. A game entitled, "In the Royal Ranks," was led by Mrs. Monroe. A prize was awarded to Mrs. Andrew Smiley.

At the refreshment hour the hostess served refreshments on individual trays decorated in a yellow and orange color scheme.

Those present were Mrs. Elmer Hall, of Anaheim, a guest; Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mrs. Ralph Chaffee, Mrs. Walter Dunham, Mrs. E. W. Edwards, Mrs. Irvine Gorman, Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mrs. Wilbur Harper, Mrs. Wayne Holt, Mrs. F. A. Monroe, Mrs. R. R. Rossett, Mrs. L. W. Schauer, Mrs. Albert Schneider, Mrs. Emmet Smith, Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. C. Z. Want To Look Young?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.

Tells Of Chamber Community Work At P.-T. A. Meeting

PLACENTIA, Nov. 9.—Stuart Strathman, secretary of Placentia Chamber of commerce, told of the place of the chamber of commerce in community life when he spoke before the Placentia Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon.

The program included a folk dance by Mrs. Benton's first and second grade. Mrs. Florence Arnold led in community singing. Mrs. Frank Hill reported 120 members. Mrs. J. H. Rymer asked that members save newspapers and cans for the association to sell. Miss Mabel Anderson asked for names of those who will be willing to sew for Red Cross, Tuesdays, from 2 to 4 p. m., that she may notify them when needed.

BURLESQUE PLAY GIVEN IN TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Nov. 9.—Approximately 70 members and friends of the Friendship Bible class attended the November meeting of the class Tuesday night in the social hall of the Presbyterian church. Chrysanthemums and other details of the affair carried out a yellow color theme.

A pot-luck dinner was shared at 6:30 o'clock, under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bardwell and Miss Minnie Windler.

Musical numbers on the entertainment program included guitar duets by Miss Genevieve Bowen and Louis Ebel, and vocal solos by Nelson Rogers, with Bob Adams accompanying at the piano. "Winning an Heiress," a burlesque on the play which will be given by the Friendship class on November 17 at the church, was put on by Mesdames C. A. Day, E. A. Watson, Dixie Taylor, H. R. McCulla, Frank H. Greenwood, Grant Henderson, Earl Sharpless and H. J. Plumb.

A brief business session, conducted by the class president, J. B. Gorton, brought the meeting to a close.

SAYS LACK OF DISCIPLINE IS CRIME FACTOR

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 9.—Judge Kenneth E. Morrison said that lack of discipline at home, the divided authority of parents, lack of proper religious training, and the depression in general are causes of the lowering of the age of criminals, and recommended that the overcoming of these conditions will solve the problem, in a talk at Yorba Linda Parent-Teacher association Tuesday at the Yorba Linda Woman's club-house.

Mrs. Sidney L. Chapman presided. She announced an all day carnival at the school November 25, at which all are urged to take part.

Barbara Vernon, Patricia Hoben, Garth Chapman, Joyce Munger, Charly Ann and Julia Lee Murray presented a Dutch dance. The Rev. Joseph Reese sang "Trade Winds" and "Hymns of the Witches."

Arthur Corey presented plans for organizing a fathers' council in the Parent-Teacher groups.

Mrs. W. C. Beckley, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Mabel Paine led in the flag salute and the Rev. Mr. Reese in opening prayer.

SECTION MEMBERS WORK ON QUILTS

LIDO ISLE, Nov. 9.—Paying special attention to work on fancy quilts and quilts, members of the Arts and Crafts section of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club met in the home of Mrs. Sam Meyer Wednesday for an all-day meeting. Mrs. Meyer had decorated the home in beautiful fall colors, orange and yellow chrysanthemums being much in evidence.

A short musical program was enjoyed. Arthur Powell singing "Restless Sea" and "Come Back in My Dreams," both by Hamblin, and "Sleepy Hollow Time," by Fiedel, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lucile Meyer.

Announcement was made that a benefit luncheon will be held in the Harry Schick home on Anaheim street in Costa Mesa Friday at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Schick and Mrs. George Merrick will be hostesses for the day. Guests are asked to bring their sewing.

Mrs. Ray Stedman is chairman of the Arts and Crafts section.

EQUIPMENT STOLEN

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 9.—N. J. Murray, of Los Angeles, reported to police headquarters yesterday that $75 worth of equipment, including a mast, a boom, some sails, a rudder and other small parts had been stolen from his boat, "Hawellen," within the past few days. The boat was moored between C and D streets in the bay.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is what a cold requires. It is expressly a cold remedy. It does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold, soothes and fever in the system, cures the headache and stryppy feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drugstore, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and accept no substitute on any pretext.—Adv.

MR. HEARST DEFENDS TOBACCO INDUSTRY

The Los Angeles Examiner carried an editorial today in which William Randolph Hearst, as has been his custom in the last few weeks, criticizes the President and proceeds to undermine him. In this particular editorial he comes out strongly in defense of the American tobaccoist, not the tobacco grower particularly, because he uses the term "tobacco industry."

It seems that there has been a little delay in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in putting into effect certain codes, and the reason is that it was found that under the program the increase on money spent for tobacco under the code would go to the manufacturer and not to the farmer who needed it. There was some question raised concerning the profits in the tobacco industry and the small amount given to the farmer, and so Mr. Hearst says:

Radical dissenters within the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, who are suspicious of the essence of the profit system on which our modern competitive economic society rests, have been delaying the making of helpful, price-raising marketing agreements with processors who buy the great agricultural staples.

Now let's see the reason why there has been a question raised concerning this "profit system" and why they are delaying until they can see to it that the farmer gets a little more of this extra money. As a direct bearing upon this question, let us quote from the Whirligig of September 19th, an article written by George Munro:

Give heed to the plight of the tobacco farmers, you smokers. Pyramided on his efforts to eke out a living growing the weed is one of the most amazing profit-taking structures of industrial history.

Did you know that last year the Big Four—American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, Lorillard, and Reynolds—paid more to their stockholders in cash dividends than the farmer got for his entire crop?

Were you aware that during the dark years of 1930, '31 and '32, while all other industry was foundering, the tobacco manufacturers marched steadily ahead to the greatest excess profits of their existence?

While the farmer got less and less for the raw product?

The statistics being secretly prepared by the Administration in furtherance of its fight to give the grower just half a break are so illuminating they speak volumes in themselves. Consider just four figures:

The Agricultural Department's year book for 1932 gives the "farm value" of last year's crop as $110,910,000, on an average price of 34.7 cents a pound. Unfortunately, the farmer didn't get this sum. Highly trained economists didn't get this sum. Net profit to the manufacturers for 1932—an all-time record—is set at $148,000,000.

The Big Four alone paid dividends totalling $81,874,979, if you care for exact figures.

This information, save for the first figure, wasn't prepared for public consumption. Federal officials need it to deal better with the manufacturers behind closed doors.

Back in 1923 the farmer got $174,000,000 for his crop, and the manufacturer took a profit of $74,000,000. Then followed a nine-year period up to 1932 during which the manufacturer's profit mounted steadily at the expense of the farmer.

Only once did the farmer approach the 1923 level. That was in the banner year of 1929, when he came within a million dollars of getting the old price. Since, he has lost ground like the sea coast in a storm.

Meanwhile in this ten-year span, with women smoking, consumption of the finished product increased tremendously.

Labor-saving machinery for cigar and cigarette manufacture saved the companies $47,000,000 in wages (1923 compared with 1932). The cost of all materials for the finished product was pared by $65,000,000 despite increased production.

And the farmer got $105,000,000 less.

Tobacco growers, many of whom in the bright belt have been reduced to the bread line, are demanding the Government see they are paid up to 20 cents a pound for this year's crop.

Some officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration talk privately in terms of 17-cent tobacco.

The grower would be a consumer of manufactured goods if he could get 15 cents.

We wonder if Mr. Hearst has any money in the tobacco industry. If he has, we wonder if he has it in the manufacturing end or in the farming end. Which do you think? Then you agree with us!

CONFLICTING STORIES ON SITUATION OF LOCAL FARMERS

We want to congratulate the farmers of Orange county. In many other sections of the country the farmers have been in great distress, farms were being foreclosed and the mortgaged farmers, with their friends, aroused their section of the nation and enlisted the interest of Washington, so that relief has been hastened to them.

Relief from government sources particularly comes to those who really need it, because those who really need it let their needs be known in such an oracular and dramatic manner that it reaches headquarters. It was believed by some here in Santa Ana and the county that that need was great among the ranchers of Orange county, and a meeting was arranged the other night to make their wants known in no uncertain way.

A representative of the Farm Bureau was there, and he allayed all our fears and impressed us that things were going along very smoothly and beautifully for any loans desired by the farmer. And he spoke with authority, as a representative of the Federal Farm Loan bank is one of the directors of the Farm Bureau, and he said that there was no need of a general demand.

We believe that the farmers are to be congratulated upon this wonderful situation. There is hardly another rural county in the Union where such a condition prevails. It was reported that a letter had been received, indicating that reports had gone from here to the headquarters of the Federal Farm Loan bank that the conditions were very quiet in Orange county, indicating that everything was being taken care of.

It is strange how we get such opposite impressions. The Register had understood things were quite different. In fact, we had been told that since the law went into effect last May that there had only been five or six actual loans made in the county. But if that be true, it seems that that was enough to allay the need. And it comes authoritatively from the farm organization itself. At this meeting the resolution of adjournment without action was passed, upon the theory that there was no need of any haste.

Orange county seems to be in fine condition from the agricultural-financial point of view. We had gotten a different impression from some of the bankers, but it seems that they were mistaken. Those who are closer to the farmers, evidently, than the bankers, are acquainted with the real facts. And yet when we learn as a matter of fact that more than two hundred farmers have made application for probably not less than two millions of dollars in loans in Orange county in the last few months we are rather inclined to believe that maybe the bankers, upon the question of the needs of the farmers for loans and the necessity for urgency, are more reliable than the farm bureau.

AMERICANS IN MANCHUKUO

It is reported that since Manchukuo, the new state organized in Manchuria, has required passports, more Americans have called for visas than citizens of any other country. This is not unusual, but it is very significant.

Wherever there is a dollar to be made, the American is on hand to get it if he can. He is not always successful, for the reason that he is not so ready as the trader of other countries to give people what they want. He is more inclined to try to foist upon the people of other countries what they ought to want, and the way they ought to want it. It has often been said that much of American trade in South America has been lost to the Germans because the Germans made a thorough study of what the people wanted, and put it up in a practical way so that it could be successfully handled. Naturally it was foolish to put goods up in cases weighing many hundreds of pounds, when the goods had to be carried into the interior on the backs of llamas. That actually has been done. This American folly was illustrated by Timothy Dexter, who tried to sell warming pans to the people in the West Indies.

Manchukuo is to be a profitable field for trade during the next few years. America has much to sell that Manchukuo needs, and the enterprising American trader is not unaware of that. Oil, machinery, canned goods, automobiles, cotton goods, are all needed in a growing state, and the American is the fellow who can furnish it. That is the reason why the Americans are getting visas in such large numbers to go to Manchukuo. You can always bet on the Yankee trader being where business is to be had.

F. H. LaGuardia

By Paul V. Anderson, in The Nation—
In one living outside New York, the prospective election of Fiorello H. LaGuardia cannot fail to inspire mixed feelings. This is particularly true of a Washington correspondent whose duties bring him into frequent and intimate touch with Congress. If "the Mayor" becomes chief magistrate of the metropolis, it is questionable that he would ever be content to return to the House of Representatives. This is a disturbing thought because the House without LaGuardia is about as piquant and stimulating as boiled cabbage without seasoning.

LaGuardia's importance as a national figure was not fully realized by the House and the men who record its decisions until they were confronted in the last session with the gaping hole left by his retirement. I have seen some imposing figures removed from that lower chamber by defeat and death, but never have I known one whose absence was as keenly felt on every hand as was "the Mayor's."

His bitterest enemies—and he never hesitated to make them—reluctantly conceded that he had "performed a useful function." As a matter of fact, the function which he performed is indispensable in a well-balanced legislative body. It consisted in subjecting every measure or proposal, regardless of party sponsorship, to the acid test of intelligent analysis, and in supporting or opposing it strictly on that basis. Many a time during the last session, when bewildered members were being asked to vote on bills they had not read or did not understand, they were heard to sigh: "If only the Mayor were here to tell us what this is all about."

Sentiment in the press gallery was much the same. True, "the Mayor" was a news-maker of the first rank. He did not hesitate to denounce a corrupt federal judge on the floor, or by leaving the floor to divest himself of his congressional immunity in order to defy Sam Insull from the steps of the House Office Building. But that is not exactly the reason the reporters liked him. Contrary to popular impression, there is a surplus rather than a shortage of news in Washington. Rather they liked him because he invested the news with color and significance. Most of all, however, they liked him—and would welcome his return—because he possesses nerve without bravado, wit without venom and eloquence without bombast. In short, because he is a regular fellow instead of a stuffed shirt.

Bold, Bad Men

Pomona Progress-Bulletin—
The big shot gangsters of the modern underworld thrive on terrible reputations. They like to be known as "Machine-gun-so-and-so," much as the Texas bad man of former days liked to be called "the terror of the plains." But very often their reputations are more blood-and-thunder than they really deserve.

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant U. S. attorney general, tells a Senate sub-committee that the notorious George (Machine-Gun) Kelly really is an ardent coward who had his hands on a machine gun only twice in his whole life.

When Kelly was trapped at Memphis, says Mr. Keenan, he was happier than a 50-50 chance to shoot his way to freedom. Instead, he meekly surrendered, raising his hands as high as the length of his arms would permit.

It is rather important that facts of this kind be brought out. The really bold desperado moves in an ominous sort of glamour; the cowardly rat who hides behind a synthetic reputation has no glamour at all.

And that's the kind of "bad man" the ordinary gangster really is.

BEHIND HITLER'S MADNESS

There is always the possibility that a stormy petrel like Hitler may mean more to his harangues. I am convinced that the rise of Hitler symbolizes a shift in modern attitudes that merits the sustained study of peoples the world around.

There is an endless amount of madness and mountebankery about Adolf Hitler. He is the high priest of hysteria. His incantations are losing wild forces of wilful intolerance that will poison the German spirit for decades to come.

His thinking is, at times, so loose that a regiment could march through it. If Hitler meant no more than his harangues his rise in the modern world would be utterly incredible. I suspect he does. It is not necessary either to believe in Hitler or to consider him of statesman-like caliber to see that the sources of his power lie deeper than the monetary passions he has evoked in the mass mind.

The fact is that the promises and pronouncements of Hitler, on his march upward to power, found fertile soil in three disillusionments of the German mind: (1) its disillusionment with the cat-and-dog fight of parliamentary democracy, (2) its disillusionment with capitalism's post-war functioning, and (3) its disillusionment with organized religion not intimately enough related to the sweat and struggle of the daily life of the nation.

I cannot imagine Hitler's actually rebuilding Germany's political, economic and religious life in a manner that will give the Fatherland something better than parliamentary democracy, better than capitalism, better than the religion of the fathers. The genius for such social reconstruction seems not to be in him. But he has put his finger upon the three basic discontents of his time, and has tapped sources of popular power that his silly and savage ravings could never alone have tapped.

He has made a frontal attack on parliamentary democracy, insisting that it does not and cannot adequately administer the complicated modern world. He has indicted capitalism as we have known it and Communism as we have feared it. And he has insisted that organized religion shall play the game by helping to mold the character of the citizen in harmony with the national spirit and purpose.

In doing so Hitler has capitalized three discontents that are not confined to Germany. One cannot go up and down the highways, and byways of American life as I have done during the last fifteen years without realizing that, close under the surface of American patience, millions on this continent have been growing restless under the inaction and inefficiency of our representative government, skeptical of the working of our laissez faire capitalism, and indifferent to a religion that seemed less and less to be a driving force in the common life.

Because the soil that has grown a Hitler in Germany exists in the United States, I want for the next three days to consider these three disillusionments to which Hitler has played.

THREADING A NEEDLE

"Thread your needle with the blue thread you find in your bag," said the sewing teacher.

There was a rustling of bags and a snapping of threads and the class of little girls threaded their needles. Some of them did. Some did not. Elizabeth, erect, sat up, bright eyed and as quick as mercury, threaded her needle, sat up alertly and looked at the teacher for the next direction.

Stodgy Kate, heavy handed, slow, uncertain, fumbled about in her bag, shoved it off the table to the floor, floundered after it, crawled under the desk to reach the spool of thread, laboriously clambered into her seat again, and looked about with a face full of trouble.

"What was it she was supposed to do? Ah, yes. Thread her needle. Where was that needle?" She began squirming about in search of it.

"Kate, we're waiting for you? Have you threaded your needle? Of all things. Hurry. Well, we can't wait. You'll have to catch up. Now girls, take this bit of muslin, so,—" and the next step in the sewing lesson was taken.

Once the class was at work the teacher went to Kate. No needle, no muslin, nothing but distress had Kate to offer. The teacher looked hard at her. Looked again, long and searchingly. Then a new and softer expression shone in her eyes. "Where is your needle, Katie? Look, here it is. Pick it up. M-m. Look Katie," and here Miss Bodkin did a strange, unteachably thing, she flicked her finger, laid it on the needle, and lo, the needle came up on the finger.

Katie beamed. She licked her finger, picked up the needle. "Now slip it into this hand," said the teacher. Katie slipped it and it fell to the floor.

"Never mind. I'll give you another one," and deftly Miss Bodkin selected a large needle with a big eye, and another spool of thread, bright red, and coarse.

"Now, Katie, pick up your needle, so, that's it. Pick it up again. Now you practice that until I come around again," and the teacher left to see how the turnings were being made and the seams laid.

"So, Katie, you can pick it up and put it in the left hand. That's fine. I'll show you how to thread your needle now. See, like this, and then like this. You pull it

MR. HEARST DEFENDS TOBACCO INDUSTRY

The Los Angeles Examiner carried an editorial today in which William Randolph Hearst, as has been his custom in the last few weeks, criticizes the President and proceeds to undermine him. In this particular editorial he comes out strongly in defense of the American tobaccoist, not the tobacco grower particularly, because he uses the term "tobacco industry."

It seems that there has been a little delay in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in putting into effect certain codes, and the reason is that it was found that under the program the increase on money spent for tobacco under the code would go to the manufacturer and not to the farmer who needed it. There was some question raised concerning the profits in the tobacco industry and the small amount given to the farmer, and so Mr. Hearst says:

Radical dissenters within the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, who are suspicious of the essence of the profit system on which our modern competitive economic society rests, have been delaying the making of helpful, price-raising marketing agreements with processors who buy the great agricultural staples.

Now let's see the reason why there has been a question raised concerning this "profit system" and why they are delaying until they can see to it that the farmer gets a little more of this extra money. As a direct bearing upon this question, let us quote from the Whirligig of September 19th, an article written by George Munro:

Give heed to the plight of the tobacco farmers, you smokers. Pyramided on his efforts to eke out a living growing the weed is one of the most amazing profit-taking structures of industrial history.

Did you know that last year the Big Four—American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, Lorillard, and Reynolds—paid more to their stockholders in cash dividends than the farmer got for his entire crop?

Were you aware that during the dark years of 1930, '31 and '32, while all other industry was foundering, the tobacco manufacturers marched steadily ahead to the greatest excess profits of their existence?

While the farmer got less and less for the raw product?

The statistics being secretly prepared by the Administration in furtherance of its fight to give the grower just half a break are so illuminating they speak volumes in themselves. Consider just four figures:

The Agricultural Department's year book for 1932 gives the "farm value" of last year's crop as $110,916,000, on an average price of 10.7 cents a pound. Unfortunately, the farmer didn't get this sum. Highly trained economists after careful study say he received but $69,000,000 of that amount. Net profit to the manufacturers for 1932—an all-time record—is set at $148,000,000.

The Big Four alone paid dividends totalling $81,874,978, if you care for exact figures.

This information, save for the first figure, wasn't prepared for public consumption. Federal officials need it to deal better with the manufacturers behind closed doors.

Back in 1932 the farmer got $174,000,000 for his crop, and the manufacturer took a profit of $7,400,000. Then followed a nine-year period up to 1932 during which the manufacturer's profit mounted steadily at the expense of the farmer.

Only once did the farmer approach the 1932 level. That was in the banner year of 1929, when he came within a million dollars of getting the old price. Since, he has lost ground like the sea coast in a storm.

Meanwhile in this ten-year span, with women smoking, consumption of the finished product increased tremendously.

Labor-saving machinery for cigar and cigarette manufacture saved the companies $47,000,000 in wages (1927 compared with 1932). The cost of all materials for the finished product was pared by $65,000,000 despite increased production.

And the farmer got $105,000,000 less.

Tobacco growers, many of whom in the bright belt have been reduced to the bread line, are demanding the Government see they are paid up to 20 cents a pound for this year's crop.

Some officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration talk privately in terms of 17-cent tobacco.

The grower would be a consumer of manufactured goods if he could get 15 cents.

We wonder if Mr. Hearst has any money in the tobacco industry. If he has, we wonder if he has it in the manufacturing end or in the farming end. Which do you think? Then you agree with us!

CONFLICTING STORIES ON SITUATION OF LOCAL FARMERS

We want to congratulate the farmers of Orange county. In many other sections of the country the farmers have been in great distress, farms were being foreclosed and the mortgaged farmers, with their friends, aroused their section of the nation and enlisted the interest of Washington, so that relief has been hastened to them.

Relief from government sources particularly comes to those who really need it, because those who really need it let their needs be known in such an arduous and dramatic manner that it reaches headquarters. It was believed by some here in Santa Ana and the county that that need was great among the ranchers of Orange county, and a meeting was arranged the other night to make their wants known in no uncertain way.

A representative of the Farm Bureau was there, and he allayed all our fears and impressed us that things were going along very smoothly and beautifully for any loans desired by the farmer. And he spoke with authority, as a representative of the Federal Farm Loan bank is one of the directors of the Farm Bureau, and he said that there was no need of a general demand.

We believe that the farmers are to be congratulated upon this wonderful situation. There is hardly another rural county in the Union where such a condition prevails. It was reported that a letter had been received, indicating that reports had gone from here to the headquarters of the Federal Farm Loan bank that the conditions were very quiet in Orange county, indicating that everything was being taken care of.

It is strange how we get such opposite impressions. The Register had understood things were quite different. In fact, we had been told that since the law went into effect last May that there had only been five or six actual loans made in the county. But if that be true, it seems that that was enough to allay the need. And it comes authoritatively from the farm organization itself. At this meeting the resolution of adjournment without action was passed, upon the theory that there was no need of any haste.

Orange county seems to be in fine condition from the agricultural-financial point of view. We had gotten a different impression from some of the bankers, but it seems that they were mistaken. Those who are closer to the farmers, evidently, than the bankers, are acquainted with the real facts. And yet when we learn as a matter of fact that more than two hundred farmers have made application for probably not less than two millions of dollars in loans in Orange county in the last few months we are rather inclined to believe that maybe the bankers, upon the question of the needs of the farmers for loans and the necessity for urgency, are more reliable than the farm bureau.

Thread your needle with the blue thread you find in your bag," said the sewing teacher. There was a rustling of bags and a snapping of threads and the class of little girls threaded their needles. Some of them did. Some did not. Elizabeth, erect, sat up, bright eyed and as quick as mercury, threaded her needle, sat up alertly and looked at the teacher for the next direction. Stodgy Kate, heavy handed, slow, uncertain, fumbled about in her bag, shoved it off the table to the floor, floundered after it, crawled under the desk to reach the spool of thread, laboriously clambered into her seat again, and looked about with a face full of trouble. "What was it she was supposed to do? Ah, yes. Thread her needle. Where was that needle?" She began squirming about in search of it.

"Katie, we're waiting for you! Have you threaded your needle? Of all things! Hurry. Well, we can't wait. You'll have to catch up. Now girls, take this bit of muslin, so, —" and the next step in the sewing lesson was taken.

Once the class was at work the teacher went to Kate. No needle, no muslin, nothing but distress had Kate to offer. The teacher looked hard at her. Looked again, long and searchingly. Then a new and softer expression shone in her eyes. "Where is your needle, Katie? Look, here it is. Pick it up. M-m, look Katie," and here Miss Bodkin did a strange, unteachery thing, she licked her finger, laid it on the needle, and lo, the needle came up on the finger.

Katie beamed. She licked her finger, picked up the needle. "Now slip it into this hand," said the teacher. Katie slipped it and it fell to the floor. "Never mind. I'll give you another one," and deftly Miss Bodkin selected a large needle with a big eye, and another spool of thread, bright red, and coarse.

"Now, Katie, pick up your needle, so, that's it. Pick it up again. Now you practice that until I come around again," and the teacher left to see how the turnings were being made and the seams laid.

"So, Katie, you can pick it up and put it in the left hand. That's fine. I'll show you how to thread your needle now. See, like this, and then like this. You pull it through now. Fine. We'll do it again. Take it like this, in your hand; try it again. Good. Now practice till I come back to you. You're doing well."

Katie learned to pick up a needle in clumsy fashion and to pull a thread through a coarse eye of a needle while skillful Elizabeth threaded a needle and hemmed four sides of a bit of muslin intended for a doll's sheet. One took the lesson in a swift stride, one had to have each step broken into other steps, each movement prescribed, taught, drilled, and got no farther than picking up her needle in an unusual way and pulling a thread through a needle's eye once it had been started for her.

It is a good idea to remember the span of differences in the children of one class. It means a great deal to the teacher, to all of us. It modifies plans, schedules, Board of Education budgets. Katie and all the others in between her and Elizabeth have to be counted and provided for by everyone concerned in education, one by one.
